EMPLOYERS GIVEN 5,000,000 FORMS FOR SECURITY DATA

Postoffice and Board Work at Top Speed in Mass Distribution of Blanks Which Must Be Returned November 21.

WORKERS TO GET BLANKS ON 24TH

Applications for Benefits by 26,000,000 Employes Are To Be Completed by Fifth of Next Month.

By JOHN HENDERSON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP) Postmen carried near record burdens today as they delivered 5,000,000 social security application blanks to employers throughout the nation, first step in the gigantic task of setting up social security accounts for 26,000,000 American workers.

The blanks were distributed from 45,000 postoffices to all employers in industrial and business pursuits. Each employer is expected to fill in the number of his employes and the nature of his business. These blanks must be returned to local postoffices by November 21.

When the applications have been received by the postoffices, the specified number of employe application blanks will be set aside for each employer and delivered to him November 24. Employer applications will then be forwarded to the Baltimore accounting office of the social security board for tabulation.

By December 5.

The next step in the process of setting up individual social security account numbers and wage records will follow. Employers will give employe application blanks to their workers who are required to return them not later than December 5.

Employes may return their blanks to their employer, to a union headquarters, to a letter carrier, to the postoffice, or they may place them in a mail box. No postage is required.

Each employe will receive later an identification card and account num-

Police Get Confession In Little Girl's Death

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Police Captain John Stege said today that Andrew Capoldi, 28, former inmate of an institution, had made a "complete confession" that he slashed five-year-old Antionette Tiritill to death with a pearl-handed jack-knife after enticing her into a schoolyard Friday night.

Captain Stege said Capoldi, in the presence of Assistant State's Attorney Harry Phillips, Police Lieutenant David Schwartz and himself, admitted that he slashed the child's throat after luring her into a blind passageway with an offer of candy.

The reported admission came after more than two days of questioning by police. Capoldi was arrested at his home Saturday because he met the general description of a "short, fat white man," named by Antionette, before she died, as her assailant.

Heaviest Christmas Buying In Five Years Is Predicted

Cities of Dixie Expect 30 Per Cent Increase Over Last Yule Season.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Smile-wreathed faces of Dixie merchants reflect a happy story of rising sales pointing toward a Christmas shopping season approaching record proportions.

The frost is barely on the pumpkin—fat Thanksgiving turkeys await Thursday's disposal—in places an overcoat is yet an affectation—but the spirit of Christmas is in the air and the early shoppers are already on the go.

Memphis will herald the opening of the Yuletide shopping season Friday night with its annual "spirit of Christmas" parade—the merchants' signal that stores are brimming over with new merchandise and the time has come to buy.

Birmingham Cheerful.

Ten million bales of cotton already have passed through the gins, while in the field, workers are busily picking the rest of the crop. The government estimates will total 12,400,000 bales.

Flood of Dividends and Salary and Wage Increases Grow Daily.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Directors of American industry dipped into 1936 profit gains today to distribute many more millions of dollars to workers and shareholders through wage increases, dividends and Christmas bonuses.

Pay boosts for nearly 40,000 workers, including some 30,000 in textile mills, and a $22,000,000 dividend by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. were added to the sweeping autumn movement.

By the end of last week it had rolled up wage increases totaling upwards of $100,000,000 for more than 1,000,000 workers in steel, motor and other industries.

The du Pont dividend lifted year-end disbursements to shareholders in eight leading corporations to $184,000,000 in the richest "melon cutting" Wall Street has seen in years.

Du Pont directors, at Wilmington, Del., ordered a payment of $2 a share December 15 for approximately 50,000 common stockholders. It was attributed in part to the recent $1.50 payment by General Motors on its common,

40 BODIES TAKEN FROM BLAST RUINS

More Than 200 Seriously Injured in Explosion of French Powder Plant.

MARSEILLES, Tuesday, Nov. 17. (UP)—The toll of dead and injured mounted today as searchers probed further in the ruins of the government powder plant at Saint Chamas which was rocked by a tremendous blast yesterday.

Forty bodies have been recovered. More than 200 seriously injured have been removed to hospitals.

The exact death toll would not be known for hours, it was said, because many bodies were blown to bits. Only a careful check of survivors against the factory's pay roll will give the full extent of the tragedy.

Sabotage Not Suspected.

Authorities believe that the first blast in the Talite works, which set off the second major explosion was entirely accidental. They said they did not suspect sabotage.

The true cause of the explosion may

Finch Is Given Life In Carson Slaying

George W. Finch, 45, World War veteran, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday in Fulton superior court for the murder of 22-year-old Grady Carson, son of "Fiddlin' John" Carson.

A consent verdict was reached after the state had presented its case and Finch had taken the stand to claim both self-defense and the "unwritten law."

Carson was shot to death in a taproom. The defendant said Carson had advanced on him with a knife, but four witnesses gave a conflicting version, alleging Finch killed Carson while the younger man was unarmed.

Attorneys Robert Giles and H. A. Allen represented Finch and reached an agreement with Assistant Solicitor E. E. Andrews and Judge John D. Humphries, who presided, regarding the life sentence.

COUNCIL DELAYS HARTSFIELD PLAN

White and Couch Clash as Former Presents Committee Recommendation.

Mayor-nominee William B. Hartsfield sat smilingly yesterday as city council balked at the first official recommendation he made and sent to the ordinance committee for further study a recommendation by a special council committee, headed by Councilman John A. White, which would vest the incoming chief executive with unusual powers.

Action followed a brush between White and Councilman J. Allen Couch, who will represent the new third ward in the 1937 council.

White's committee recommendations proposed the inclusion of the mayor as a full-fledged member of every one of the 18 committees outlined, and would leave to the new mayor the number of council members to be assigned to practically all the committees.

White, Couch Clash.

The committee chairman termed the recommendations a move in the interest of better government, and Couch interrupted.

"Are you lecturing us on good government?" Couch asked.

"No, but I think it would do us good," White countered.

"It would if it came from an intelligent source," Couch retorted.

"Well, I'll go to Tenth street or anywhere else you think I should, and we can settle it there," White said, alluding to Couch's arrest several months ago on a charge of being under the influence of intoxicants on Tenth street.

At this juncture, Provisional Mayor Pro Tem. I. Gloer Hailey, who was presiding, intervened to prevent further personal exchanges.

White then conceded the floor to Councilman Alvin L. Richards, who asserted he doubted the advisibility of making the mayor a member of all committees and who said he thought council should designate the number of members to be named to each of the committees.

Following this, White asserted if the mayor had been a member of the police committee last spring, the "row down there would never have occurred."

Couch Apologizes.

Couch then obtained the floor:

"I want to apologize if it appeared I was dealing in personalities. We may have divergent views, but I have never before and am not now dealing in personalities.

"This assertion by Mr. White just shows that a man may violate a law, pay his fine and suffer in silence, and God may forgive him but man never will.

"I would take the same position on

Cobb Says: Football Announcing Awful

By IRVIN S. COBB.
(Copyright, 1936, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Maybe you'll remember—it was in all the papers—the lady who got a divorce in Chicago some time back by alleging that, on the Fourth of July, her husband assailed her with firecrackers; on Thanksgiving Day, he threw a turkey at her; and on Christmas morning, he beat her up with a Christmas tree.

But assume the union had lasted until now. Can you imagine the poor woman's anguish if her husband had compelled her to listen on the radio to the average professional broadcaster of football games, especially the rapid-fire descriptionist who talks all at once and gets so excited himself that the game, in comparison, seems but a tame and commonplace affair?

That would indeed be cruel seasonal suffering for any wife.

'WE CAN CONTINUE WITHOUT REBELS,' GREEN DECLARES

Federation Leader Urges Lewis' Unions to Return to Fold To Preserve Labor's "United Front."

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—William Green urged John L. Lewis and his rebel allies today to return to the American Federation of Labor to preserve labor's "united front."

In almost the next breath, however, Green warned the rebels the federation could carry on without them and that they would have to give up their committee for industrial organization before they could come back.

In Washington, Lewis said he "wouldn't be interested" in coming to the convention unless the United Mine Workers' suspension was lifted and "we can go down to Tampa as peers of the gentlemen there."

President Green's voice trembled with emotion as he opened the federation's annual convention with a reference to the dispute between the labor factions.

"I ask them (the Lewis group) to recognize the principles of democracy," he said. "I ask them to come back and take their seats with us—and fight out our differences in manly fashion at conventions of the American Federation of Labor."

Compliance With Rules.

In suspending Lewis' United Mine Workers and nine other unions two months ago, Green said, the federation's executive council merely insisted upon compliance with the Atlantic City convention's instructions last year.

That convention, controlled by craft unionists, voted down Lewis' demand that all the workers in each big indus-

F. D. R. TO ATTEND ARGENTINA PARLEY

Sails From Charleston Wednesday; Is Due To Visit Here on Return.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(UP) President Roosevelt decided tonight to carry his message of the "good neighbor" personally to the Pan-American peace conference in Buenos Aires, December 1.

The chief executive, after weighing both domestic and foreign problems, made known his intentions through Stephen T. Early, White House secretary.

Earlier, to a conference of mayors, he mentioned his impending departure while the maritime strike was in progress, adding that "as between this particular strike and whatever effect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the more important of the two."

Mr. Roosevelt will leave Washington tomorrow night by special train and go directly to Charleston, S. C., where the sleek, 10,000-ton cruiser Indianapolis, and her sister ship, the Chester, will be waiting to carry him and his party southward.

To Stop at Trinidad.

The Indianapolis, fitted as a flagship, will be the floating White House for nearly a month. The President will occupy the admiral's quarters and his flag, a blue one with the presidential seal and four white stars, will fly from the main truck of the vessel.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, will be the first stop, November 21. There the Indianapolis and the Chester will refuel. Mr. Roosevelt, however, will not go ashore.

The next port will be Rio de Janeiro. In that city Mr. Roosevelt will spend all of November 27 ashore as the guest of the president of Brazil and the Brazilian government. The

Mary Pickford and Buddy Rogers Planning Wedding for Next Spring

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The persistently rumored and frequently denied romance between Mary Pickford and Charles ("Buddy") Rogers crystallized tonight in the informal announcement of plans for a wedding in the spring.

Available records give 43 years as the age of Miss Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" of the silent screen. Rogers, orchestra leader and screen player, is 32.

An early morning telephone call halfway across the continent brought the first confirmation of reports that have bobbed up almost constantly since Miss Pickford's marriage to Douglas Fairbanks ended in divorce.

The call was from Pickfair, the ramling, hilltop home of Miss Pickford, to Olathe Kan., Rogers' home town.

Judge Bert Rogers, father of the actor, said "Buddy" telephoned, talked at random for a moment, then asked for his mother.

"He asked her if could take the 'plane to Hollywood Tuesday," the judge said. "She wanted to know if anyone was ill. He said, 'No, wait. I'll have someone else tell you.'"

Then Miss Pickford's voice rippled across 1,500 miles of wire and broke the news.

Later in the morning, in Hollywood, Rogers gave the same noncommittal answers to newspapermen that he has been giving in the year or more since his name first was linked with Miss Pickford's.

But the actress ended all doubt.

"The announcement will be made at a small reception to be held on the arrival of Mrs. Rogers" next Friday, she said.

Miss Pickford has been married twice; Rogers not at all.

Her first husband was Owen Moore, motion picture actor. She divorced him at Minden, Nev., March 2, 1920. Three weeks later she married Fairbanks.

And then, for more than a decade, they were the "royal couple" of the movie colony. They built Pickfair

CONFERENCE HELD IN MARINE STRIKE

Perkins Says Compulsory Arbitration Impossible in Tieup of U. S. Ships.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—(AP) The first brief conference between employers and unions in several days of the maritime strike was held today as one union official expressed belief strikers would refuse to arbitrate all differences, as requested by seaport mayors who met with President Roosevelt in Washington.

Representatives of three sea-going unions and the coast committee for shipowners conferred briefly and then adjourned until tomorrow for further discussion of hiring hall control, crucial issue, and penalties which employers wish established for violation of working agreements.

Long before the strike, when negotiations over new contracts became deadlocked, employers offered to submit unsettled issues to arbitration. Unions declared they could not arbitrate such "fundamental" demands as control of hiring, cash overtime for sailors, a six-hour day for longshoremen, and an eight-hour day for cooks and stewards.

No Change Seen.

F. M. Kelley, secretary of the powerful Maritime Federation of the Pacific, said he did not believe the unions would change their stand as requested by eight mayors, who suggested the arbitration boards be appointed by President Roosevelt for the coast, and Atlantic and gulf district, where sympathy strikes occurred.

"We are on record against arbitrating these fundamental demands," said Kelley. "Any such action would have to be referred back to the membership, but I feel certain an adverse vote would result."

The mayors, LaGuardia, of New York; Shaw, of Los Angeles; Wilson, of Philadelphia; Mansfield, of Boston; Ellenstein, of Newark; Rossi, of San Francisco; Carson, of Portland, Ore., and McCracken, of Oakland, Cal., dispatched their appeals to both sides by telegraph.

"To continue the present deadlock," they declared, "will result in irreparable loss to the men, the ship owners and to each of our cities."

President Roosevelt told the city officials, in Washington for the United States conference of mayors, he would go to Buenos Aires for the opening session of the American peace conference, December 1.

Peace of World.

"As between this particular strike and whatever effect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the more important of the two," the chief executive said in a statement.

"I hope the shipowners and the men

Government Wins In Gold Bond Test

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP) A unanimous verdict for the government was recorded at the court of claims today in the suit of Robert A. Taft to compel the United States to pay him $1.07 interest on a gold Liberty Bond called in advance of its maturity date.

Potentially affected by the litigation was approximately $8,849,540,000 of gold clause bonds called about the same time by the government.

A government spokesman expects Taft to appeal to the supreme court He holds a $50 4 1-2 per cent gold Liberty bond with an October 15, 1938, maturity date. It was called for redemption on October 15, 1934. The bond was presented to the treasury on March 11, 1935, which refused to redeem it in gold or to pay any interest beyond October 15, 1934. After quoting from the bond, the court declared it seems clear that in order for plaintiff to recover it would be necessary for the court to ignore the specific and positive provisions of the contract relating to the matter of interest."

NEW MEMBERS SIT ON UTILITY BOARD

Oath of Office Administered by Governor to McWhorter, Perry, Knight.

Three new members of the five-man Georgia Public Service Commission formally took their seats at a special called meeting yesterday.

An announcement afterward said only routine litigation pending before the commission was discussed.

The new members, James A. Perry, Perry T. Knight and Matt L. McWhorter, were sworn in a few hours previously by Governor Talmadge at a brief ceremony in his office.

Perry was chairman of the commission and Knight vice chairman when Talmadge suspended all five members July 21, 1933, after a three-week hearing on the grounds the commission was permitting "oppressive utility rates."

The three were elected to office on November 3—Perry and Knight for unexpired terms ending November 30, 1937, and McWhorter for a short term expiring November 30, 1939. Perry

U. S. May Continue Present Money Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau said today the administration would seek continuance of its present special monetary powers in the next congress in exactly their present form.

Morgenthau's statement came in reply to questions at his press conference as to whether any changes might be effected in the president's power to vary the gold content of the dollar and the treasury's authority to maintain the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

These powers are scheduled to expire January 30.

Morgenthau was asked for comment on President Roosevelt's statement last week that administration financial experts were making a study to determine legislation might be necessary to control the present heavy movement of foreign capital into this country.

Declining to comment on the situation as a whole, he said that as far as foreign exchange was affected by capital movements he felt that "we now have all the tools necessary" to control exchange.

CHEST CAMPAIGN GETS UNDER WAY

Cates and Arkwright Address Volunteer Army at Inaugural Meeting.

Acting in behalf of all those overburdened and in distress, 3,000 men and women, a cross-section of Atlanta, last night launched the 14th annual Community Chest campaign.

These men and women, composing the volunteer army of campaign workers, met to hear Alvin B. Cates, general campaign chairman, declare that "this year Atlanta is determined to meet adequately the needs of the thousands served by the 34 Chest agencies."

Arkwright Speaks.

Preston S. Arkwright, director of the advance gifts division of the campaign, was the principal speaker.

"As I go out to work in this campaign and walk along the streets to see someone who should give," he declared, "I like to picture to myself an army walking beside me.

"It is the army of the destitute, the helpless old people, the abandoned and neglected children, the widowed mother, the incurably ill and all those others served by the Chest.

"And as I reach the door, and perhaps hesitate, I hear them saying: "Go on—go on. You are not asking for yourself. You are asking for us.'"

Mr. Arkwright declared the goal of $423,846, the minimum needed for those served by the Chest agencies, would be reached easily when the people understand what the money is for.

"Anyone who understands what the Chest is cannot fail to give," he said.

Black's Leadership.

"I remember one Chest campaign many years ago when Eugene Black was chairman. He gathered the workers around him and took them to all the agencies. They saw the work. They understood the work. That campaign was the most successful Atlanta has ever had.

"When the people understand, they will respond. When they understand that their failure to give means literally that they are closing their doors in the face of those in need, telling them to go elsewhere or starve, they will respond.

"The agencies that compose the Chest are not new. Some have been serving Atlanta half a century. Each one grew up as the result of some need. Each one is meeting that need

STIFF FIGHT RAGES OVER POSSESSION OF UNIVERSITY CITY

Three Air Raids Made During Day and Incessant Rifle and Machine-gun Fire Is Heard From the University Section.

PRESS CURTAILED BY LACK OF PAPER

Downtown Throngs Dive for Safety in Subways as Enemy Ships Dart Overhead; 5 Shot Down.

MADRID, Nov. 17.—(Tuesday.) (AP)—Madrid was aglare early today with bright flames and red smoke after a Fascist artillery and air bombardment killed at least 60 persons and set fire to about 50 houses.

Incessant rifle and machine gun fire was heard from University City, in the northwestern corner of Madrid, as defending militiamen fought back Insurgents attempting to push into that section from the Cuatro Caminos district. Fascists, it was reported, have mobilized tanks and infantry for an advance into the city.

The Fascists, in a surprise attack, occupied the former British and American hospital in the Cuatro Caminos district, and government forces opened an intensive attack in an effort to dislodge them.

Many houses in Madrid caught fire from artillery shells, while incendiary bombs set others ablaze.

150 Injured in Raids.

More than 150 persons were wounded or injured in the shelling and the three air raids of yesterday which occurred at 2:30 p. m., 7 p. m., and 8 p. m.

During the third air attack—after nightfall—the Insurgent planes loosed bombs on the Atocha station, near the parliament building.

The Fascist attempt to push into University City last night came after the government had declared a small body of Insurgents, after penetrating that district within the confines of Madrid proper, had been driven out in a bloody 12-hour battle.

The defense junta declared five Insurgent planes had been brought down during the air attacks. Twenty-three government machines flew over Madrid pursuing the 15 raiders.

One bomb fell on a house at No. 7

Second Killing Frost Due in Atlanta Today

More ice on exposed spots and more blight for tender vegetation. are promised Atlanta this morning with another drop of the mercury to 28 degrees or thereabouts.

The second killing frost of the season will visit the city this morning, according to weather forecasters. After today, however, temperatures promise to climb to more seasonable levels with the influx of milder weather from the Mississippi valley.

"Tuesday's frost will be heavy everywhere in Georgia except along the coast," said Chief Weather Forecaster George W. Mindling.

The mercury will climb no higher than 50 degrees during the day, he said.

Yesterday the climb was between 29 and 50 degrees.

A clear sky and a bright sun is promised throughout today.

'MOSES' WILL RETURN TO PEARL RIVER HOME

Court Rules Mother Who Fabricated Hoax May Have Child Back.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Motherly love prevailed today despite "misguided and errant" circumstances, sending little Moses, the piney woods mystery babe, back to the humble Pearl river home of his birth.

As soon as his condition will permit the blue-eyed youngster who survived two cold nights in the woods while his mother fabricated a crude hoax to explain his presence to her husband, will be returned to Mrs. Louis E. Crawford, who claimed she bore the child Sunday night, November 8, beside a small straw fire while her husband slept near by in their one-room cabin.

Moses, taken from his mother when she admitted her story that he had been brought to the Crawford cabin by a "big brindle dog" was conceived to conceal the identity of its father, who she asserted was a relative of her husband, still nestles in a small crib in Charity hospital where he was brought by St. Tammany parish welfare authorities.

When it was definitely established that Mrs. Cradword was the child's mother and that his father was one other than Mr. Crawford, a WPA worker, the courts were called upon to determine Moses' future home.

District Judge Robert D. Jones decreed at Covington today that Mrs. Crawford shall have her child. Before ruling Judge Jones conferred with J. Monroe Simmons, St. Tammany parish probation officer, and a state welfare worker.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR III DEFEATS DAMAGE SUIT

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A jury's sealed verdict exonerating John Jacob Astor III of blame for a collision between his motorcar and that of Hyman L. Levy was opened today in supreme court while young Astor was on the high seas, bound for Italy.

Levy, a real estate man, had sought $100,000 damages.

Russell's Body May Be Exhumed To Check on Alleged Suicide Gun

Shooting Re-enacted With Substitution of Bushel of Dirt for Head and Ejected Shells Easily Found—Neither Death Shells Nor Bullets Have Been Discovered.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Captain Clyde Plummer, of the district attorney's office, said tonight the pistol discovered in the lap of Reid Russell when his body was found in the yard of Gouverneur Morris' Manhattan Beach home September 25, appeared not to have been fired recently.

Plummer said he might ask that Russell's body be exhumed to determine if the bullet that killed him was of the same caliber as the pistol.

He announced he had learned that guests at the Morris home had engaged in target practice with .22-caliber rifles recently.

"Circumstances still make it difficult for us to believe Russell's death was suicide," said Plummer. He added, "We have been unable to establish any motive to indicate a murder."

Plummer continued:

"If Russell shot himself while lying in the swing it should be an easy matter to find the shell ejected from the automatic. It could not have fallen more than two or three feet from the body and should have been found easily in the grass about the swing.

Arms Were Folded.

"Another significant thing is that Russell's arms were folded across his breast when his body was found and one hand was clutching the gun in a position not likely to have been maintained had he shot himself through the head."

At the conclusion of several days' inquiry into the death of their guest, Mr. and Mrs. Morris prepared to leave by plane this evening for the ranch of friends near Fresno, Cal., where they said they planned a visit.

Standing on the spot where Russell's body was found, Captain Plummer today twice fired a pistol into a dirt-filled bushel basket.

Assistants combed the long grass for the ejected shells. They found both.

Russell's body was discovered in a lawn swing, since removed. In his lap lay a .32-caliber pistol. There was a bullet hole in his head.

The bullet was not found. Neither was the ejected shell.

The gun used by Plummer was similar to that found in Russell's lap.

In the basket were found the bullets Plummer fired. Plummer said, however, that although the basket and contents represented the approximate solidity of a human head, he attached no great significance to the fact that the projectiles did not pass through the basket.

The chief result of the tableau, he said, was the finding of the empty cartridges.

Plummer quizzed John Tony Mumolo, gardner at the home of Morris, the novelist, at length. Mumolo discovered Russell's body about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He had apparently died early that morning or the night before.

Strange Discovery.

"It is very strange," said Plummer, "that no one found the body until the following day."

Plummer said he could announce no definite conclusions following the test, pending the report of a ballistics expert who examined the rusty weapon found in Russell's lap.

The expert, he said, sought to determine if the gun had been fired as late as September 25. The report would not be ready until tomorrow, Plummer added.

Morris and his wife, friends and frequent hosts of Russell, 28, remained in their house while officials staged their re-enactment.

They have told police Russell had threatened to commit suicide. The youth's death was listed by police as suicidal.

Russell's mother, Mrs. Victoria Russell, prompted the present inquiry. She told authorities she did not think her son took his life.

CONDITIONS WILL END WPA, FARLEY PREDICTS

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—United States Postmaster General James A. Farley said tonight that the Works Progress Administration would be "cleaned up" as soon as business conditions warranted.

"As industry improves and provides additional employment," said Farley, arriving in England for his projected vacation in Ireland, "my personal opinion is that the administration, as quickly as it can, will turn the unemployed back to the states, towns and counties.

"There probably will be federal help, but I am satisfied they'll clean up the WPA as soon as they can."

The Best GRAY HAIR REMEDY IS MADE AT HOME

YOU can now make at home a better gray hair remedy than you can buy, by following this simple recipe: To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it yourself at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained.

Barbo imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair, makes it soft and glossy and takes years off your looks. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. Do not be handicapped by gray hair now when it is so economical and easy to get rid of it in your own home.

VERNA TAYLOR SLAIN, PARRAFIN TEST SHOWS

Wax Reveals Beauty Had Not Fired Pistol on Fatal Night.

LAGRANGE, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Coroner D. L. Ricketts revealed tonight that paraffin tests showed that dark-eyed Verna Taylor did not fire a pistol the night Brigadier General Henry H. Denhardt is accused of murdering her on a country road near here.

The coroner's statement topped a day of developments in the killing of the blue grass society beauty who was engaged to marry the portly 60-year-old Denhardt, former lieutenant governor and adjutant general of Kentucky. These included:

1. Disclosure that Mrs. Taylor told her friends she was not going through with the marriage.

2. Coroner Ricketts being notified by Defense Counsel Beckham Overstreet that Denhardt's lawyers would wait no later than Wednesday noon for copies of all photographs and other data obtained at the secret autopsy performed Friday night when Mrs. Taylor's corpse was secretly exhumed by investigators. Overstreet said if the information was not made available the defense would initiate its own autopsy.

3. Commonwealth's Attorney H. B. Kinsolving, chief of the prosecution, met with his aides. "Nothing to say," was their comment.

4. Denial by Special Prosecutor J. Ballard Clark, retained by Mrs. Taylor's kinsmen, that General Denhardt had been warned to stay out of La Grange. "He's perfectly safe here," Clark said.

The parrafin test is designed to show by chemistry whether the subject fired a weapon in the previous few days. Detective Sergeant John I. Messmer, chief of the Louisville crime laboratory, tested Mrs. Taylor a few hours after her death and General Denhardt two days later.

"The tests in her case were negative," Ricketts told Overstreet when the attorney asked for the data, "but the report on General Denhardt is not ready."

FLYNN, LILI DAMITA REPORTED SEPARATED

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 16.—(AP) Errol Flynn, dashing screen hero, and his bride of a year, Lili Damita, have parted and a suit for divorce will be filed, friends said today.

Flynn was reported to have established a separate residence Saturday. He is scheduled to leave this week for England, alone.

Clash of careers and artistic temperaments were blamed by friends for the rift.

Flynn, Irish-born, and Miss Damita, an exotic Parisienne, were married in June, 1935. His latest picture is "The Charge of the Light Brigade." Miss Damita has been appearing on the stage recently.

REDUCED RAIL FARES BOOST TRAVEL IN U. S.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, said today the lower passenger fares on B. and O. trains had proved a financial success.

In his report at the 110th annual meeting of stockholders, Willard said he believed the reduced fares responsible for the increased travel which, with "very little additional train mileage, has resulted in increased earnings per train mile of about 10.5 per cent."

"It is also quite evident," he said, "that the lower rates, together with improved services, have contributed substantially towards a better feeling on the part of the public toward the railroads.

END THE FEEL-PUNK, DRAG-FOOT DAYS

Dull headaches, poor appetite, sleeplessness are warning signs. You feel low—hate to work. These symptoms may point to constipation due to "low-bulk" meals.

Why throw these days out of your life—particularly when regular habits make you feel so good. Get "bulk" by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

There's nothing experimental about ALL-BRAN. Millions of people have used it successfully. Scientific tests prove it is safe and effective. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN oftener. Serve as a cereal, or cook into delicious recipes.

What an improvement over pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is a food—you buy it at the grocery store. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

REDS DRIVE FASCISTS FROM MADRID PROPER

Villalar street, close to the French embassy and behind the Associated Press office.

All the houses in the vicinity of those which caught fire were evacuated.

Churches Afire.

The Trinitarians church—where the ashes of Miguel Cervantes, famous Spanish writer, lie—was set afire, as was the Jeronimos church.

Bombs struck the following streets: Huertas, Jaun De Mena, Alberto Bosch, Moreto, Villalar, Atocha, Veronica and Jesus.

The air ministry reported government planes bombed the railroad station at Fascist-held Salamanca, burning war materials stored there, and an arsenal at Cadiz.

When the Fascist planes bombed the Atocha station, home-going crowds on the Gran Via, an important business street, scattered for safety into subway entrances as anti-aircraft guns spat at the planes. The defenders' tracer bullets slashed the dark sky.

Plane Crashes.

It was the first night raid in several weeks. One Insurgent plane crashed in flames when a government gunner scored a direct hit earlier today.

Before the Fascists lost their foothold in Madrid, several beautiful and expensive new buildings of the university were wrecked in an artillery and machine-gun battle, the government said.

A small group of the enemy filtered across the shallow Manzanares river and seized one building on the campus, the official statement declared, but heavy fire by the Madrid militiamen kept back reinforcements who sought to join them.

Government soldiers blew up the Los Franceses bridge to keep the Fascists from hauling up heavy equipment to fortify their positions on the campus.

Insurgents Retreat.

The struggle for possession of the university region lasted from midnight Sunday until noon today, the government said, and the Insurgents finally retreated across the Manzanares.

While the Fascists concentrated their attack in that sector, their artillery continued to bombard other parts of the capital from the south and west.

Slightly south of University City, the Rosales section, was almost completely evacuated by civilians after heavy shelling reduced the apartment buildings on a broad avenue to piles of debris.

The defense junta, admitting that the situation was growing "increasingly difficult in the capital," said there were "sufficient resources to defeat attempts to capture it."

All Madrid's newspapers except those operated by the government will suspend publication because of a newsprint shortage, the defense junta said, but some will move to Valencia.

FLOOD OF DIVIDENDS AND RAISES GROWING

amounting to $65,250,000. Du Pont owns 10,000,000 shares of General Motors stock.

The average 10 per cent wage increase announced last week by leading mills in the woolen and worsted industry, with about 145,000 workers, spread at the opening of the new week in New England and the south.

Rise Is General.

Textile men said it apparently had become general in the woolen industry. Some cotton mills joined the procession.

Similar announcements continued to come from other diverse sources.

International Business Machines Corporation, a leading maker of office equipment, stepped into line with a wage increase of 5 cents an hour for about 3,000 employes at Endicott, N. Y., Rochester, N. Y., and Washington, D. C., expanding pay rolls by about $300,000 a year.

Thirty-two hundred workers in the Niagara Falls, N. Y., plants of the Carborundum Company and the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company were among the miscellaneous additions to the list.

The W. B. Jarvis Company, of Grand Rapids, Mich., makers of hardware and accessories, added $45,000 in bonuses for 1,250 employes to the $25,000,000 in extra Christmas payments already announced by a group of large companies.

The 10 per cent steel wage boost became effective today. The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, leading operating subsidiary of U. S. Steel, reported it applied to all its plants, despite failure of some employee representatives to sign a formal agreement.

At the current rate of steel operations, the increase for the industry's 475,000 wage earners would top $60,000,000 a year.

The federal surtax upon undistributed profits was seen in financial circles as a powerful influence behind the year-end corporate disbursements.

Dividend Arrears Flow.

Payment of dividend arrears on preferred stock contributed to the flow. The Skelly Oil Company announced a payment of $27 on its senior stock, including $25.50 in arrears, for a total of $1,790,100.

Industry's boosts were echoed in New Jersey government circles. The Essex county board of freeholders voted to increase pay of 2,100 county employes from 1 to 10 per cent, restoring depression cuts. The pay roll, starting January 1, will be expanded about $275,000 annually.

County taxpayers were assured the raise would not be reflected in tax rates but would come out of surplus revenues and budget savings.

Directors of United Aircraft Corporation declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on the capital stock and announced wage increases and adjustments which in the coming year will add more than $635,000 to the income of its hourly wage employes.

The Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, Hamilton Standard Propellers, Chance Vought Aircraft, Sikorsky Aircraft and United Airports divisions of the corporation posted notices providing all hourly rate employes will receive immediately a flat wage increase of 5 cents an hour, and commencing next year, vacation with pay.

RAILROAD ORDERS NEW TRACKS, FITTINGS

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The expenditure of $11,000,000 for new heavy steel rail, rail fittings and labor has been authorized by Union Pacific railroad, it was announced today.

The company will purchase 20,000 tons of rail and an equal amount of rail fittings at once. The steel rail order will be filled by Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., of Denver; Inland Steel Co., and the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co., of Chicago. Order for rail fittings will be issued within a few days.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD REPORTS RISE IN INCOME

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Pennsylvania railroad today reported net income of $23,977,971 in the nine months ended September 30, equal to $1.82 a share on the capital stock, compared with $14,944,772, or $1.13 in the first nine months of 1935.

Other roads reporting for the nine-month period included:

Louisville & Nashville, net income of $6,047,696, equal to $5.17 a share of capital stock, compared with $2,369,703, or $2.02 in the like 1935 period.

CARNEGIE-ILLINOIS STEEL RAISES WORKERS' PAY

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Bulletin board notices in the 18 Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's Pittsburgh-Youngstown district mills told workers today their pay had been increased—whether they agreed to terms of the boost or not.

The corporatoion announced its 10 per cent wage boost plan, effective for one year and coupled with a controversial cost-of-living method of adjustment, became effective in all plants.

A Carnegie-Illinois spokesman said the increase meant nearly 100,000 employes would pocket $15,000,000 in extra pay before November 16, 1937.

CHRISTMAS CLUB FUND WILL REACH $335,000,000.

By SMITH REAVIS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Yuletide spending money to the tune of approximately $355,000,000 will be distributed in the next two weeks to about 7,500,000 persons, Christmas Club, Inc., reported today.

This is in addition to approximately $44,000,000 in Christmas club funds already reported by mutual savings banks in the 18 states in which they operate, bringing the round total to almost $400,000,000.

Christmas Club, Inc., through its president, Herbert F. Rawll, estimated the average year's accumulation for each club member would be $46.50. A total of about 5,500 banks throughout the country acted as custodians for the funds.

The total to be distributed represents an increase of about 14 per cent over the 1935 figures, but is only slightly more than half the amount saved in the peak year of 1930 when $632,000,000 was poured into the hands of 11,000,000 members.

Only bout 42 per cent of the money will go for Christmas purchases Rawll estimated on the basis of previous experience. Permanent savings will account for fully 25 per cent, he said, while taxes, mortgage interest, insurance premiums and education, travel and charity will eat up the balance.

New Yorkers will have the lion's share of this year's distribution, Rawll said, with a total in the neighborhood of $96,500,000. Pennsylvania runs second, with $36,200,000, and New Jersey third, with $31,500,000 saved.

Here is the distribution by sections: New England, $40,000,000; middle Atlantic states, $164,200,000; east north central, $66,600,000; west north central, $18,660,000; south Atlantic, $32,140,000; east south central, $7,190,000; west south central, $4,830,000; mountain, $6,230,000; Pacific $14,660,000.

Last year, Rawll said, showed the smallest accumulation of all the post-depression years, with $312,000,000 paid out to 7,000,000 depositors. He explained the poor showing by a decrease in the number of participating banks and the fact that formerly most of the banks paid interest on the accounts while in the last year or so the majority have canceled the interest feature.

Mutual banks, through the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, reported 1936 their best year. Their $43,800,000 will go to 1,063,000 members.

MORE PAY BOOSTS ANNOUNCED IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Maine, Nov. 16.—(AP) Announcement of wage increases by additional Maine mills today raised the potential buying power of 13,000 textile workers by an estimated $1,200,000.

Pay increases effective November 30 were announced by the Pepperell Manufacturing Company in Biddeford, employing 2,200; the New York Manufacturing Company in Saco, with a roster of 1,200; the Edwards Manufacturing Company, of Augusta, with 1,000 employes, and the Androscoggin, Bates, Continental and Hill mills in Lewiston, employing 5,500.

Except the Pepperell plant, which did not specify the wage increase, all the mills announced increases of approximately 10 per cent. Officials of the Lewiston Bleachery & Dye Works, owned by Pepperell, said "wage readjustments would follow" in that plant.

Eleven other Maine textile plants, 10 of them manufacturers of woolens, previously had announced 10 per cent wage boosts for 3,500 workers, totaling an estimated $300,000.

COPPER COMPANY HIKES PAY OF MINERS

MIAMI, Ariz., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Miami Copper Company and the Inspiration Consolidated Copper Company announced today approximately 1,800 miners will receive a five per cent wage increase December 1.

The announcement followed by two days a similar increase for 800 men employed in the Phelps Dodge Corporation smelter at Douglas.

OIL COMPANY ANNOUNCES DIVIDEND

HOUSTON, Texas., Nov. 16.—(AP) The Humble Oil and Refining Company announced a stock dividend of $4,500,000 today.

Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on 9,000,000 shares and an additional dividend of 25 cents a share.

The dividend will be paid December 26 to stockholders of record at 3 p. m., November 25.

TEXTILE MILL RAISES WORKERS' INCOMES.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The management of the Cone Mills today announced pay increases for approximately 6,000 employes of eight cotton textile plants controlled by the company.

The amount of increases, to become effective next Monday, was not disclosed.

CANNON MILLS BOOSTS LABORERS' PAY CHECKS

KANNAPOLIS, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Cannon cotton mills announced tonight a pay boost for their 16,000 employes amounting to about $62.50 a year per capita.

An announcement said the raise was the result of improved business within the past few months, and was in line with the company's policy of sharing its profits.

The increase amounts to about $1,000,000 a year.

The Cannon mills operate plants here, at China Grove, Salisbury, Rockwell, Concord and at York, S. C.

It was the first pay increase for the mills' employes since NRA was inaugurated.

DIXIE CITIES ENJOY HUGE TRADE INCREASE

trade 30 per cent higher than last year, expects the biggest Christmas holiday season since 1929. The Alabama metropolis will stage its annual Christmas carnival next week for the home folks and thousands of visitors. Steel plants are running at high speed capacity. Steel workers are pleased over a 10 per cent increase in wages.

"The purchasing power of the state of Georgia today," said J. P. Allen, past president of the Atlanta Retail Merchants Association, "probably is greater than in boom days." He forecast a "very substantial increase" over Christmas business of last year when trading starts in earnest after Thanksgiving.

20 Per Cent Up in Nashville.

Christmas shopping has started in Little Rock, Ark., and will be going full blast in about 10 days, said Preston Pfeifer, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's merchant committee. The early movement of crops gave business a good start, and a holiday business of 33 1-3 per cent better than last year would not surprise Mr. Pfeifer.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Chamber of Commerce forecast retail Christmas sales from 15 to 20 per cent over last year, citing a 16 per cent increase in industrial employment. A 14 per cent increase in clearings and October postoffice receipts greater than any October since 1929. Christmas shopping has started.

New Orleans Booming.

At New Orleans, Wilson Calander, of the Association of Commerce, pointed to department store sales far in excess of last year, hardware sales 46 per cent ahead for September and other optimistic signs before predicting the best Christmas season since 1931. The beginning of work on the $8,000,000 charity hospital project and the $3,000,000 lakeshore improvement completion project will fatten Christmas purchasing funds in the Crescent City.

Charlotte, N. C., looks forward to business 12 per cent better than last year with farm prices higher and a generally optimistic outlook.

Richmond, Va., merchants expect "one of the biggest seasons in many years," as do the Florida merchants at Miami and Jacksonville. Business has been improving steadily at Miami and Jacksonville for the past several months and there has been no sign of a letup.

40 BODIES RESCUED IN FRENCH EXPLOSION

never be known, for everyone in the Talite works was killed instantly.

Those who rushed to the aid of their comrades and were wounded in the second unexpected explosion have not yet been able to give a coherent account of what happened.

The explosion was of unimaginable intensity. It was heard as far as 20 miles away from the great military explosive plant and broke virtually all windows within a radius of eight miles. The concussion stopped the municipal clock in Saint Chamas.

The scene around the plant was heart-rending as ambulances dashed in and out of the gates, bearing their loads of wounded. Hundreds of workers' relatives waited outside, in deep anxiety, to learn the fate of their loved ones.

Tragedy Described.

A realistic picture of the horrible tragedy was given the United Press by the 61-year-old gateman at the plant, Gustave Albertini, who said he owed his life to the fact that he could not "move as fast as I used to."

"When the alarm sounded (after the first small blast in the Talite works)," he explained, "I hurried to the point of alarm according to the rules, but had not reached it when a second blast occurred.

"Many of the employes, though, had reached the place of the first blast when the second happened. Most of them were victims.

"I think the regulation is stupid. I've been employed here since I was a boy and I know explosions rarely occur singly.

"Well, I was hurrying toward the Talite works when I felt something wet slap my face—maybe it was a fragment of flesh, but I don't know because all the lights were out. That was the most horrible thing of all—the utter darkness, except for the burning ruins which didn't give much light because the explosion didn't leave much to burn.

"We followed the groans and cries of the wounded in order to find them, but many were unconscious. The plant, or what was left of it, was filled with torn bodies, some of them not bodies at all but just pieces of flesh no bigger than a beefsteak.

"Those bodies which were recognizably human had all the clothes torn off them. I have seen explosions do that before, but never so completely."

LATIN AMERICA TRADE WITH U. S. IMPROVES

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Two speakers told the third annual marine exhibition today that business relations between this country and Latin American were improving.

Alexander V. Dye, of the Federal Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, said exports to Latin America for the first nine months of this year amounted in value to $307,277,000, against $249,258,000 for the same period of 1935.

FIRST SHOW OF WINTER EXHIBITED BY NIAGARA

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 16. (AP)—Niagara Falls put on its first real winter show of the season today, coating trees, shrubs and rocks in the "ice scenery" that cold weather always brings.

An up-river wind drove the spray back above the falls, and with the temperature standing below freezing, trees soon were coated to the top-most branches with sparkling ice.

THANKSGIVING DINNER TO COST SAME AS 1935

Dressed Turkeys Drop in Price; Other Holiday Food Items Are Lower.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Those who pay the nation's grocery bills may find cause for thanksgiving this year when they total up the cost of the 1936 Thanksgiving dinner.

If the relationship of today's wholesale food prices with those of mid-November, 1935, is maintained for the next ten days, the Thanksgiving dinner will cost no more than last year, the drouth of the past summer notwithstanding.

About half of the items that go into the typical holiday menu are priced lower than a year ago in Chicago wholesale markets. In some cases the discounts run from 10 to 50 per cent.

Included in the list of cheaper foods is turkey, which accounts for a big portion of the Thanksgiving dinner cost. Other kinds of poultry, including geese and duck, are lower also.

Out of 20 food items listed in the wholesale markets, 10 are quoted lower than a year ago, seven higher and three are virtually unchanged.

The foods selling lower include dressed turkeys, ducks and geese, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peas, lard and flour. Those quoted higher include eggs, potatoes, apples, oranges, tomatoes, cheese and some types of nuts. Little difference is evident in butter, beans and cranberries prices at wholesale.

This relationship of wholesale food prices is comparable to that existing in retail food costs on the basis of the latest Bureau of Labor statistics report. The index of retail prices October 13 was 82.8, with 100 representing the period from 1923-35. This was 3.7 per cent higher than a year earlier although, the bureau said, costs were lower than a year ago for all commodity groups except dairy products and fruits and vegetables.

Dressed turkeys in Chicago today were quoted at 21 to 23 cents per pound wholesale compared with 23 to 28 a year ago. Ducks were around 19 cents against 20-22 last year, with geese about 16 cents against 18-20.

ROME PUPILS TO GET PRIZES FOR ESSAYS

ROME, Ga., Nov. 16.—Prizes will be given by the directors of the 1936 Community Chest to the students in the Rome public schools who submit the best essays not to exceed 200 words on the subject, "Why Give More to the Community Chest."

The essays must be in the hands of the committee by tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

The slogan of the 1936 Community Chest is "We Can Give More" and the directors point out that the public must live up to that slogan if the agencies in the Chest are to function anywhere near efficiently. The budget is $18,200 this year.

'Buddy' Rogers and Mary Pickford To Wed in Spring

MARY PICKFORD TO WED ROGERS NEXT SPRING

on the brow of a towering cliff in the mountains above Beverly Hills. It was filled with the mementoes of Mary's long career in pictures, and with the innumerable souvenirs of Fairbanks' jaunts into every corner of the world.

Pickfair, for years, was the temporary address of every celebrity who came to Hollywood. European nobility, in particular, enjoyed its hospitality. And for the rank and file of the movie colony, an invitation to the big white house was a certificate of social eligibility.

During these years, Miss Pickford and Fairbanks rode the crest of motion picture success. Their affection was so strong that when "Doug" had a love-scene in a film, Miss Pickford—her back to the camera—always superseded the real leading lady in his embraces.

In 1931, however, rumors began to circulate that Pickfair no longer housed a happy couple. Fairbanks wanderings had begun again. He was in China. He was in Switzerland for the winter sports. He was in London, mingling with the social whirl.

Mary Pickford stayed home and insisted everything was as before.

But in 1933, they separated. Two years later, Miss Pickford appeared before a Los Angeles judge, and testified that Fairbanks was guilty of indifference and neglect, "which defeated the deepest aims of marriage." She was granted a divorce.

She retired from acting, took a larger interest as a movie producer, started a radio program, wrote a bochure called "Why Not Try God?"

Some months after her divorce, "Buddy" Rogers began escorting her in Hollywood and in London. "America's boy friend," like America's sweetheart," had gone out of pictures. He had protested against the type of roles he had been playing, and had become an orchestra leader again, the profession he was following when the movies first found him.

Consistent denials did not discourage rumors of the romance, now, the couple announce, the wedding will take place early next year, after Rogers returns from a film assignment in England.

CLYDE PUGH RITES TO BE HELD TODAY

Victim of Mistaken Identity Killing To Be Buried Near Canton.

Funeral services for Clyde E. Pugh, auto parts dealer, victim of a mistaken-identity slaying Sunday, will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the Pugh cemetery, near Canton, Ga. The Rev. W. L. Lacy will officiate.

Mr. Pugh is survived by his wife; a son, Herbert Lee Pugh; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pugh, of College Park; three sisters, Mrs. J. F. DeVore, Mrs. Frank Fronebarger and Mrs. Q. A. Chattin, and two brothers, E. W. and John Pugh.

Pugh was shot at a barbecue stand on Vine street. Police arrested James Wright, negro, 42, of 955 Frank street, and on orders of the coroner's jury booked him with suspicion of murder.

Wright, they reported, admitted he had fired at Pugh, believing him to be another man with whom he had been engaged in a quarrel a short time before.

Four negroes are being held as material witnesses in connection with the shooting.

MRS. NETTIE WALKER DIES IN WASHINGTON

Mrs. Nettie F. Walker, formerly of Atlanta and well known here, died early Sunday morning at her home in Washington, D. C., where she had lived the last five years.

Mrs. Walker was the wife of the late Charles Walker, who died in 1922. She was active in civic, church and educational affairs, and held membership in the Atlanta chapters of the D. A. R. and U. D. C., and the first Presbyterian church.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. O. H. McWhorter, of Washington, and Mrs. John Tedder, of Live Oak, Florida.

Final rites will be held at 9 o'clock this morning at the chapel of Sam R. Greenberg. Dr. Robert Ivey will officiate, and burial will be in West View cemetery.

50 MEN FIGHT TO SAVE 2 TRAPPED IN MINE PIT

SUPERIOR, Mont., Nov. 16.—(AP) Fifty men, frost-chilled mud oozing around their ankles, worked through a crumbling, water-soaked mine tunnel tonight in an effort to reach two gold miners, entombed since Saturday night.

The miners, Antone Gustafson, 40, and Oscar Gevart, 45, apparently trapped by a slide in a narrow horizontal tunnel at the Windfall Placer gold mine, faced possible drowning if they were not crushed by the tons of mud, rock and gravel.

Mme. Galli-Curci Tests New Voice; Prepares for Second Chicago Debut

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci tested her "new voice" today in the privacy of her hotel suite.

With her comeback "debut" in opera, as Mimi in "La Boheme," scheduled by the Chicago City Opera Company for November 24, the world-renowned soprano pronounced herself "nervous but confident."

Suntanned, 15 pounds heavier (120 now) after a year in California since a goiter operation here in August, 1935, she said in an interview:

"My voice is not simply improved; it is a new voice. I have richness, color I never had before. I am going to sing a whole new repertoire, starting with "La Boheme," "Madame Butterfly" and "Tosca," and forget my old repertoire. (She knew 27 roles.)

"The operation—it was like taking away a hand that chocked me, like taking a big stone out of a stream to let the water flow freely.

"I was condemned to craftsmanship. I had to think too much about details of technique. Now I can sing. I can express emotion, drama. It is marvelous.

"But you would hold your thumbs for me, yes? The nervous tension, though, is natural. It is not fear. Always I was nervous before a performance. It is a good sign. It keeps one young, no?"

Mme. Galli-Curci has been out of opera for six years and last sang in public at a concert in Japan in June, 1935. She practiced with a coach in California but from now until the performance here, she said, "Only 30 minutes a day, to keep my voice fresh and alive."

Her sun-bronzed husband, Homer Samuels, who calls his famous wife "Lita," is her pianist.

"California has done so much for me," said Galli-Curci. "It is my home now. We have built a house, a white one with blue blinds, in Westwood Hills, a suburb of Los Angeles."

Mme. Galli-Curci said she chose Chicago in which to sing again because "it means so much to me."

"It was 20 years ago, the night of November 18, 1916—which was her birthday—when a Chicago audience gave her debut in the United States as Gilda in "Rigoletto" an ovation that sent her on to world acclaim.

VICTIMS OF ACCIDENTS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Ward and Cox Reported by Hospitals in Critical State.

John W. Ward Sr., injured in an automobile accident Sunday at West Lake avenue and Simpson road, was reported last night as in serious condition at Grady hospital.

Ward and his wife were both hurt when their car collided with a machine driven, according to police, by John Madison, negro, of a North Hightower road address. Madison is being held without bond on charges of drunken driving pending the outcome of Mr. Ward's injuries.

The condition of Wayne Cox, Georgia Tech student who was hurt when he was struck by an automobile Sunday as he and R. L. Johnson, another Tech student, alighted from a street car, was reported as serious last night at Crawford Long hospital.

Police booked charges of drunk and reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident against James Coriss in connection with the Cox accident.

In the meantime efforts were being made last night to identify the body of a man who was killed on the Macon highway Sunday morning.

Clad in blue overalls and workshirt, the man, apparently about 55 years old and weighing 135 pounds, was found in the weeds alongside the highway near Mitnick's lake and the Southern railroad.

A near-by filling station operator told police the man had eaten a sandwich in his stand at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. The operator quoted him as saying he had a girl in Mansfield, Georgia.

The body is being held at the Decatur mortuary of A. S. Turner.

MILK RISE CANCELLED.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The scheduled penny advance in the price of milk here failed to go into effect today. Director W. Henry Bryant, of the State Milk Control Board, cancelled the projected advance, and announced a third hearing on the subject would be held November 30 with all members present.

NEGRO PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED BY AUTO

Boy Suffers Broken Leg When Struck by Car, Police Report.

Struck down by an automobile in front of 410 Capitol avenue, S. W., Charlie Vaughn, 36, negro, rear of 644 Washington street, S. W., was fatally injured at about 7:45 o'clock last night.

He died several hours after being admitted to Grady hospital, of a fractured skull and broken left leg. His death marked the 74th traffic fatality within the city limits since the first of the year, and the ninth this month.

According to police reports, Vaughn was struck by a car proceeding north on Capitol avenue, driven by Raymond Todd, of 1625 Boulevard drive, against whom a technical charge of reckless driving was placed.

Carl Wallace, 9, of 824 Echo street, N. W., suffered a fractured left leg when, according to police reports, he was struck by an automobile proceeding west on Jefferson street, at Payne avenue, driven by Guy F. Nesbitt, 54, of 932 Allene avenue, S. W.

A technical charge of reckless driving was placed against Nesbit. The injured boy was dismissed from Grady hospital, following treatment.

ROBERT A. AGNEW, 79, PASSES AT HOSPITAL

Robert A. Agnew, 79, a resident of Atlanta for 35 years and a prominent member of the Haygood Memorial Methodist church, died yesterday afternoon at a private hospital.

Mr. Agnew, who lived at 1006 Drewry street, N. E., was a veteran employe of the Union Box Manufacturing Company, serving as bookkeeper for 20 years. He was a Mason.

He was a charter member of Haygood Memorial Methodist church, and chairman emeritus of the board of stewards. A native of Balamina, Ireland, he came to this country as a young man.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. C. S. Forester; a son, C. A. Shelton, several nieces and a nephew.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

FRANK GILREATH SR. PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Press Syndicate Head Was Native Georgian; Rites Set for Today.

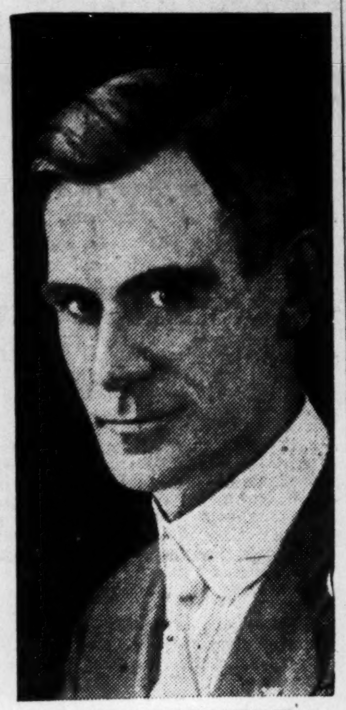
Frank C. Gilreath Sr., 62, prominent in Georgia journalistic circles and head of the Gilreath Press Syndicate, died yesterday morning at the residence, 708 Myrtle street, N. E. Although he had been in failing health for some time, his death was unexpected.

Mr. Gilreath, a native of Cartersville, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Miller H. Gilreath, well-known Bartow county citizens. His early life was spent in Cartersville.

In 1898 he joined the staff of the Atlanta Journal, and a short time later was made state news editor. He held that post until 1910, when he organized the syndicate bearing his name. He was well known in Georgia press circles.

Mr. Gilreath was a 32nd degree Mason, and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, becoming associated with that group when he attended Mercer University.

Syndicate Head Passes



FRANK C. GILREATH SR.

He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. E. L. Batty and Mrs. Glenn W. Hirleman, both of Atlanta, and Mrs. John C. Doughty, of New York; a son, Frank C. Gilreath Jr., real estate editor of the Atlanta Journal; two sisters, Mrs. Charles B. Crenshaw and Mrs. R. M. Potter, both of Atlanta, and two brothers, Miller H. Gilreath and Joel B. Gilreath, both of Atlanta also.

Funeral services will be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son, with Dr. Richard Orme Flinn officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

ORDINARY'S COURT TO SETTLE ESTATE

Appellate Bench Rules Settlement of Corbett Will Be Made in Colquitt.

The Georgia Court of Appeals ruled yesterday a settlement of the estate of the late R. J. Corbett must be made in the ordinary's court of Colquitt county.

Louise Corbett Smith and others as beneficiaries under Corbett's will sued the Trust Company of Georgia in the ordinary's court for a settlement.

They claimed the company, as executor, had sold certain stock and other assets of the estate for approximately $50,000 whereas the "fair market value" amounted to approximately $142,000.

The trust company objected to the right of the ordinary to hear the case on the grounds it was a resident of Fulton county and intricate questions were involved.

The case was appealed by consent to Judge W. E. Thomas in superior court. Judge Thomas upheld the right of the ordinary to proceed. The case was then appealed to the supreme court which transferred it to the court of appeals.

"If a non-resident of a county accepts appointment as an executor of an estate . . . such executor is subject to a citation for settlement before the ordinary or the court of the ordinary of such county" the court of appeals said.

It also said the ordinary had the power to decide the questions involved.

DR. ALFRED BUTTS TO TALK AT EMORY

Mississippi Educator Will Participate in Centennial Celebration.

Dr. Alfred B. Butts, chancellor and professor of law at the University of Mississippi, will make an address on "Government and Progress in the South" on December 10, during the Emory University centennial celebration, President Harvey W. Cox announced yesterday.

Civic officials and educational leaders in the field of governmental science will be especially invited to hear Dr. Butts at a morning conference. The conference will be held in the Theology building on the Emory campus as part of the celebration program, which will be held from December 4 to 13, inclusive.

Dr. Butts, a recognized authority on governmental trends in the south, has published many articles concerning various phases of governmental development in the last few years.

WPA SEEKING STUDY OF SAVANNAH MOUND

Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state WPA administrator, said yesterday a $25,000 WPA project submitted by the Savannah office for excavation of the Irene Indian mount on the Savannah river had been forwarded to Washington for approval of the national office.

The project, located on Pipe Makers creek, near Savannah, is expected to reveal important data on the Creek Indians. Miss Shepperson said the mound was located on private property, but permission had been obtained for the excavation.

CHARLES G. GRAY, 70, TELEGRAPHER, PASSES

Charles Grimes Gray, 70, veteran telegraph operator, died Sunday at a private hospital. He lived at 464 Montgomery Ferry drive, N. E.

Mr. Gray, a native Georgian, was for many years associated with the Western Union. He formerly served as a telegrapher for The Constitution and in the same capacity with a brokerage house in New York.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Hamil Jr., of Hickory, N. C., and six sons, A. V., C. C., F. H. and J. M. Gray, all of Atlanta; E. W. Gray, of St. Petersburg, and C. G. Gray, of Nashville.

Final rites were held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes, with Dean Raimundo de Ovies officiating. Burial was in Crest Lawn cemetery.

WHITLEY INJUNCTION DEFENSE ORDERED

Governor Talmadge instructed Attorney General M. J. Yeomans yesterday to defend the state highway board in an injunction petition docketed for hearing in Marietta on November 20.

In the petition G. C. Whitley, of LaGrange, seeks to restrain the board from letting $1,700,000 in construction contracts, claiming such an award would incur a debt in violation of law.

Lighthouse for Blind To Distribute Canes

Blind persons in the city, who wish one of the red and white walking canes designed to provide protection for them when crossing streets, have been asked to register immediately at the Lighthouse on Washington street. Two hundred of the canes already have been ordered by the Lions Club for distribution, it was announced yesterday.

Distribution of the canes will be handled by the Lighthouse. A recent city ordinance restricts the use of the canes to blind persons only and gives to their holders right-of-way over traffic.

Pile Sufferers
Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts lifeless?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. J. S. Leonhardt known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed.

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, and restores the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that Jacobs Drug Stores and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.

ATLANTA, GA., NOV. 17, 1936.

HIGHWAY CARNAGE

Reports of the deaths in automobile accidents throughout the nation over the week end read not unlike the dispatches of the carnage in the present Spanish rebellion.

One hundred and sixty lives were suddenly ended; 160 names added to the mounting toll of this year's casualties. So large is the number that compiled reports omit the thousands more who received injuries that run the gamut from slight hurts to permanently disabling injuries.

As usual, Georgia's sad record over this week end is high in the list of casualties—nine dead, an unmentioned number injured, and the usual large property loss in smashed automobiles.

Two Atlanta men were killed, three persons were seriously injured and many suffered minor hurts in and near the city in traffic accidents Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Already 72 persons have met death in the Atlanta area this year, and if this ratio is maintained for the balance of the year at least a dozen persons now alive will meet death tragically on the highways and streets before the year is out.

No one can foretell whose names will be among those dozen or more victims, nor who will be injured slightly or seriously. It may be the reckless driver and the occupants of the car he is driving, or it may be the careful driver and his unfortunate passengers—but the reckless driver, speed demon or drunken motorist will be responsible.

Atlanta police recorded 40 accidents Saturday and Sunday, with 20 charges of drunken driving booked and 50 accused of reckless driving. Most, perhaps all, of those accidents could have been avoided by ordinary care in operating the machines.

If Georgia had a driver's license law these drunken drivers and a majority of those convicted of reckless driving would lose their licenses and the right to drive a car. Until such a law is enacted there can be expected no decrease in automobile accidents that result in deaths, serious injuries and huge property loss.

SOUND BUSINESS GAINS

Despite the fact that our imports have increased more than our exports, the Federal Reserve Board reports that business this year shows the cumulative effects of continued recovery, the current level of activity being higher than at any time since 1930, and that since 1932 the country's merchandise foreign trade has increased 60 per cent.

This increase in our export trade has been brought about in the past two years through the operation of 14 reciprocal trade treaties made with foreign nations, and has borne its part in providing employment for workers who lost their jobs when export trade was all but killed.

Thus it is apparent that the alarming decreases in foreign trade caused by excessive barriers set up by nations of the world in direct retaliation against the Hawley-Smoot tariff act of 1930 are being overcome by friendly trade agreements with an increasing number of countries.

Georgia, in common with other states, is participating in the increasing imports, and is already receiving financial benefits from the trade agreements concluded to date with the 14 foreign countries, by authority granted to the President to negotiate with foreign countries under the trade agreements act of June 12, 1934.

Cotton, the chief money crop of Georgia, has shown an appreciable increase during the first six months of this year; textiles, forming Georgia's most important industry, have brought concessions from five countries on cotton yarn and from 10 countries on cotton textile products, and the state has also benefited in concessions granted on importation by foreign nations of tobacco, nuts, fruits, forest products and miscellaneous agricultural and industrial products.

The substantial nature of the general business gain throughout the nation is evidenced by the announcement made by heads of several of the country's leading industries that hundreds of thousands of workers will receive pay increases, amounting to millions of dollars, within the next few weeks. In the steel industry alone 500,000 workers will be recipients in this increase in wages, which, it is stated, will average 10 per cent. In addition to this, 12 companies voted dividend payments and bonuses amounting to more than $65,000,000.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics forecasts a 10 per cent advance in the national income next year, lifting it to $66,000,000,000. This improvement in agricultural and industrial conditions will go far in providing employment for those now out of work, and reduce the number of WPA workers and those on relief, eliminate national spending of money and make a start on reducing the national debt.

RECOVERABLE ASSETS

The program of loaning federal funds to railroads, banks, industries, farmers and home owners during the past three years has been severely criticized by opponents of the New Deal, who have vehemently asserted that it was "gone with the wind" as completely as the sums absorbed by the dole administered to poverty-stricken persons during the height of the depression.

Concrete facts disprove this contention and strongly indicate that the administration's policy of listing the great majority of these loans as "recoverable assets," which will act to materially reduce the national debt, is a correct assumption.

E. S. Morgan, assistant regional director of the Resettlement Administration, reports that 38,000 farm families in the southeastern division, comprising Alabama, Florirda, Georgia and South Carolina, had repaid $4,009,107, or 48 per cent, of $8,232,826 advanced under the federal rural rehabilitation program in those states. Mr. Morgan estimates that more than $1,000,000 more will be repaid from cotton and peanut sales yet to be made from this year's crop, making a total repayment in one year of 61 per cent on loans, the entire totals of which are not yet due.

Similar percentages of repayments on loans have been made in other divisions of the Resettlement Administration, with the exception of that which was hardest hit by the drouth during the past summer, and even in these sections repayments were considered good. Farmers have a long-time record of paying loans and debts when economic conditions will enable them to do so. During this fall, report after report has come from various Georgia counties stating that farmers are wiping out old debts and paying up back taxes. One nationally prominent agricultural implement company states that in the past 25 years it had sold millions of dollars worth of farm implements on time and suffered an average loss of only 1.2 per cent from bad debts.

The Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation reports a high percentage of home owners meeting their long-time loans in accordance with specified terms. Class 1 railroads are making substantial payments on loans from the government, and the defunct Chicago bank which closed owing the government a huge sum has repaid 50 per cent of its loan, and liquidators estimate that collateral on hand will go far in wiping out the remainder of the debt.

Improved economic conditions in industry, commerce and agriculture, together with the huge increase in wages of workers, salaried employes and officials since 1933, indicate that the government will lose but little of the large sum that is listed as "recoverable assets."

The theory of Edward VIII that he is entitled to privacy is an interesting one. It is a relic of days before candid cameras, wired photos and the American reader.

The signing-off of the candidates made a serious difference to the radio audience. It must now tune in on patent medicines that cure only one thing at a time.

No school can be called a football set-up any more because it is small. A little college, as the poet said, is a dangerous thing.

Mr. Roosevelt's Victory

In spite of the tremendous din made by opponets, in spite of the host of false issues raised by more or less unscrupulous polemists, in spite of a combination of sinister forces, the President emerges from the election struggle not only the victor, but with his prestige immensely enlorged both at home and abroad. From this moment onward, all eyes throughout the universe will be focused on Washington. As the Echo de Paris remarked, "the world has become aware that there, across the ocean, stands one great moral figure, truly great, backed by the faith and the enthusiasm of a young people of millions."

That overwhelming victory was won in a free election. In contrast with certain other countries, where voters are behind the one and only name mentioned on the ballot-paper, the American people had a free choice. They voted for Franklin Delano Roosevelt and for the cause of a free democracy. The spirit of Washington is not dead! The Statue of Liberty in New York harbor is no cynical mockery. The American people have held the faith. They are loyal to the principles of their fathers, principles which made America what it is.

The President proved himself the right navigator in the midst of a storm. When the economic crisis had reached its apex, when staganation had reached a point that many brave hearts began to falter, at a moment when Mr. Hoover, as has recently been revealed, saw no other way out but to prepare the army for a repressional struggle with the people, Mr. Roosevelt took charge of the helm and heaved the rudder over in the right direction. He evaded the rocks that lay ahead with menacing intent, he righted the cargo that was dangerously leaning to starboard, he faced the breakers four-square as the son of the old sea-faring people that he is and he led the ship of state into sight of the safe harbor. The achievement is a titanic one. The name of Franklin D. Roosevelt will live in history.

Yes, and if there is a mighty upswing in American economic life at the present moment, if the stock exchange is again in fever every indication points to a boom in business, it is well to record that all this has been accomplished without resorting to the false trick which is put in operation in certain European countries. Mr. Roosevelt did not have recourse to an immense armament campaign. There is more industry booming in the U. S. A. than mere munition factories. The inner market has been stiffened and built up. The almost unbelievable has been done: America has been given a guarantee against a return of slump conditions. If we can advance this far on the road to prosperity by merely developing the home market, there is no telling what we may not see when world conditions outside America begin to improve in turn.

It is to be hoped that the splendid electoral victory will imbue the President himself with new courage to carry on. He knows now, and there was no mistake about it earlier, that he is borne upward by the vast majority of his fellow citizens. He also knows that there are millions and millions abroad who look with expectation and hope to the next four years that he will spend in the White House. Mr. Roosevelt has lit a flame, or rother he has rekindled a flame, the fire of freedom and peace, which was on the point of going out in Europe. The dictators and iron men, who impose their will upon the peoples by force must have looked with envy to Washington on that first Tuesday in November. For there, across the ocean, they could see a whole people, imperial in size, take their side by their leader in a gesture of spontaniety and confidence.

HEALTH TALKS

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

THE ATTACK OF HEMORRHOIDS

The veins enlarged, dilated, varicosed or swollen in the condition called piles or hemorrhoids empty directly into the portal vein which collects blood from the alimentary tract and carries it to the liver. Any engorgement, congestion or overloading of the portal system or the liver therefore predisposes to piles or precipitates an "attack" of piles if one is subject to the trouble. Moreover the hemorrhoidal veins have no valves and so in the upright posture their walls must support the weight or pressure of a column of blood extending from the pile area to the level of the diaphragm or midriff.

Persons subject to hemorrhoids or piles may be unaware of the presence of any trouble unless it happens that the internal varicosity bleeds enough to warn that there is something wrong or becomes inflamed and protrudes or prolapses, or becomes externally thrombosed (clotted) and exceedingly painful. One with piles usually has such "attacks" at intervals: in the intervals between "attacks" the victim may be persuaded the piles have been "cured," but the cure, whether spontaneous or brought about by treatment, lasts until the next "attack."

Sometimes a victim of piles actually achieves a spontaneous or natural cure—the pile becomes externally thrombosed or clotted and inflamed and of course very painful for several days, and finally the clot shrivels or becomes organized into fibrous or scar tissue and obliterates the varicose vein in the process of healing—a permanent cure of that particular hemorrhoid.

Whether cured by nature or by surgery or by diathermy or by injection treatment, the obliteration of one pile or hemorrhoid is no greater assurance against future development of piles or hemorrhoids than the patient had before the first attack. If the original causative factors are not corrected new piles may develop as readily as did the original pile. People are pretty dumb. They actually expect obliteration of piles to immunize them against any such trouble in future.

There is practically nothing the victim can do for bleeding piles except to remain quiet and keep off the feet until care can be had, and the sooner the source of the bleeding is determined and the hemorrhoid, if that is the trouble, obliterated, the better. No such case is properly or honestly treated without visual examination by means of speculum and suitable light and whatever treatment may be indicated directly to the source of the bleeding. If your doctor falls short of this, he is incompetent and does not deserve your confidence. Clearly it would be folly to employ remedies against hemorrhoids or piles if the bleeding happens to be from some other source, and that can be determined in any case only by proper examination.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

BY PAUL MALLON.

NEW WHISKERS WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Well-inspired talk is still going around concerning the possibility of a revival of the old AAA or a constitutional amendment for federal crop control. The matter is in the study stage. Anything may come out of it. But what is more likely to come out of it than either of these widely discussed possibilities is simply this:

An amendment to the soil conservation act may be sought at the coming session of congress repealing the part which provides for the states to take over soil administration January 1, 1938. This would leave administration in federal hands. Benefit payments would continue as at present, but on a reorganized basis, especially as to wheat.

The wheat surplus may reach about 300,000,000 next year, due largely to the fact that wheat farmers have been getting benefit payments for curtailing their sideline crops other than wheat. This practice would be eliminated, and wheat put on the same basis as cotton and tobacco. Legislation would not be required for this change.

Such a reorganization, of course, would just be dressing up the old AAA in new whiskers. It would be production control in a new guise.

CIRCULATION The triple A lawyers would rely upon the tone and extent of the new whiskers to prevent the supreme court from penetrating the disguise.

First, the benefits would be on a condition-grant basis. There would be no contract between government and farmer. The farmer could get his payment by proving he had improved his soil through devoting certain acreage to alfalfa, clover, etc.

Secondly, there would be no processing taxes, at least no direct ones. Hence, there would be no particular group of taxpayers to bring suit and get a case into the courts. The money would come out of the treasury till, under an annual appropriation by congress, so the court would not be in the same strategic position to consider or enforce a decision, as under the old AAA. As congress would do the appropriating each year, it might be able to change the wording of the appropriation to conform to a court decision, if one ever came, etc., etc., etc. So think the AAA-ers.

Some variation of the outline will undoubtedly be adopted, because above all things, the AAA-ers are determined upon two purposes: (a) To accomplish some form of production control, and (b) to have the federal government do it.

INNOCENCE ABROAD Some War Department official had a mental lapse when he authorized the announcement of improvements to be made in the seaplane harbor at Midway Island. At least, the navy thought so. The beards of all admirals turned skyward in unison when the information was given out. The navy knew nothing, did not want to know anything and denied everything. Apparently they were afraid of what Japan would think.

As a matter of fact, there was nothing to it. It all happened this way:

Pan-American Airways promoted a resolution in congress last session authorizing surveys by the army engineers of possible seaplane landing facilities at various points along their new route to the Philippines. Now P.-A. may be interested in national defense, but it is primarily interested in P.-A. It wanted to make use of Pacific harbor facilities for its own commercial planes. Of course, its representatives did not stress that, but naturally played up the national defense angle to impress congressmen.

Congress authorized the surveys. The engineers are now reporting in favor of improvements, not only at Midway, but at Wake. And they want not only to improve the harbors but to build seaplane basins, protective breakwaters, etc.

The basin at Midway is to be only eight feet deep and 1,200 feet square, however, and could not house enough navy seaplanes to disturb the birds, much less the Japanese.

COMMERCE The ensuing press racket is about all you will hear on the Pacific island mess. Certainly you will not hear an official protest from Japan.

The Japanese are the ones who started perfecting the "commercial facilities" of the Pacific, especially in islands where there is no commerce worth mentioning. They have dug out all their mandated island harbors, not to the depth of 8 to 20 feet for seaplanes, but deep enough for ships, including battleships.

The next thing you know, someone may be erecting 20-inch guns out in the middle of the Pacific for the commercial purpose of consuming powder.

THOUGHTS President Roosevelt is certainly thinking along Jeffersonian lines regarding his second inaugural ceremony. Someone asked him how simple he intended the simiplicity of it to be, whereupon he responded that he did not know yet whether he would just "go up and hitch my auto to a tree."

Contrary to the popular notion, Jefferson did not hitch his horse to the capitol fence. He strolled up from his boarding house a few hundred yards away.

The conveyance may be immaterial. He did bury government by the colonial aristocracy forever after he got there.

One Troop of Disciplined Veterans Will Herd Thousands of the Rabble

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

Two expressions often heard in time of trouble are these: "Why doesn't somebody do something?" and "There ought to be a law."

Many earnest citizens, including capable women, will add another: "I wish I had the power to run things for a while. I'd straighten out that mess."

The desire to "run things" is as universal as ambition and self-confidence. Wherever you find injustice, abuse of authority, contempt for law or waste and inefficiency, people of character and understanding long for the power to crack down on the guilty and teach them the fear of God.

When one of these outraged and ambitious souls has the qualities necessary to attract a following, the result is a dictator.

Any person of ordinary good sense, given a modicum of executive ability and the knack of learning fast, can make good as a dictator. His plans are not thwarted by the schemes of big shots or the inertia of the multitude. He has almost divine power. He wills that a thing shall happen and it happens. The nation is no longer kept in profitless turmoil by the ambitions, greeds, fears and strivings of conflicting interests. Everything and everybody is harnessed to do his will and conform to his plans, and the whole nation becomes as unified, mechanical and efficient as the organization of an industrial monopoly.

But while the scheme works sweetly, there is a price, as usual, to be paid for everything gained.

By threat of force, endless propaganda and judicious hangings, the dictator must convince his people that liberty is harmful and wasteful and inefficient and therefore an enemy of the fatherland to be hated by all good patriots.

When the people have swallowed that doctrine, willingly or unwillingly, they are primed for the grand climax. They are ideal cannon fodder. Theirs not to reason why; theirs but to do or die. They will take orders and let the dictator do the thinking.

That is the situation in Europe—dictators who know what they want and have both the power and the reckless courage to act quickly and without mercy, and opposing them only democracies torn by conflicting interests, fearful, hesitant, dreading loss of money, confused by politics, unable to agree or act in unison. Wolves facing a flock of milling sheep.

Democracy faces Armageddon. Lovers of liberty everywhere must forget their differences and unite to save freedom or surrender the world to the kind of "efficiency" that is slavery.

Saxophone Inventor.

Antoine Joseph Sax was born in Dinant, Belgium, of German parents. He had, however, become a French resident when, at 21, he discovered a new principle in the making of musical instruments, namely that it is the porportions given to a column of air vibrating in a sonorous tube that determine the timbre. Hence the wide throat of saxophone which he invented. Two other instruments he devised, saxhorn and saxotrombas, have been less popular. The saxophone is the only instrument of which the U. S. is principal producer. About 40 per cent of the band instruments exported from this country are saxophones.

Bloodiest War.

America's bloodiest war began on the date that was to be celebrated as the end of the world's worse conflict. Even most costly in human life, in proportion to the populations involved, than the North America War Between the States, which was then in progress, was the South American war between Paraguay and Brazil. When it began Paraguay's population was 1,330,000. When it ended, Paraguay had only 221,000, of which 106,000 were women, 86,000 were children, and only 29,000 were men—mostly aged and crippled!

OFF THE RECORD - By Ed Reed

FAIR ENOUGH

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

Government Sport Bureau. NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—There is talk of a government ministry of sports and, conquering an old superstition, I now believe it could be a good thing provided it could be kept non-political and reasonably honest as to graft in the presence of strong temptation. Under efficient, honest supervision, sport would attract more participants than nowadays and there is no reason why this country should imitate the Germans and Italians who use sport frankly to develop cannon-fodder and the brood-stock to produce more cannon-fodder. There is something beastly about the deliberate purpose of building up young women to physical symmetry and strength so that they may bear sound recruits for war and the American attitude toward motherhood is too poetic ever to accept it.

But there can be no doubt that sport would improve the breed of people in this country in the physical sense if brought to the people by the government because, for all our vaunted athleticism, we are, on the whole, a scrubby lot who point with pride to a small element of famous athletes and kid ourselves into a proud belief that they represent the general run of Americans. Some idealists argue that the mind improves with the body but that is just a wall motto as every athletic director knows. Some of our great athletes have been Phi Beta Kappas but more have been great dumb, lumps of meat and bone. The mental average of those who got famous on the sport page probably is no more than a decimal point above or below that of people who never made a team.

Don't Play Enough The opportunity for a government ministry or department of sport lies in the fact that comparatively few Americans play any game often enough. Most of those who do play are young but that doesn't even mean that all the young ones have a chance to play. Initiative is lacking and organization could supply the initiative, the facilities and the program, enlisting in sport not only youth but a great element of men of mature years who are still young enough to play in their spare time.

It is true that we have organizations now but our Olympic authorities made a messy failure of their responsibility last summer and the limit was reached when Jesse Owens, the negro runner, was declared to be no amateur merely because he refused to give a command performance to the intense social embarrassment of the nabobs who had promised to produce him without consulting his desires.

The amateurism of lawn tennis has been a spectacular fake for 20 years with professional amateurs, mainly women, earning better returns, one way or another, than most professional fighters and ball players. In amateur boxing, thousands of kids slam one another for the private profit of individuals and stockholders corporations posing as clubs. And college football has become a flagrant reproach to the moral honesty of institutions which are supposed to set a decent example to the young and a robust disgrace to the teaching profession whose most august members annually put their names to false affidavits knowing them to be false.

Morals Couldn't Be Worse The morals of our sport could hardly be much worse under government supervision and they would be decidedly improved if a ministry or department of sport were to abolish entirely not only the distinction between amateurs and professionals but the very word "amateur" itself. This would be good riddance because nobody knows what it means except that it does mean hypocrisy. Then all competitions would be "open," the necessity for polite perjury would be eliminated and the matter of a player's earnings would be something strictly for himself, his paymaster and the tax collector. True, some of our Olympic friends might object but then most of them use many cunning tricks to disguise their pros as amateurs and, anyway the Olympics are becoming a great political racket in which the players represent not nations but political forms and Caesars. It would not be a bad idea to establish an Olympic debating tournament for the discussion of political systems but to clutter up the sporting arena with childish political salutes, goose-steps, swastikas, sledge-hammers and dingbats is to distort the occasion.

Select the Best Team But, whether we go to the Olympics or merely play occasional international meets with friendly, civilized nations, we ought to have some efficient way of developing, selecting and conducting the best possible American team. Private organizations have now demonstrated that the job has outgrown them. They fall far short of developing sport to the utmost, for many sections are absolutely barren and when they do scrape a team together it is by no means the best of which we are capable and is wretchedly mishandled.

The purpose of a department of sport, as I see it, would be to promote sport for the good of the people and the purpose of the big tournaments would be to honor the star performers in the name of their country and thus inspire the rest of the players.

I haven't worked out the details because I am not a detail man. I merely toss out big central ideas.

Press of State and Nation Pay Tribute to Clark Howell

A BRIGHT LIGHT EXTINGUISHED

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Journalism lost one of its most distinguished, and one of its finest, exponents when Clark Howell, editor and publisher of The Atanta Constitution, passed into the beyond.

Born in the midst of the Civil War, he was a representative both of the old south and the new south at their best—a gracious southern gentleman, in all the fine qualities that term implies, and yet a progressive spirit that constantly sought and labored for the advancement of the south. Indeed, few men have done as much as he for the promotion of southern interests. And yet he was no sectionalist. He inherited the spirit of Henry Grady and realized, and constantly taught, that the welfare of the south, as the welfare of the north, the east or the west, is dependent upon the welfare of the nation as a whole. That is to say, he was above all things an American.

He was one of those who gave a touch of glory to journalism and not only to journalism but to American citizenship.

AN EDITOR OF THE OLD SCHOOL

(From the Chattanooga Times.)

With the death of Mr. Clark Howell Sr. one of the last of the editors of the "old school" has passed.

It may be said of Mr. Howell that there were two natures struggling within him. If his love for people and his interest in all political happenings often held his attention, he was at the same time vitally interested in all the details of his newspaper.

SET A RARE EXAMPLE

(From the New York Herald Tribune)

The name of Clark Howell will long stand out among the ablest American journalists of our times. The greatness of The Atlanta Constitution is largely due to his personality, despite the fact that his father had brought it from obscurity to success. He combined ruggedness with intelligence and modesty. A hard fighter, he was, nevertheless, a fair fighter. A man of simple tastes, he was also shrewd and perspicacious. His interests went far beyond his home town and state. They ranged beyond journalism. Although a Democrat, Republican presidents turned to him for advice and honored him with appointments. He never hesitated to use his newspaper in the support of good causes, even though in so doing he risked annoying members of his own party. He set an example of independence and fearlessness in journalism which was rarely equaled in our day.

May The Constitution long endure as a monument to the man who made it great!

WELL-FILLED CAREER OF ACHIEVEMENT

(From the Baltimore Sun.)

During Mr. Howell's incumbency as editor and publisher, The Constitution continued the progress of its earlier years and remained in the new south as it had been in the old, one of the great organs of public opinion.

Mr. Howell interested himself in politics as well as in journalism. He was a member of the Georgia legislature and of the Democratic national committee, and he served on a number of important national commissions by appointment of Presidents Harding and Hoover. He had rounded out a well-defined career of accomplishment, which will remain a monument to his name, but he will be missed in the newspaper world as well as in those public circles in which he had for so long been a familiar figure.

SPOKESMAN FOR THE SOUTH

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

A great figure in American journalism passed when Clark Howell died at Atlanta yesterday. Born in South Carolina in 1863, he knew as a youth the horrors of the reconstruction era and saw the slow and painful emergence of the new south, no longer the south of the planter and agriculturist, but a land becoming industrialized. He knew and interpreted both eras. He knew the north as well. His first newspaper experience was on the New York Times but within a year he had returned to Atlanta there to remain until his death, associated with The Atlanta Constitution.

Mr. Howell was fearless and outspoken; he had the courage to tell President Hoover that nothing the administration could do would check the depression, then in its early stages.

He will be remembered, not primarily for his services in public life, but for his long career as a militant and distinguished publisher and editor, a champion of civic righteousness who fought with tongue and pen.

"CLARK HOWELL OF THE CONSTITUTION"

(From the Hartford Courant.)

In the death of Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, journalism in the United States loses one of its foremost figures.

His services to his profession were not confined to his own paper, nor were his services to the public limited to his state. As a director of the Associated Press since its reorganization in 1901, he contributed largely to the efficiency of a service that has expanded steadily. He served notably on a number of federal commissions.

But it will be as a vigorous, independent, courageous editor that Mr. Howell will be best remembered. He became editor of The Atlanta Constitution at a time when the old school, best exemplified by "Marse Henry" Watterson, was on the way out. As one of the early leaders of the modern school, he helped to blaze the trail of development and improvement that journalism has followed. His death is a loss to a profession that he loved and honored.

"A LOSS TO THE SOUTH."

(From the Nashville Banner.)

Georgia and the section of which that state has always been an important factor lost a conspicuous figure in the death early this morning of Clark Howell, veteran editor of The Constitution, and no less a loss was he to the journalistic field, not only in Dixie but in the country at large. The Banner joins The Constitution and other Georgia newspapers in an expression of loss sustained in the passing of this widely and justly esteemed exponent of the highest elements of journalism.

His life from its beginning to its end was a credit to his name, to his city, his state, and to the journalistic field in which his manhood was spent and which he so distinctly ornamented.

"CLARK HOWELL PASSES ON."

(From The Spartanburg Herald-Journal.)

The death of Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution, in an Atlanta hospital yesterday, closed a distinguished career.

Few American newspapermen were more widely known than Clark Howell. He was interested in state and national politics but only once or twice was he a candidate for office. He held many positions of trust, one or more of which took him abroad. He was a forceful writer and was thoroughly trained in every department of newspaper work. A great believer in the south and its resources, Mr. Howell worked unceasingly for new industries, improved agriculture, modern highways and better schools. His career was closely identified with the growth of his state and city.

"A POWER TO THE LAST."

(From the Asheville Citizen-Times.)

Born to a great tradition, trained as a journalist under Henry W. Grady, associated all his life with the flower of southern manhood and womanhood, placed in his early youth in command of the great newspaper whose fame had already spread throughout the nation, it was not strange that Clark Howell came so soon to be looked upon as one of the south's most representative and responsible spokesmen. That place he continued to occupy until his death yesterday. He was a power forty years ago when he was still in his early thirties. He was a power to the last.

But Clark Howell was more than a power. He was a man who was as widely loved as he was respected. His blows when he had occasion to strike them, for the men and the causes he supported, against the men and the causes he opposed, were blows that resounded.

But it is not for these qualities that he will be remembered so much as for the kindliness of his heart, the graciousness of his manner, the loyalty of his friendship, the fidelity with which he held to those ideals in which he had been nurtured, the strength of his devotion to Georgia and the south, the breadth of his love for the nation, the fine spirit of tolerance and of service that flowed from him in such generous measure.

LAST OF EDITORIAL STALWARTS.

(From the Tifton Gazette.)

The death of Editor Clark Howell, Sr. removed one of the most distinguished figures in Georgia journalism. Editor Howell had long been one of the leading editors of the south and a power in Georgia journalism and political affairs. He had served for several terms as Democratic national committeeman from Georgia and was elected this year for another term. For many years, he had been a director of The Associated Press and was considered one of the outstanding editors of the south. His passing removes the last of the editorial stalwarts of the old regime in Georgia.

"A FINE SOUTHERN GENTLEMAN."

(From the Augusta Herald.)

We are moved to render this inadequate eulogy of Mr. Howell, though, because of our impressions of him as a fine southern gentleman rather than as a national figure.

A man of impressive friendliness and gracious charm, winning to himself all with whom he came in contact, Editor Howell was a man who will be remembered with admiration and respect.

His record as a publisher will show that in spite of his natural friendliness he was a man of high courage and one who did not hesitate to strike out valiantly in defense of his convictions. His paper has long been recognized as a leader in the southern field and it often commands the attention of the nation.

BEST KNOWN GEORGIAN.

(From the Savannah Times.)

An outstanding citizen of his state, active in its financial, commercial, and political affairs, Clark Howell Sr. made his impress upon the times in which he lived. His death removes one of Georgia's first citizens. One who has diligently striven to forward the best interests of the state which he loved so well, and which, in return, gave to him during the years, constant evidence of their abiding faith in the many honors placed upon him.

As editor of The Atlanta Constitution, it may well be said of him, his marked ability won for him a place in the annals of journalism in Georgia not equaled by any man during his time and day. His keen insight into affairs of state, his thorough understanding of men and measures, and his insight into human nature placed him in position where he was no doubt the best known nationally of any man connected with the press in Georgia.

"A GREAT GEORGIAN PASSES"

(From the Augusta Chronicle.)

The death of Honorable Clark Howell Sr., of Atlanta, yesterday morning has cast a pall of gloom over the Capital City and the entire state of Georgia, while news of the passing of this redoubtable Democratic veteran will have its repercussion in the Capital City of our Nation and throughout a vast area of the United States.

A gentle, kindly man he was nevertheless an editor of strong convictions and rugged honesty. He always held The Constitution true to the Democratic faith and fought enemies from within and without the party relentlessly.

The close friend of President Roosevelt, Democratic Chairman James A. Farley and of many men renowned in the affairs of the nation, the death of Mr. Howell will bring sadness throughout the nation. A great Atlantan, a great Georgian, a great American has been called unto the Father and we hope that:

"After life's fitful fever,

DEATH A CALAMITY

(From the Brunswick News.)

The death of this fine Georgian brings to an end a career brilliant and distinguished in which, as the editor of one of the leading newspapers of the south, he had opportunity to contribute largely and most valuably to the growth and development of his native state which he loved devotedly and tenderly.

As editor of The Constitution, he made of that great newspaper an outstanding medium in the nation, bold and courageous in defending those things that appealed as being righteous causes and fighting the things that appeared to the contrary. Under his able leadership and personal guidance The Constitution never found it necessary to straddle when great issues had been at stake. He has been outspoken in the defense of the Democratic party, as he has boldly attacked those who would defame it. Indeed, he has made The Constitution an institution in Georgia, battling always with signal ability for the righteous side of every issue.

To those people who knew and loved Clark Howell, as this writer did, there was something infinitely fine in his splendid character, in his fine disposition and in that cordiality in which he loved his fellow man. Modest and yet courageous when courage became necessary, he was one of those cheerful, delightful spirits who pervaded the very atmosphere in which he moved and drew close to his heart thousands of friends, who loved him because they knew and understood him.

The passing of this well beloved and distinguished Georgian will cause intense heartaches all over the state, for no man was better loved or held in higher esteem and while he lived to be 73 years of age, his death seems to us untimely if not calamitous.

JACK L. VAUGHAN FINAL RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Jack L. Vaughn, Atlanta insurance executive who fell to his death Sunday from the seventh floor of the Peters building, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes.

The Rev. C. R. Stauffer will officiate and burial will be in West View cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Robert Webster, Dr. R. E. Baldwin, Charles Yates, R. S. Gatchell, T. F. Heminger and G. S. Radford.

A coroner's jury called yesterday fixed the cause of death as the fall but did not report whether or not it found the fall accidental.

INSURANCE COMPANY LOSES SUIT APPEAL

Acceptance of Premiums Overdue Held Waiver of Strict Policy Terms.

The Georgia court of appeals held yesterday continued acceptance of overdue premiums by an insurance company may alter the terms of a policy.

Fredia Campbell, whose husband was killed in an accident, sued the Commercial Casualty Company on April 20, 1936, in the municipal court of Atlanta for $1,390 on an accident policy.

The company objected on grounds the policy had lapsed because the premiums had not been paid on the first of the month, the due date.

The plaintiff claimed the company had accepted payments for 30 months between the 15th and 26th of each month.

The court said:

"This conduct by the company is to be construed as a waiver of the strict terms of the contract . . . rather than a monthly annihilation and revival of the policy.

"If this (the company's) contention were sustained, the result would be that the company might allow payment of the premium on the next to the last day of each month, in which case the insurance would be in force only 36 days in three years, although the company would have the right to collect and would collect the full amount of premiums for 1,095 days.

"In the present case it appears the company received payment for fully three years although the policy was in force for only one-third of that term.

"If allowed, this would create a penalty of 200 per cent in the cost of insurance actually had."

When the case was heard by Judge T. O. Hathcock in municipal court May 26, 1936, he refused to dismiss it. The court of appeals upheld him in this ruling.

NEGRO GETS JAIL TERM AS LIQUOR CAR DRIVER

Two Officers Were Injured in Crash Caused by Hirston's Wild Driving.

Convicted of possessing whisky, speeding and failing to stop after an accident, Jimmie Hirston, 24, negro, was sentenced to serve a total of two years yesterday in Fulton criminal court.

Hirston was found guilty of being the driver of a liquor car which forced the automobile of County Policemen G. C. Bentley and C. T. Speir off the road November 2 when they attempted to stop the negro. Both policemen were injured.

A. D. Whatley and Pierce Howard, negroes, who were occupants of the car which Hirston drove, were given 12-month sentences which Judge Jesse M. Wood suspended.

SUIT THROWN OUT ON TECHNICALITY

Failure To Register Trade Name Held Bar to Action on Debt.

The Georgia court of appeals held yesterday a company under a trade name cannot maintain a suit for a bill of goods when the trade name is not properly registered.

A. P. Solomon Jr., trading as the Tybee Contracting Company, sued Mrs. Cecil Carter in Savannah municipal court for balance of $118.90 on a bill for paint, plumbing, fixtures and labor.

Mrs. Carter said the company's trade name had not been registered with the clerk of the superior court under the Georgia fictitious or trade name act until after the suit had been brought.

Judge Emanuel Lewis of the municipal court dismissed her contention and was upheld by Judge John Rourke Jr., in superior court.

The court of appeals said Mrs. Carter had made out a good defense to the suit and overruled both judges.

TYPOGRAPHER DIES

'Muscogee Red' Redmond Won Name by Drinking Ink.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The obituary "Muscogee Red" prepared for himself 31 years ago was published today, but the predictions of the middlewest's best known itinerant printer did not come to pass.

Andrew "Muscogee Red" Redmond died yesterday in the comparative luxury of the International Typographical Union's Home here at the age of 79.

"Muscogee Red has passed on," Redmond wrote in the yellowed obituary. "They found him one morning cold in death. The coroner's jury gathered quickly, rendered a verdict of death from chronic alcoholism and the undertaker hauled the body to a convenient potters field."

A familiar figure in most midcontinent newspaper shops, Muscogee Red won his sobriquet, a former associate recalled, by drinking a bottle of red ink on the desk of the Muscogee, Okla., police judge to prove his boasts of a "cast iron stomach."

Redmond prepared the obituary for Jay House, Topeka, Kan., and Philadelphia columnist who died early this year at Topeka, where he once was mayor. Redmond reformed in his closing years and House lived to comment on the change.

CONSTITUTION CONTROL GOES TO HOWELL'S SON

The will of Clark Howell Sr., offered for probate yesterday, disclosed that his son, Major Clark Howell Jr., will have control of The Atlanta Constitution.

The document showed Major Howell bought his father's stock in the newspaper prior to the latter's death, making the son the majority stockholder.

No value was placed on the estate, which was left to relatives.

BROWN WILL FILL SENATOR COUZENS' POST

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, of Michigan, today appointed Prentiss M. Brown, Democratic senator-elect, to fill the unexpired term of the late Republican Senator James Couzens.

Brown, now representative from Michigan's eleventh congressional district, was named to the senate in the recent general election, defeating former Governor Wilbur M. Rucker, Republican.

Prosperous Yuletide Is Indicated By Early Buying in Local Stores

Flood of Cash From Business Bonuses, Dividends and Savings Club Promises Boom in Trade as Money Is Circulated.

Atlanta is preparing for the biggest Christmas since way before pre-depression days, if advance sales in local stores can be used as a criterion.

Aiding citizens making the coming Christmas a big one are the big corporations which have announced pay increases and holiday bonuses for their employes—giving each a share in increased profits shown in their business during the past fiscal year.

Thousands in the city will receive their share of a $100,000 Christmas club fund at local banks within the next two weeks, bank officials estimated yesterday. Thus still more money will be added to the Christmas trade fund.

Christmas Sales Beginning.

In most downtown stores Christmas goods are just being placed on sale. Other stores will not bring forth their strictly Yuletide wares until after the Thanksgiving season.

One downtown department store opened its toy department over the week end and announced a 20 per cent increase in trade in this department over the first two days of the season last year.

Officials of banks estimated approximately 50 per cent of the Christmas saving club funds will be spent on merchandise for the holiday season and the remainder will be used to pay debts, insurance, taxes and other obligations that have accumulated during the past 12 months—thus giving Christmas funds to still others.

Business On Upgrade.

All stores report an increased seasonal business which the majority of them seek to attribute to a general business improvement that will continue even after the Christmas rush season is over—at least that is their hope.

Advance orders for goods to be put aside until days closer to Christmas are the most numerous during the past 15 years, one official declared.

And from all sides come reports of increased, and anticipated increased, Yuletide trading for better quality goods and little odds and ends people have in the past been denying themselves—a new coat for mother, new furniture, and on down the line.

Prosperity seems to be planning a big Christmas for Atlanta.

AIMEE'S TEMPLE VOIDS CONTRACT WITH ANGEL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Rheba Crawford, evangelist known as the "Angel of Broadway," was notified by letter today that her $600 monthly contract as associate pastor of Angelus temple has been cancelled.

Miss Crawford, who is recuperating from a slight illness in a Glendale sanitarium, said she turned the letter over to her attorney, Joseph Fainer, "for consideration."

Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor and founder of the temple, refused to discuss reports that such a letter had been mailed to the former "Angel of Broadway."

"I have nothing to say about the letter nor about Miss Crawford," she said. "There is a clause in my contract with Sister Crawford which prevents either of us from saying anything derogatory against the other."

WHO SERVES PROGRESS SERVES AMERICA!

A Record Investment in Progress

YOU are invited to view the new 1937 automobiles of the General Motors family now in the showrooms of General Motors dealers everywhere.

We believe these new cars represent a sound example of progress with stability—another stride forward in the steady march by General Motors engineers toward higher utility and outstanding value.

A significant new feature of these 1937 cars is the Unisteel Body by Fisher. An extension of the turret top principle, this advanced construction fuses top, bottom and sides of the body structure together into one single rigid unit of steel.

Safety and silence are greatly increased by this more solid construction, and important contributions are permitted to comfort, roominess, and style as well.

Refinements have also been made in the direction of a further increase in economy of operation and maintenance, and these betterments are supported by such familiar and time-tested General Motors features as knee-action, improved hydraulic brakes, the turret top and no-draft ventilation.

But progress in the way of product improvement is only secured through the coordination of many factors.

It is an accepted principle of sound industrial management that good products can only be produced by good tools, in which have been incorporated the most efficient practices known to research and engineering.

In line with this principle, and in preparation for our new 1937 production, General Motors has this year made an all-time record investment in plant modernization and for new tools, dies and machinery.

These improved facilities enable us to offer better products at the same or lower prices, which in turn should stimulate consumption and thereby provide more jobs and increased opportunities and benefits to workers.

In passing directly into the channels of trade these expenditures have stimulated employment in many lines. This is true particularly in the heavy industries where the recovery processes have hitherto lagged and where an important part of our national unemployment has centered.

This again suggests the great opportunity that exists of rebuilding America's productive facilities through replacing obsolete plants and machinery with modern equipment, thus offering a fundamental solution for the current problem of creating more jobs for more people.

It is significant, too, that the benefits of this General Motors investment in progress have not been limited to any one area, but have been spread through many parts of the country, through the establishment of new plants in many additional communities.

By such decentralizing of its manufacturing operations and thus distributing buying power to more and more communities, General Motors feels it is helpful toward the development of a more balanced national economy.

All depressions uncover opportunities of advancing the social and economic status of the community. The depression through which the world has just passed is no exception to the rule. These opportunities should be recognized as stimulants of progress. Important among them is the necessity of assuring greater stability and permanence of employment, not only from the standpoint of the human factors involved, but from the standpoint of maintaining greater continuity of purchasing power.

An important step in this direction was taken by the automotive industry last year, whereby new models were introduced in November rather than in January. The objective was more uniform sales throughout the year and consequently steadier work and increased annual earnings for the workers.

Another important step has been tempering the seasonal variations with their adverse influence on continuity of employment by the building of inventory of component parts, so far as that is practical, during periods of reduced consumer demand.

The benefits of these policies are by no means confined to the workers directly involved, but exert a favorable influence throughout the whole national economy, affecting not only the workers in many other supplying industries but the great army concerned with distribution and manufacturing as well. Thus is established a new measure of industrial progress.

The current advance of the nation toward recovery gives promise of continued good business in 1937.

To the extent that industry and the country at large move forward aggressively with sound principles as their guiding inspiration, will America attain progress with stability.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr.
PRESIDENT,

FIVE PERSONS PERISH AS FIRE SWEEPS HOME

IRWIN, Pa., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Firemen dug the burned bodies of four children and their 21-year-old brother from ruins of their home in Hahntown, a little mining town early today.

None could be recognized.

They died last night after flames swept through the two-story frame home of Michael Gubanic, a miner.

Fire Chief Ward Peters, of Irwin, led firemen from three communities in an unsuccessful effort to halt the flames.

ART WILLIAMS, 2 AIDES START REDFERN HUNT

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Art Williams and two companions took off at dawn today in an amphibian plane for British Guiana where they will continue their search for the missing flier, Paul Redfern.

Aided by the plane, the former army pilot plans to track down rumors that Redfern is still alive in the Guiana jungles. Flying with him were Charles F. West and John Hunter, of New York.

Redfern disappeared in 1927 while on a flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro.

The fliers expected to reach Port Au Prince, Haiti, tonight.

HEARING SET TODAY.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Railroad and Public Utilities Commission will start hearing evidence tomorrow on an application for approval of a natural gas franchise for Knoxville.

Here's Simple Way to Ease a Cold

Two Quick-Acting, Quick-Dissolving Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a Glass of Water

The modern way to ease a cold is this: Two Bayer Aspirin tablets the moment you feel a cold coming on. Then repeat, if necessary, according to instructions in the box.

At the same time, if you have a sore throat, crush and dissolve three BAYER tablets in one-third glass of water. And gargle with this mixture twice.

The Bayer Aspirin you take internally will act to combat fever and the pains which usually accompany colds. The gargle will act as a medicinal gargle to provide almost instant relief from rawness and pain. It is really marvelous; for it acts like a local anesthetic on the irritated membrane of your throat.

Try this way. Your doctor, we know, will endorse it. For it is a quick, effective means of combating a cold. Ask for Bayer Aspirin by the full name at your druggist's — not for "aspirin" alone.

HEALTH CONDITIONS CITED BY MOSELEY

General Also Raps Georgia for Putting Highways Above Schools.

In a radio address on the Georgia Tech hour last night over WGST, Major General Van Horn Moseley, speaking on "The Price of Liberty," discussed what he termed "the skeletons in Georgia's closet menacing the health and prosperity of the state."

Citing illiteracy and lack of health education as matters of prime importance, General Moseley declared:

"Georgia has spent seventeen millions for good roads, but only nine millions on her schools. Is a concrete highway more important than a proper school for our children?"

"Georgia," he declared, "has the highest typhoid rate in the United States, and the malaria rate has risen in all sections of the state since 1931 with the exception of southeast Georgia."

Declaring that under the Ellis law it is optional for counties to establish health units and employ health officers, he said only 20 per cent of the counties have adopted such measures. He pointed to the large increase in venereal diseases and declared that in Atlanta alone there are approximately 30,000 cases of syphilis.

The per capita expenditure in Georgia for public health work, the general said, is only one-third of that of the next lower southern state.

FAY WEBB VALLEE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

SANTA MONICA, Col., Nov. 16. (AP)—Fay Webb Vallee, former wife of Rudy Vallee, radio and screen singer, was in a critical condition at a hospital here today following a surgical operation, hospital authorities reported.

She underwent the operation Friday and was progressing satisfactorily until last night, when she suffered a relapse.

Friends said Miss Webb had been in ill health several months. Her father, Clarence A. Webb, city police official, obtained a leave of absence and is constantly with her.

KIDNAPED U. S. PRIEST IS REPORTED "SAFE"

TOKYO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Advices from Mukden, Manchoukuo, today said the Maryknoll mission headquarters had received word that the Rev. Father Clarence Joseph Burns, long-kidnaped American priest, and his Chinese servant Wu were safe.

Father Burns, who was kidnaped by Chinese bandits last February 5, is expected at Tunhua, East Manchoukuo, tomorrow.

Fulton Commission Weighs Plan To Abolish 4 of 7 Prison Camps

Board, at Special Session, Instructs County Treasurer To Refuse Payment of Back Pay Claim to Judge Howard, Mandamus Action Looms.

A proposal to reduce the number of prison camps in Fulton county from seven to three was made yesterday by Commissioner George F. Longino at a special session of the county commission, at which Mrs. Mabel Abbot MacNeill, county treasurer, was instructed to refuse payment of $3,166 in back salary to Judge G. H. Howard of Fulton superior court.

It was expected attorneys for Judge Howard will file a mandamus action against the treasurer in an attempt to force payment of his back pay.

The commissioners stated they will make no such restorations without being ordered to do so by a court. "An endless chain" of demands for back pay would result if the commission granted Judge Howard's demand, it was said.

Prison Camp Reduction.

As the commission took up for consideration the recommendations made by the September-October grand jury, Commissioner Longino proposed reduction of the number of prison camps in the county. He is scheduled to hold the important chairmanship of the public works committee next year, suceeding Commissioner Ed Almand.

"Because the Fulton public works department is almost completely motorized now, it is now unnecesasry to maintain seven camps," Longino said.

"We can erect three master prison camps in the county and operate more efficiently and economically than we are now doing," he asserted.

The commissioner declared virtually every unit of the public works department is equipped with trucks, tractors and motorized machinery, and therefore can carry on public works anywhere in the county from three points, one in the southern part of the county, another in the northern end and the third located near the center.

He proposed also to eliminate all wooden structures and to build modern brick barracks and administration offices in the new camps.

Machine Shop Built.

Commissioner Almand pointed out that a fireproof central machine shop is now under construction at Bellwood camp, which he said is being made into a model prison camp. Commissioner Longino's plans call for brick, steel and metal buildings throughout the prison camp system.

"Fulton county can build three master prison camps to care for the needs within a comparatively short time," Longino said. His proposal yesterday was considered an indication of the program he will attempt when he assumes the chairmanship of the public works committee.

At present, Fulton has the following seven camps: River, Sandy Springs, Bellwood, Stonewall, Alpharetta, Ben Hill and South camp. These are in addition to a women's camp on Wieuca road.

Should Longino's plan be put into effect, Bellwood, located on the outskirts of northwest Atlanta, probably would be retained, and one camp would be erected in old Campbell county and one in old Milton county, it was said.

Jury Recommendations.

The commissioners pointed out that several grand jury recommendations already have been put into effect, mainly affecting prison camp discipline and segregation of first from old offenders.

The board voted to send a copy of the presentments touching on camp administration to all wardens and deputy wardens, with the warning that they are directly responsible for the prisoners' conduct. It asked wardens to furnish a list of all "trusties."

Commissioner Almand proposed that a city-county fire station be erected and maintained in Lakewood Heights, to serve residents of both in that vicinity. His resolution was referred to the police committee, headed by Commissioner Edwin F. Johnson, for investigation. Almand said the city owns a lot in Lakewood Heights, where the station could be built.

Regarding the refusal to pay Judge Howard salary reductions made during the depression, Commissioner Longino declared the county could not afford to pay back salaries to all those who were cut then. He said it would "wipe out what saving we have made."

It is expected the mandamus action of Judge Howard will be filed within the next several days, and that a judge from some other superior court will hear it, since all Fulton judges are interested parties.

NEW MORATORIUM LAW TAKEN TO HIGH COURT

Farm Mortgage Act Defended by William Lemke, Co-Author of Statute.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A test of the constitutionality of the revised Frazier-Lemke act, suspending for three years foreclosures on farm mortgages, was filed today in the supreme court.

It was carried to the high tribunal by Robert Page Wright, of Bedford county, Virginia, who numbered among his attorneys Representative William Lemke, of North Dakota, coauthor of the legislation, and presidential candidate of the Union party in the recent election.

The petition was filed after the court had announced whether it would review approximately 30 cases appealed from lower courts and had begun a new week of arguments which probably will include four New Deal controversies. No opinions were read.

Gold Clause Tested.

Permission was granted the government to file a brief as a "friend of the court" in a dispute between the Holyoke, Mass., Water Power Company and the American Writing Paper Company of Massachusetts as to whether the "gold clause" resolution abrogating payment of obligations in gold applies to rental contracts.

The power company leased water rights to the paper company years ago and now is attempting to collect in gold or its equivalent. The first circuit court of appeals ruled that the $28,874 sought could be paid in the present devaluated currency. This case is likely to be argued late this week.

Other controversies to be debated earlier, probably beginning Wednesday, involve the 50 per cent tax on silver profits made before the silver purchase act became effective; the presidential embargo on shipment of arms to Bolivia and Paraguay for their Chaco war; and the Ashurst-Sumners act to require labelling of prison-made goods.

Decisions Due December 7.

Decisions in these cases and an announcement as to whether the new test of the Frazier-Lemke act will be reviewed are possible on December 7. The court will meet next Monday to deliver any opinions ready and then will adjourn for two weeks.

In the Frazier-Lemke case, Wright sought a review of a decision by the fourth circuit court of appeals holding the act unconstitutional.

A month ago the supreme court refused to review another case involving the legislation, filed by the Phoenix Joint Stock Land Bank of Kansas City. The western Missouri federal district court held the act constitutional and the bank sought a supreme court review without waiting for a decision by the eighth circuit court of appeals.

A somewhat similar five-year act was held unconstitutional by the supreme court on the ground that it deprived creditors of property rights. The present law was enacted as a substitute.

ENTIRE TOWN OF SIX WIPED OUT BY KILLER

TIELAND, Sask., Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—The bodies of six persons, comprising the entire resident population of this tiny railway settlement, lay in an improvised morgue tonight pending a coroner's inquest into their apparently violent deaths.

Police said they believed three men, a woman and a child were victims of the rage of a former railway section worker, Carl Sheits, whose body was found on a near-by railway track. How he died was not known.

Carl Nelson, John Marcinu and George Ruel were shot to death, police said, while Mrs. Nelson and three-year-old Edward Nelson were clubbed to death. Officers expressed the opinion Sheits killed them with the butt of a rifle found near his body.

U. S. METEOROLOGIST, M. W. HAYES, PASSES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Montrose W. Hayes, 62, principal meteorologist and head of the river and flood division of the weather bureau here since 1929, died of pneumonia today at his home here.

Hayes, a native of Charlotte, N. C., entered the weather bureau service in 1892 as observer. Shortly after the Spanish-American War he assisted in the organization of the hurricane warning service in the West Indies, serving at Havana, Cuba, from January, 1899, to July, 1902, in this work.

Film in Technicolor Is Showing at Georgia

With screen innovations introduced in elaborate profusion "Dancing Pirate," the first feature-length musical comedy-drama ever filmed in the new technicolor process, makes its local debut at the Georgia theater today.

Among the innovations is an idea termed "imaginative coloring," designed by Robert Edmond Jones, long regarded as the foremost authority in America on stage settings, color and lighting effects. It represents Hollywood's initial attempt to use color as it has been employed for centuries by the greatest of painters and is said to have resulted in clearer images, more reality and complete removal of the dazzling gaudiness which characterized earlier color pictures.

Another innovation is the complete synchronization of color, music and dancing, by which color schemes are employed to add symphonic harmony to spectacular terpsichorean ensembles.

Beyond these and other important artistic features, the production boasts a fine featured cast including the screen's new dancing star, Charles Collins, from the New York and London stage; Frank Morgan in the type of comedy he handles best; Steffi Duna, dynamic ingenue; Victor Varconi, Jack LaRue and the Royal Cansinos, formerly command entertainers to the king and queen of Spain, and impressive dancing ensembles.

The story, romantic and colorful, deals with the adventures of a young Boston dancing master, who is shanghaied for sea duty, captured by pirates and finally landed on the shores of Spanish California, where he escapes.

GUESTS AND EMPLOYES HELD UP AT HOSPITAL

Woman Superintendent Fires at Trio Which Gets $4,000 Pay Roll.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Three bandits who dodged a fusillade of bullets from the pistol of the woman superintendent, held up 14 visitors and employes at the Methodist Episcopal hospital late today, and fled with a pay roll estimated between $3,000 and $4,000.

Half-a-dozen hospital employes, mostly women, were behind the office counter when the gunmen walked in. Eight visitors were seated in the room.

Miss May A. Middleton, 54, superintendent, said each of the bandits was masked by a handkerchief and carried a pistol.

While one guarded the exist, another commanded the employes, and the third scooped up the cash.

Miss Middleton seized her pistol as the bandits fled, and fired at them from an open window. The sedan roared away in the dusk as a patrolman dispatched to guard the pay roll arrived at the hospital.

The hold-up apparently was timed for execution before the policeman's customary arrival.

Assistant Superintendent of Police James Taylor, who took charge of the case, said only a few of the employes had received their pay envelopes from the vault. The complete pay roll totaled $4,000, he said.

Taylor said descriptions by the victims indicated each of the bandits was between 20 and 25 years old.

FUNERAL RITES TODAY FOR CHASON C. WILKES

Prominent Atlanta Steamship Agent Killed as Auto Overturns.

Funeral services for Chason C. Wilkes, 34, commercial agent for the Eastern Steamship Lines here, who was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding overturned on the Bankhead highway near Bremen, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son.

The Rev. A. Lee Hall will officiate and burial will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Wilkes, who lived at 11 Sheridan drive, had been a resident of this city for about 14 years. He was a native of Donalsonville, Ga., where he retained membership in the Methodist church.

He was a member of the Brookhaven Country Club, Capital City Club, Atlanta Passenger Club, serving as a director, and the Traffic Club of Atlanta.

Mr. Wilkes began his association with the steamship company following positions with the A. & W. P. railroad, Atlanta Terminal Company and Witt Construction Company.

He started as a stenographer with the steamship firm, and then became traveling freight agent. He was appointed as supervisor of solicitation in seven southern states in 1932.

Mrs. Wilkes was with him at the time of the accident, but was unhurt. J. H. Hampton, driver of the car, suffered bruises. The accident occurred as Hampton attempted to avoid striking a truck.

BAPTIST CONVENTION WILL CONVENE TODAY

1,200 Delegates Are Expected To Attend Annual Session at Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Georgia Baptist leaders conferred here tonight on matters for presentation to the convention which opens tomorrow afternoon.

Nearly 1,200 delegates are expected. This will include practically all Baptist ministers in Georgia and a large number of lay leaders.

Conferences of various important boards were held tonight.

Dr. T. F. Callaway, of Thomasville, president of the conference, will preside. Sessions continue through Thursday morning. Election of officers will be held at the final session after the nominating committee, headed by George C. Gibson, of Columbus, reports.

Reports of the executive committee, the committee on benevolences and the brotherhood committee will be heard tomorrow.

The executive report will include budget recommendations. These are to be made public late tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. T. R. Harvill, of Millen, is to preach the convention sermon at 9 a. m. tomorrow. Chancellor S. V. Sanford, of the University of Georgia, will speak on "The Laymen's Part" just before the sermon.

James A. Merritt, executive secretary-treasurer, was unable to attend. He recently underwent an appendectomy in Atlanta and is recovering in a hospital.

Headquarters were established at the DeSoto hotel. Meetings will be held in the Bull Street Baptist church.

Rev. A. B. Cash, of Adairsville, is to lead the first worship program tomorrow. Robert Bale, of Guyton, was designated song leader and Miss Elizabeth Buckshaw, of Savannah, is in charge of musical features.

Dr. Louie D. Newton, of Atlanta, has completed the order of business and will offer his report to the first session.

B. D. Ragsdale, of Macon, is to pay tribute to Baptist personalities in Savannah. R. B. Harrison, of Jackson, will present the program on benevolences.

Among important speakers on programs Wednesday and Thursday are Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, a Methodist leader, who will speak on "Today's Challenge to the Christian School;" J. E. Dillard, of the executive committee of the Southern Baptist Conference, who speaks Wednesday afternoon on "The Cooperative Program," and J. Clyde Turner, of Greensboro, N. C., who speaks Wednesday evening on "Winning the Lost to the Church," and Thursday on "The World for Christ."

MASS SALES SHOW GAIN IN GEORGIA

42 Per Cent Increase in 1935 Over 1933 Is Reported.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A 42 per cent gain in wholesale sales in Georgia during 1935 over 1933 was reported today by William L. Austin, director of the census.

Austin in his report, part of the current census of business by the Department of Commerce, also said the average number of employes of wholesale establishments in the state gained 17 per cent from 1933 to 1935.

He listed 19,053 such employes in 1935 against 16,237 in 1933.

Pay rolls showed a 30 per cent gain during the same period, being $26,562,000 in 1935 against $20,431,000 in 1933. Pay roll figures did not include 1,369 active proprietors and firm members of unincorporated businesses.

BOSTON MAN KILLED, NEIGHBOR SURRENDERS

Coroner's Office Probes Slaying of Ed Cannon; Self-Defense Claimed.

BOSTON, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—An altercation near Boston today ended in death for Ed Cannon, middle-aged farmer, and the surrender of a prominent Boston farmer, who told sheriff's office attaches he fired in self-defense.

The sheriff's office listed the farmer as Dick English, who rode into Thomasville with a county commissioner and presented himself at the sheriff's office.

There, he related his version of the shooting.

He said he and Cannon had had some trouble in the past and that today he met Cannon who, he said, advanced on him with a knife, saying: "I've got you where I want you now."

English stated that he turned and ran until exhausted, being pursued by Cannon. When he could run no longer, he said, he stopped and pulled a pistol he had carried this morning because he feared trouble, and warned Cannon to stop. Cannon would not stop, he said, and he fired once, the bullet striking Cannon in the leg. He said Cannon still kept advancing on him with the knife and so he fired a second time, the shot proving fatal to his alleged assailant.

Officers expressed belief ill-feeling between the two grew out of the ownership of land.

A coroner's jury was called for an investigation. It adjourned until Friday without reaching a verdict.

2 OFFICERS WOUNDED IN LANETT SHOOTING

Former Police Chief and Ex-Motorcycle Patrolman Are Arrested.

LANETT, Ala., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Two policemen were wounded, one critically, early today by shots fired from a passing automobile in the business section here.

G. M. Browning, former police chief, and Jimmie Lee Smallwood, former motorcycle patrolman, were arrested, Police Chief Larry Avera announced. The chief said charges against the men depended on the outcome of his investigation and of the wounds of Patrolman Ben McDonald.

McDonald is in a hospital at nearby Langdale. Seventeen shot from a shotgun penetrated his abdomen. Patrolman Eddie Harris was struck by two shots, one in the face and one in the leg. His wounds were not serious.

Chief Avera declined to discuss the case, saying he had been instructed by the city attorney not to do so until the investigation was completed.

Browning was taken to the Lee county jail at Opelika, and Smallwood to Chambers county jail at LaFayette.

Mayor Nash said "we know of no reason for this shooting."

TAX RELIEF MEASURE EXPECTED BY SAFFOLD

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Thomas P. Saffold, executive vice president of the Georgia Real Estate Taxpayers' Association, today looked to opponents of the recently defeated 15-mill tax limitation proposal to suggest a system of tax relief.

"Our campaign for tax relief and reform," he said here, "has at least developed one fact, that all our citizens agree that real estate is carrying too great a burden and that changes must be effected to cure the present discrimination and more equitably distribute the tax burden."

The association actively supported the tax limiting constitutional amendment in the November 4 general election, but the state electorate decided against the move.

Saying the proposed amendment "may not have been a perfect solution" of the tax problem, but that its adoption would have forced "a more equitable and generally beneficial system of taxation," Saffold added:

"We recognize the possibility that our various political and school leaders may be able to propose a system giving the necessary relief and meeting the approbation of a larger proportion of our citizenship."

LYMAN RENTZ HOME BURNS AT LAKELAND

LAKELAND, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The large Lyman Rentz residence here was destroyed by fire early this morning, the blaze for a time threatening to spread into the business district of this county seat of Lanier county.

Officials called upon Mayor J. D. Ashley, of Valdosta, for aid and a fire truck from that city was dispatched to Lakeland. The blaze was brought under control, however, and the truck was stopped en route here.

There was no estimate of the damage. The fire is thought to have originated from a defective flue.

STATE DEATHS

EDGAR C. MAXWELL SR.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Funeral services for Edgar Corrie Maxwell Sr., 63, well known Oglethorpe count citizen who died suddenly at his Lexington home yesterday, were conducted this afternoon.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah M. Maxwell; three sons, Edgar C. Maxwell, Henry Maxwell and Marcus Maxwell; three sisters, Mrs E. P. Shull, Mrs. Will Bush and Mrs. Wallace Amason, of Lexington, and three brothers, S. L. Maxwell, W. H. Maxwell and E. J. Maxwell, all of Oglethorpe county.

THOMAS M. WHITLEY.

LANETT, Ala., Nov. 16.—Final rites were held yesterday for Thomas M. Whitley, 19, who died Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Whitley. Rev. S. L. Heath, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. J. W. McCullough, pastor of the Church of God, conducted the services.

Whitley moved to the Lanett community three years ago with his parents, the family having formerly lived at LaGrange. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Surviving are the parents, three brothers and two sisters, Romie Whitley, of LaGrange; Alvin Whitley, of Lamar, Ala.; Arlie Whitley, of Lanett; Mrs. Robert Hollis and Miss Leathia Whitley, of Lanett.

He crawled into a bag and woke up when a laundry worker got ready to dump the contents into a washing machine.

FEDERAL OWNERSHIP OF HALF OF U. S. SEEN

N. J. Agronomist Says Good Conservation Policy Will Bring It About.

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 16.—(AP) A vastly increased public domain with the government "ultimately owning perhaps one-half of the entire land area" was predicted today by Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, dean of the New Jersey State College of Agriculture.

He made his forecast in a speech before the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, of which he is president.

Excess acreage can best serve the nation by being taken out of production and added to the public domain to produce lumber and wild life, conserve water supplies and control floods, he declared. He estimated that "modern American farmers" are wasting more than $5,000,000,000 worth of soil and plant nutrients by erosion and bleaching each year.

"Peace and Abundance."

Seeking conservation, the government will retire the maximum amount of land from production, Dr. Lipman said, when the United States finally settles down to a "well ordered national household where peace and abundance may dwell." Pointing out that the projected peak of population has been set at 140 to 145 million persons about 1960, he said:

"There is room in this country for twice that number.

"Present economic and social wants indicate the need for a per capita allowance of 10 acres, or a total acreage of 1,400 million acres to supply the 140 million residents of the United States, if the population stabilization theory becomes a fact.

Intensive Cultivation.

"In that estimate, however, we assume that soil management will be of the extensive type. Who knows but that, given improved plants and animals and with a more intensive and efficient agricultulure, our farmers may be able to serve the nation fully with half that acreage? Remember, science and technology have not yet said their last word."

Waste in the conquest of the continent can be forgiven, Dr. Lipman said, but, "with the building completed, we will no longer be justified in continued improvidence."

THREE LOSE LIVES

Negro Children at Columbus Perish in Home Fire.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Three negro children, ranging in ages from 2 to 7 years, lost their lives in a fire which wrecked their home here early yesterday morning. Their parents were away at the time the fire broke out, policemen said.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that the children died as the result of the "house burning, the cause of the fire being unknown."

AUGUSTANS MAY GREET F. D. R. AT CHARLESTON

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Isaac S. Peebles, president of the Richmond County Roosevelt Club, has launched plans for a large delegation from this city to go to Charleston, S. C., Wednesday to greet President Roosevelt.

Leaders in the plans pointed out the President's stop in the seaport town would afford southerners their first chance since his re-election to cheer the President.

Outgrown Glasses Are Bad For the Eyes

Although good eyesight is a prime requisite to efficiency, many people make the mistake of wearing glasses they have outgrown. Or worse still, grow their way without any glasses at all.

You may or may not need new glasses now, depending upon the nature of your work and the condition of your eyes, but you do need to have your eyes examined periodically to avoid the impaired vision later.

TRUSTEES ARE NAMED FOR S. & A. RAILROAD

Fees Totaling $150,000 Fixed for Receivership Period by Judge W. H. Barrett.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Judge William H. Barrett today appointed Charles E. Gay, present receiver, and Judge Dan G. Fogarty, of Augusta division bankruptcy court, as trustees for the reorganization of the Savannah and Atlanta Railroad Company. He also fixed fees for the entire period, totaling $150,000 in all.

The road, operating between Savannah and Camak, has been in receivership for 15 years. It serves a rich Georgia agricultural section and is one of the through routes from Atlanta to Savannah.

The trustees will be subject to confirmation by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Gay has operated the road since it first failed to meet its fixed charges, first as co-receiver, later in full charge.

They will take charge of the road's affairs at the beginning of calendar month to simplify the bookkeeping involved.

Fees were fixed for the entire 15 years' service of the parties involved. Gay was allowed a total of $40,000, Mrs. Wilson N. Felder, executrix of co-receiver Thomas B. Felder's estate, $2,500; Hitch, Denmark, and Lovett, attorneys, $40,0000; Adams, Adams and Douglas, attorneys, $20,000; Mitchell, Taylor, Capron and Marsh, attorneys, $20,000; Delafield, Thorne and Marsh, attorneys, $10,000; Connerat and Hunter, attorneys, $7,500, and the City Farmers' Trust Company, trustees, approximately $6,000 under various bonds.

The efforts to reorganize the road have been intermittent for several years. The trustees will be empowered to operate the road in the period between now and reorganization.

The trustees will work with the representatives of various bondholders in the reorganization processes.

ROSE OF SOLEDAD

By GEORGE E. HOLT

INSTALLMENT XVIII.

A picture rose in Shane's eye of the Rose of Soledad in Don Fernando's arms—most of the evening. Fernando's sloe-eyes looking down into hers. Fernando's arms around her. Her arms . . .

"That—that's fine," said Shane O'Hara, lying like a gentleman, but without much earnstness.

At that moment Pablo Martinez, the most recently employed hand at Rancho Paloma, shuffled into view, carrying a saddle on his shoulder. He paused a moment to look toward Shane and his guest. Shane did not see him, but Don Timoteo did. He squinted his old eyes to see better.

"Who's that, son?" he asked, then.

"Oh," replied Shane. "That's a fellow—Pablo Martinez—came looking for work. Had a letter from Wesson of the San Feliz bank. So I gave him a job. Know him?"

"No," said Don Timoteo. "No. I don't know Pablo Martinez." He clicked to his horse. "Well, so long, son. Be good." And he rode away.

Shane spent the morning cleaning up the ranch house—or at least beginning the cleaning up process. Oddly, he was rather cheerful. In spite of the picture of Rose in the arms of Don Fernando—confound him! In spite of the suspicion of him which he knew lurked in the minds of many people. In spite of the menace of arrest by officers of the law for the killing of Black Sam. In spite of the ruinous condition of his property. In spite of his departure from Soledad and his separation from the Rose. For Shane was young, and to youth comes the feeling that if you do your job, other matters will be adjusted by an approving Diety. Shane sought to gain merit by giving the house at La Paloma the first cleaning it had had in five years.

It was while thus in pursuit of merit that he made an odd discovery.

Stuff had to be shifted about the house, from one room to another, or outside to a pile which was destined to make a bonfire in the near future. Shane had opened all the doors in the house, inner and outer, to let the clean wind help him in his work of sanitation. But one door stood stubbornly shut—that of the room to which they had found no key.

"There was a door to which I found no key," he quoted Khayyam the Tentmaker. The rest of the quatrain came to him disturbingly:

"There was a veil through which I might not see;
Some little talk awhile of me and thee,
There was—and then no more of thee
and me."

Confound Omar! But the stanza came too pat. It brought out so vividly the pleasure of those few days' contact with the girl at Soledad, the Thee and Me. Confound Omar. A pessimistic dog. A fellow who went about turning on the shadows instead of the lights. "And then—no more of Thee and Me." Confound Fernando, too . . . But old Omar didn't know everything. Even though he talked as if he did. Things had changed since—his time. America wasn't Persia. "There was a door to which I had no key." So? Well, that for Omar. Key or no key, Shane O'Hara was about to open a door. Closed, it was too significant. He'd open it—and see what Omar thought about that.

Shane examined the lock. It was just the usual inside door arrangement, a plate and a keyhole and a knob. But after he released the knob, he glanced at his hand. His fingers felt slippery. Hmph!

Oil on them. Must have come from the doorknob. Inspection showed that it had. Also that there was a trace of fresh oil on the plate around the keyhole. Which could mean but one thing. This room had been used by Black Sam.

Shane went to the back door of the house where, he remembered, an iron wrecking-bar hung on a nail.

Pablo Martinez sought out his foreman, Verdugo, with a question as to what should be done with the remains of the ancient tractor reposing near the front gateway.

"Let's go look at him," suggested Jose.

They were thus looking, not a dozen paces from the house, when they heard the sound of a sharp crack, and the splintering of wood.

"W'at the hell?" inquired Jose, cocking an ear to listen. "Somethin' busted. Maybe Mister O'Hara—Let's go see."

Wherefore Shane, when he had entered the musty little room and had torn away the sheet of oilcloth that covered the single window, letting in a flood of sunlight, turned to see his foreman and Pablo Martinez in the doorway.

"I heard funny sound," explained Jose. "Like somethin' bust."

"The door," explained Shane. "I broke it open. Don't like closed doors. And I don't see why it was locked; there's nothing in the room."

Apparently he was correct. The room was perfectly bare. Not a stick of furniture—a bare floor, bare walls. Not an object visible except the piece of oilcloth Shane had torn from the window.

"Now, that's a funny one," said Shane. "Was your brother ever a little bit queer?" he asked Jose.

"Queer?" Jose repeated the word.

"Coocoo," explained Shane. "Nuts."

"Oh," said Jose. "Looco, huh? Mebbe. Sometime I t'knk so. Coo-coo, huh?"

"Well, I don't see any other reason," Shane pointed out, "for him to carefully lock the door to a room which had nothing in it; oil the lock, cover the window. Looks to me—"

"Dispenseme," said Pablo, interrupting. "Excoos, meester." He entered the room, passed Shane, and looked at the floor in the far corner. "Board loose," he said, pointing. "Fun-nee! Huh?"

Shane and Jose now saw what Pablo meant. The flooring of this room, like the others, was of two-by-twelve planking. The room itself was only about ten by twelve feet in dimension; the floor boards ran lengthwise of it. But in the corner where Pablo stood, one of the boards was in two sections. The 12-foot length had been made up of one board about nine feet long, and another of about three feet. And this three-foot piece now was not fitted down closely to the floor level; it was raised, at the end where it touched the longer section, perhaps half an inch.

"Lift it up," said Shane to Pablo. "Looks like a hiding place of some sort." He and Jose moved closer to Pablo.

Pablo dropped to his knees, got his brown finger tips against the edge of the board, raised it. A wooden box was revealed beneath.

"Hidin' place, all right," said Pablo, putting the board back against the wall.

"But empty," said Shane. "Maybe that's where Black Sam hid his money . . . What are you sniffing at, Pablo?"

"Somethin'—somethin' in my nose," Pablo replied, rising and dusting his hands, and then rubbing his brown nose vigorously. "Dust, I t'ink. You want me put board back?" he asked.

"Might as well," Shane told him. "I've got no money to hide. All right, let's get busy."

Jose and Pablo took their departure, chattering in Spanish. Shane stood for a moment looking at the sport plank. "People are funny," he told himself. "This room needs air. Funny smell here. Sorta sickly smell." He went over and threw open the window.

Shane would have been much interested had he been able to overhear—and understand—certain words which passed between Jose and Pablo once they were clear of the house.

Pablo looked at Jose until he caught his eyes. Then he shrugged his shoulders. Jose likewise shrugged. "No good, that brudder of mine," he said.

"I thought," replied Pablo in Spanish, "that you would know the odor of opium when you smelled it."

* * * *

Everybody, as Don Timoteo had truthfully told Shane, has seemed to have a good time at the Spanish Fiesta at San Felix. But even in the midst of a fete, when the street of the village among the hills thronged with dons and donas, senores and senoras and senoritas, caballeros and grandees, matadors and baillerinos, a king and several queens and many principes, principessas, duques, and other nobiliti, who a few hours before had been Mary Jones and Atrhur Smith and Richord Roe . . . even when streets are lighted and decorated, when hidden music throbs through the night, and caballeros seize unknown senoritas and whirl them in dance along the sidewalk . . . human nature, with its sorrows and its joys, its loves and friendships and repulsions and hatreds, goes merrily on.

Rose Delane had ridden gaily enough to the fiesta. A senorita to whom the other members of her race might point with pride. She was now a baillerina—a dancing girl Her feet was laughing in high-heeled slippers of scarlet silk, with big pompons. Her slender legs were vibrant in stockings of the same material and color. Her knee-length skirt—the fluffy, outspreading skirt of the dancing girl—was of foamy green, like the green of the sea breaking on the shore. Beneath her bolero jacket was more green foam, and the jacket itself was of bright velvet, a deep dark purple, edged and buttoned and buttonholed with gold. Over head and shoulders hung a black and gold mantilla—golden poppies blooming upon black night, long fringed and graceful. And from beneath it was the face of a madonna instead of a dancing girl—a sweet oval, the dark hair smoothed and parted by some feminine necromancy. A touch of white upon the cheeks, a la Espanol. A touch of crimson, too, and upon the lips two bows of scarlet. A little darkening of the eyebrows; the lashes themselves needed no touch of art. Pendant from two half-covered ears, long jade earrings of Moorish memory.

MANNERS OF THE MOMENT

Equilibrium.

We're having revolving door trouble again. We always dread the approach of winter because of our revolving door phobia. Either we waste hours stuck in the dastardly things, or we have a nervous breakdown over the tremendous speed at which we are forced to trip through them. Either way it's terrible.

If we get a nice quiet revolving door, that isn't moving at all, some vacant-eyed wretch always steps in behind us and starts pushing the way we aren't. Then it just becomes a question of which of us would make the better match for Joe Louis. And if we come to a busy revolving door, which is already turning nicely, the man coming from the other side invariably speeds the motion up so that we keep going around and around at a fast trot, too terrified to make the leap out.

We might start a campaign for a slow clockwise movement in every revolving door. Or better yet, a campaign for installing Ouija boards over each one. If a man can't find the solution, maybe a Ouija board could.

But probably we'll go around by the other entrance. JEAN.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

NATIONAL SPORTS.
II—CRICKET.

Men who give special study to words are not able to agree how the word "cricket" came to be used as the name of England's most popular sport. Some say it arose from an olden French word meaning "stake," while others trace it back to an Anglo-Saxon word meaning "stool."

Scene in a cricket match between England and Australia.

Those who believe the name came from the Anglo-Saxon word say that in early days a player tried to strike a stool by throwing a ball at it, while another player tried to knock the ball away before it could hit the stool. At present no stool is used, but there is a wooden wicket with three upright pieces, and this may remind us a little of the old-time three-legged stool.

In modern cricket, the "batsman" stands in a marked space, and holds his bat in position to strike the ball. If the ball goes past him, and strikes the wicket, the batsman is out. If he hits a fly ball, and it is caught, he is out.

The batsman tries to knock the ball where no one will be able to catch it. After striking it, he runs toward another wicket 66 feet distant, and if he crosses a line near the wicket before the keeper gets the ball and "stumps" him, he makes a score or "run."

There are 11 players on each side, and they are called by names different than those used in baseball. Insteady of a pitcher, there is a "bowler." Instead of a catcher, there is a "wicket keeper." Among the other persons on the field are the short slip, the long slip, the long leg, the long field, the mid on the mid off.

After making a run, the batsman goes to bat again, and keeps batting until he is out. Runs are not nearly so hard to make as they are in baseball, and a batsman may stay at bat a long while. He and his teammates often make more than a hundred runs in one inning. There are two innings in a full game, and all men except one on each side go to bat during each inning. The game is likely to last so long the finish has to be put off until the next day. In important cricket matches, three days are allowed for a game.

To some extent cricket is played in Holland, Denmary, Argentina, Brazil and certain parts of the United States, but it is chiefly a game of the British empire. The most famous rivals at cricket are England and Australia. English teams make the long journey to Australia, and Australian teams visit Great Britain. The matches have been kept up more than half a century, and at this day the honors of the long series are just about equally divided.

WINE LAW TEST CASES WILL BE HEARD TODAY

Wholesaler and Retailer To Face Trial on Alleged Violations.

Test cases against a wholesale and a retail wine dealer will be heard at 10:30 o'clock this morning in Judge A. W. Callaway's section of recorder's court.

Designed to eventually test the legality of the Georgia law prohibiting the sale of wines not produced in Georgia, charges of disorderly conduct and violation of the state prohibition law were placed yesterday against H. J. Moret, proprietor of the Dixie Bottle & Beverage Company, 537 Whitehall street.

A bottle of California wine was seized yesterday at the wholesale establishment by W. R. Echols, inspector of weights and measures, acting on orders of Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant.

Previously a similar case had been made against John Poulas, operator of a retail beer and wine establishment on Alabama street.

The Georgia Wholesale Wine Dealers' Association, following a meeting held here yesterday, announced the case would be "fought through to a finish."

Walter C. Hendrix, Atlanta attorney, was retained to represent the dealers at the hearing.

Social Security Act Applicable To Operators of Filling Stations

Filling station operators who lease their stations from oil companies come under the federal Social Security Act, it was held yesterday when The Constitution's Washington bureau answered a question to this effect asked by an Atlantan.

Questions by the hundreds continue to arrive at The Constitution office and answers to them are being supplied by the trained staff of The Constitution's bureau in Washington who have access to government records. The Constitution is mainatining this service to answer all questions on the Social Security Act that are not clear for its readers.

Questions may be mailed to The Constitution and they will be forwarded to the Washington bureau, where expert staff men will answer them.

Troubling Queries.

Below are some of the troubling questions that were answered yesterday.

Q. I operate a filling station, leased from the —— company, paying my two colored employes $11 and $7 a week, respectively. Must I make payment on my employes and myself and to whom do I apply for papers? I occasionally employ an extra assistant for part-time work. Would the ruling apply to him?—J. M. B.

A. Beginning November 16, 1936, the Social Security Board will distribute application blanks to employers. These blanks must be returned to the Social Security Board through the local postmaster. You come under the old age-retirement provisions of the Social Security Act and must make contributions to the federal old-age retirement account for the employes of your filling station at the following rates: 1 per cent of wages paid in 1937, 1938 and 1939; 1 1-2 per cent of wages paid in 1940, 1941 and 1942; 2 per cent of wages paid in 1943, 1944 and 1945; 2 1-2 per cent of wages paid in 1946, 1947 and 1948; and 3 per cent of wages paid in 1949 and each year thereafter. You deduct like per cents from the wages of each employe and send yours and your employes' contributions monthly to the collector of internal revenue of your district. If the extra assistant for part-time work performs duties in the course of your business, he is also included as an employe and you make contributions at the rates given above on the wages actually paid to him by you.

It is not possible to say without full details about the case whether you are operating as an "independent contractor" or as an employe of the company from which you lease your filling station. In general, persons subject to the control or direction of another merely as to the result to be accomplished by his work and not as to the means and method for accomplishing the results, is an independent contractor. He is not under the provisions of the Social Security Act. If, however, you are subject to the will and control of the company, not only as to what shall be done but also how it shall be done, you would, in general, be classed as employe of the company and the employes of the filling station would also be employes of the company and not your employes. The Bureau of Internal Revenue, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., can give you an official ruling as to your status, if you are in doubt about it.

Now 64 Years Old.

Q. How will the insurance feature apply to a man who was 64 years old on September 21, 1936? Salary $35 a week.—E. O. S.

A. After December 31, 1936, he will make contributions, through his employer, to the federal old-age retirement fund until he reaches age 65, at the rate of 1 per cent of his salary, after December 31, 1936, and before his 65th birthday. Upon reaching age 65, he will receive a lump-sum payment of 3 1-2 per cent of his earnings between December 31, 1936, and his 65th birthday. He is not eligible for monthly old-age retirement benefits.

Q. Is a man or woman now over 65 years of age, with no steady employment, working on odd jobs as day laborer, qualified to receive pension benefit? If so, what is required of such a person?—B. J. P.

A. Persons now over 65 years of age do not come under the social security act and are not eligible for benefits under the old-age retirement provisions of that act.

Preachers Not Eligible.

Q. How should a preacher who has been in such service for 50 years, go about making application for pension?—B. J. P.

A. He is not under the old-age retirement provisions of the social security act for he is employed by a religious organization not operated for profit.

Q. How does the social security law affect a woman now employed, but with no hope of retaining her position until she is 65 years of age?—G. H. M.

A. As long as she is employed she makes contributions to the federal old-age retirement fund and upon reaching age 65 she will receive monthly benefits based on her total earnings between December 31, 1936, and her 65th birthday. The fact that she has not worked the entire time will not disqualify her if she has worked some part of each of five calendar years.

Q. Would a person working less than 10 years benefit in any degree?—G. H. M.

A. Yes. A person working less than 10 years will receive old-age retirement benefits based on his total earnings between December 31, 1936, and the date of his 65th birthday if his total earnings during that period are at least $2,000; and he has worked some part of each of five calendar years.

Q. If a person should give an incorrect age in order to benefit earlier from the S. S. A., would there be any kind of checkup on this at the age 65?—G. H. M.

A. The registration blank which must be filled out by employes states that the date of birth is subject to verification.

WILLIAM A. GUNTER DIES AT RESIDENCE

William A. (Billy) Gunter, 75, longtime resident of Atlanta and retired building contractor, died Sunday morning at the residence, 1495 Iverson street, N. E.

He was a native of Alpharetta and a prominent member of Epworth Methodist church. He was a Mason.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Hugh and Howard Gunter; two brothers, S. M. and Weyman Gunter, and three sisters, Mrs. J. H. Coleman, Mrs. Sam Alexander and Mrs. M. Moss.

Final rites will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Epworth Methodist church, with the Revs. S. D. Cherry and Lester A. Brown officiating. Burial will be in Big Creek cemetery near Alpharetta, under direction of Henry M. Blanchard.

$5 'STORE' SHAVES DRAW ALASKANS

Beauty Operator Goes to Town of 20 Whites and Business Booms.

BETHEL, Alaska, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The "sourdoughs" of this Alaskan village can get "store" shaves now—if they have the $5 and can overlook the crowds of curious natives that invariably clutter about the chair to watch the performance.

Alice Foresgren, 22-year-old Bismark, S. D., beauty operator, brought the modern touch to this western Alaska community of 20 white and 200 natives. She opened a combined barber and beauty shop this fall to groom the beards and coiffures of the Kuskokwim river country.

A "still" brought here during the Goodnews Bay gold mining stampede in 1911 is her water heater.

So far, she has had but one male native patron, but the white settlers keep her busy administering the first professional shaves and haircuts many have had in years.

The first five shaves brought her $5 each and overnight fame as Bethel's greatest free sight-seeing attraction. They literally line up to watch a man recline in the barber chair while she works with razor and brush.

B. F. TUCKER, 78, DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

Benjamin Franklin Tucker, 78, well-known retired Conyers businessman, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Stuckey, 1263 Morningside drive, N. E.

Mr. Tucker had been ill but a short time. He was a lifelong resident of Conyers and active in church and civic affairs. He was a prominent member of the Conyers Baptist church.

Besides Mrs. Stuckey, surviving are another daughter, Mrs. W. H. Berry; three sons, T. E and H. M. Tucker, of Atlanta, and T. W. Tucker, of Miami; a brother, Tom Tucker, of Conyers, and four sisters Mrs. J. T. A. McCollum, Mrs. J. W. F. Parks, Mrs. G. W. Walker and Mrs. Arthur Whitaker, all of Conyers.

Final rites will be held at 2 o'clock (E. S. T.) this afternoon at the Conyers Baptist church, with the Rev. J. A. Buckalew, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the cemetery of Smyrna Camp Ground.

Twenty-four Georgia towns, in the year just past, have proved themselves ELECTRICAL LEADERS IN A STATE THAT IS FAMOUS FOR ELECTRICAL LEADERSHIP!

Excepting only three states out of 48, Georgia ranks highest in the nation in the use of electric service in the home, and these 24 towns have proved themselves the leaders in Georgia, a state that has scores of towns whose homes outstrip the average American home in electrical progress.

For a year, beginning November 1, 1935, and ending October 31, 1936, towns on the lines of the Georgia Power Company have been engaged in friendly but spirited competition, in a race to discover Georgia's champion home towns—as championship is reflected in the use and increased use of electric service in the home, to make life more comfortable, more convenient, more worthwhile by genuine modern standards.

Today—we announce the results of that competition, the winners in the Home Town Electrical Contest. It is a matter for civic celebration in the 24 towns, for $10,600 in prizes is to be distributed among them for civic, charitable and educational purposes. But their victory is part of a far greater achievement in which the whole state can take pride. Homes in the area served by the Georgia Power Company have climbed to an annual average of 1160 kilowatt hours, by comparison with the national average of 705—and Georgia's leadership has been demonstrated anew!

Woodbine, in Camden county, raced away with chief honors by winning First Prize in the Sweepstakes and First Prize in Group "D"—Louisville was also a double winner, second in the Sweepstakes and sixth in Group "C"—Americus led Group "A"—Baxley led Group "B"—while Reidsville had the best record among all the towns in Group "C". Prize winners are listed in the column at the left—complete final standings of all towns in the contest are available at the nearest Georgia Power Company office.

INCOMING COUNCILMEN SIGN ECONOMY PLEDGE

Three Refuse To Place Names on Promise To Seek Cut in Deficit.

Thirteen of the 18 members of the incoming 1937 city council and Mayor-nominee William B. Hartsfield have signed a pledge that they will not exceed city revenues in 1937 and will attempt to reduce the municipal deficit in a move to obtain co-operation of the Atlanta Clearing House Association in absorbing $800,000 in scrip and to get additional sums to conduct city affairs in the new year.

Three members—Alderman E. A. Gilliam and Councilmen J. Allen Couch and William T. Knight—yesterday refused to sign the measure, and Councilmen C. M. (Mac) Bolen and Cecil W. Hester had not been contacted.

Councilman Aubrey Milam, chairman of council's finance committee, asserted the document will not be presented to Thomas K. Glenn, president of the clearing house, until Bolen and Hester have been contacted.

It was pointed out, however, that the 13 signatures carried on the sheet yesterday are a clear two-thirds of the new council and that no appropriation can be made by less than a majority.

Those who had signed were:

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, I. Gloer Hailey, Roy Callaway, Robert Carpenter and G. Dan Bridges, and Councilmen J. Frank Beck, Charles L. Chosewood, John A. White, Howard Haire, E. A. Minor, John T. Marler, Frank Wilson and George B. Lyle.

Callaway said he approved the measure with the understanding that he would not discharge employes needed for the proper conduct of city affairs, nor would be agree to reduce their salaries below a living wage.

Following is the text of the pledge which the group took:

"We, whose names are signed hereto, having been regularly nominated, subject to the general election in December next, for the positions as mayor and general council, city of Atlanta, hereby solemnly, individually and collectively, resolve and pledge ourselves as follows:

"1. We will vote for the adoption of a budget for the city of Atlanta for the year 1937 as in our opinion provides only for such income and assets as may be reasonably expected to be received during that year.

"2. We further resolve and pledge that we will vote for no allocations of the total sum contained in said budgets which, in the aggregate, will increase or extend the deficit of the city of Atlanta as may be shown to exist at the beginning of the year 1937 and will do all in our power consistent with good government to reduce said deficit during that year."

HARTSFIELD'S PLAN DELAYED BY COUNCIL

this measure if my own brother was to be mayor. We are a legislative body, and the mayor is the executive. We should assume our responsibility in the conduct of the city government and not depend on the mayor."

Couch then introduced a substitute ordinance providing the mayor should be a member of the board of firemasters as at present, but that he should not hold membership on other municipal bodies. The measure also fixed the membership of committees as follows:

Proposed Setup.

Finance, public works, sewers and electric light, six members each, one from each of the newly-established six wards; board of firemasters, five and the mayor; health and sanitation, municipal buildings, purchasing, water, five members each; library, garage, ordinance and charter revision, tax, claims and minutes, three members each, and planning commission, one member.

White's committe had recommended that one member from each of the six wards be named to the finance, public works, sewers and electric lights coommittees, and that the mayor decide on the number to be designated for all other committees.

Both measures were sent to the ordinance committee for report at the next meeting of council, December 7.

Other Council Actions.

Among other important actions of council were the following:

1. Approved unanimously a request by the Georgia Power Company to establish a five-cent shoppers' bus service for downtown Atlanta.

2. Asked the power company to abandon the car stop at the northeast corner of Broad and Marietta streets for all cars turning right from Broad into Marietta at that point and to substitute a stop at the safety island on Marietta near Forsyth.

3. Requested the power company to investigate the feasibility of rerouting North Decatur cars off North Pryor street, and East Point, College Park and Hapeville cars off Alabama street in order to relieve traffic congestion.

Cab Rate Proposal.

4. Permitted Alderman Frank H. Reynolds to withdraw a request of the Black & White Cab Company to revise rates. Reynolds said the measure probably will be offered in a revised form at a later date.

5. Sent to the finance committee recommendation of the schools committee that architectural fees amounting to 6 per cent be allowed for drawings for erection of Maddox and Murphy Junior High schools. Alderman J. Charlie Murphy insisted that fees be limited to the usual fees for preparing plans, pointing out that federal agencies may not be induced to provide $130,000 needed to construct the major units of the plants.

5. Referred to the finance committee a request that $75 a month be provided for clerical help in administration of the $275,000 school bond fund.

6. Approved a Hailey ordinance, providing that dog licenses will run a year from the date of issuance, and empowering the city clerk to deputize veterinarians to issue licenses in the name of the city at the time dogs are innoculated.

7. Passed ordinances making the west side of Spring street non-parking from 7 to 9 a. m., from Marietta street to Third street, and the east side for the same area non-parking from 4 until 6 p. m. as a move to relieve traffic congestion.

Non-Parking Proposal.

8. Decreed that Peachtree street, between Ellis and Baker streets, and Whitehall street between Forsytn street and Stewart avenue, be made non-parking from 7 to 9 a. m. and from 4 to 6 p. m., to expedite the flow of traffic.

9. Approved an increase in the basic pay of Mrs. Neil Printup, secretary to Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction, from $111.11 a month to $150 a month. Councilmen Aubrey Milam and Couch, however, joined to block the measure reaching the aldermanic board by serving notice they will move to reconsider at council's next session.

10. Passed an ordinance requiring that persons opening coal yards in the future must obtain a permit from the mayor and council.

Donaldson Report.

11. Accepted and sent to the finance committee the following report by Donaldson on cost of construction of improvements asked by council members:

A. Alabama street viaduct from Forsyth across the Spring street viaduct to Mangum and Hunter, $1,762,159.90, exclusive of right of way, underpinning of railway tracks, damages and other incidentals.

B. Widening of Haynes street from Hunter to Simpson streets, $42,197.76, exclusive of right-of-way, damages, and etc.

C. Construction of an underpass under the A., B. & C. railway tracks at North avenue, $59,196.74, exclusive of right-of-way, damages, etc.

Hartsfield had no comment to make on council's refusal to adopt the recommendations of the White committee. He was quoted by White, however, as being in accord with the measure. Under the council action establishing the committee to revise the council committee set up, Hartsfield was a member of the recommending group.

FEDERATION'S FORCES CAN CONTINUE--GREEN

try be organized into one big union, regardless of traditional A. F. of L. craft lines.

"If you don't want me to obey convention instructions, then don't elect me your president," Green shouted.

Evidence showed, he said, that the rebels' committee was a dual union.

"I ask you," he said, "would you tolerate in your own unions a minority organization to put into effect a policy voted down in your union conventions?"

Although he devoted most of his speech to the rebellion, he urged the 485 delegates to consider other issues of greater importance before the convention.

"Do the workers we represent wish us always to be at each other's throats to the exclusion of other problems?" he asked.

"They are not men and women moved by consuming personal ambitions. What they are interested in is a better life and living."

In this vein Green pronounced the depression ended and said wages must be raised and hours shortened.

"The days of distress are now behind us,' he said. "We are putting our house in order.

"Labor stands at the threshold of this new day, determined to build a higher wage level for the workers of America. We suffered much. The law of compensation must work. Labor must be paid for the distress it suffered."

30-Hour Week Remedy.

"The 30-hour week," he added, "is the only real remedy for unemployment."

No sooner had Green finished his speech than the rebellion issue broke out on the floor.

John Frey, president of the federation's metal trades department, who introduced a resolution to expel the rebels, challenged the right of a delegate to a seat on the grounds he might be a Lewis committee organizer and a Communist.

The delegate was George Powers, representing the McKeesport, Pa., Central Labor Council. Green referred the challenge to the credentials committee.

The committee seated Charles P. Howard, secretary of the Lewis committee, and Max Zaritsky, a member, because their unions were not suspended. Howard is president of the International Typographical Union and Zaritsky heads the United Hat, Cap and Millinery workers.

Neither Howard nor Zaritsky was in the hall.

ATTEND AS EQUALS, LEWIS DECLARES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Replying to William Green's invitation for a return of his Committee for Industrial Organization unions to the American Federation of Labor, John L. Lewis said today.

"If they want us at Tampa and want to lift the suspension order so we can go down to Tampa as peers of the gentlemen there, that will be another matter."

The 10 member unions of the C. I. O. were suspended by the federation last August on a charge of "insurrection."

When informed of Green's suggestion before the Tampa convention Lewis, head of the C. I. O. group, asked whether the convention had decided to lift its suspension order and had invited the C. I. O. unions to attend "as equals."

Informed that this had not been done, Lewis said "I wouldn't be interested in any other status."

Lewis expressed the opinion that if the federation thought it was right in expelling the C. I. O. unions "it should have no hesitancy in expelling us."

"I hope Mr. Green will eat or drink something," he said, "that will give him courage to see the thing through to its logical conclusion."

PRINTERS' HEAD CHARGES A. F. L. WITH DICTATORSHIP

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical Union and secretary of the Committee on Industrial Organization, charged here tonight that the suspension of delegates of the CIO unions at the American Federation of Labor convention "savors of dictatorship to retain control."

Howard's charges were contained in a telegram sent to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in answer to Green's invitation today to the rebel unions to take their seats again in the federation.

The typographical union head told Green his union "will not submit to such a policy."

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND CONFERENCE AT RIO

ships will leave late the same night for an Argentine port, which will be reached November 30.

The next day, December 1, will find the President in Buenos Aires for the opening of the peace conference and probably to deliver the initial speech.

Is Second Visit.

Plans call for the Roosevelt party to leave Argentina December 2 for Montevideo, arriving there the next day for a visit of several hours. On the run northward to the United States a second stop will be made in Port of Spain for refueling. At that time Mr. Roosevelt will go ashore for an official call.

The President's South American tour marks the second time in two years that he has agreed to visit that continent. In 1934 he went to Cartagena, Colombia, on an official call, spending the day as the guest of the president and government.

With him this time will go his eldest son, James, a friend of the latter, Edward Gallagher; Captain Paul Bastedo, naval aide; Colonel Edwin M. Watson, military aide, and Captain Ross McIntire, of the navy medical corps, who is the White House physician.

Mr. Roosevelt's trip will be more than 12,000 miles, the longest single journey he has taken since entering the White House nearly four years ago.

The President hopes to make a record run from Charleston to Buenos Aires. The cruising speed of both the Indianapolis and the Chester is 25 knots, much faster than merchant ships that ply between this country and Argentina.

There will be stops at Trinidad for refueling on both trips, but Mr. Roosevelt will not go ashore there until the return trip. Before returning to Washington he is expected to stop off in Warm Springs, Ga., for a day or two. Usually the President spends Thanksgiving at the southern resort.

The port at which the President will disembark on his return to the United States has not been determined, but probably will be Charleston. Likewise the White House said it would not announce the port of disembarkation in Argentina until the President was aboard the Indianapolis, but indications were that Mar Del Plata would be selected.

Son James To Go Along.

Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied by his son, James, a friend of the latter, Edward Gallagher, and military and naval aides.

The peace conference was summoned by the President of Argentina after Mr. Roosevelt had circulated the American republics on the idea.

This was in keeping with other moves made by the United States in taking world leadership toward revising and modernizing international concepts of neutrality.

The chief world neutrality rules were adopted at peace conferences held at The Hague in 1907 and 1909, long before the general use of military airplanes, long range coast guns, and other modern war weapons.

In recent years the United States turned away from its former position of insisting on freedom of the seas. It has passed laws banning exports of armaments to belligerents, and prohibiting loans to warring countries.

Presumably the Buenos Aires conference will demonstrate whether other nations of this hemisphere intend to adopt similar policies. One item on the conference agenda is "consideration of the rules regarding the rights and duties of neutrals and belligerents."

Has Busy Day.

Mr. Roosevelt withheld formal announcement of his visit until the eve of the scheduled departure. Loaded with pressing government problems, he waited until most of the preliminary work on the budget was completed before making a definite decision.

He went through a busy program today, including a cabinet meeting and a visit with the United States conference of mayors. He discussed farm problems with Chester Davis, former AAA administrator and now a member of the Federal Reserve Board.

To the mayors, several of whom are from coastal cities which now feel the effects of the maritime strike, Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped the shipowners and men will "come together." On his South American trip he said:

"As between this particular strike and whatever effect my visit to South America may have on the peace of the world, the peace of the world is the most important of the two."

ROOSEVELT TO BOARD INDIANAPOLIS WEDNESDAY.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 16.—(UP)—The 10,000-ton cruiser Indianapolis was moored in lower Cooper river tonight, ready to be boarded Wednesday morning by President Roosevelt for a record run to Buenos Aires.

Moored nearby was the cruiser's sister-ship, the U. S. S. Chester, which will carry part of the presidential party to South America for the Inter-American peace conference.

Arriving here at breakfast time Wednesday, the President will be taken for a brief automobile ride through the city before boarding the Indianapolis which will become the floating White House for nearly a month.

The Indianapolis, fitted out as a flagship, is commanded by Captain H. K. Hewitt. Fitted with airplane catapults and eight-inch guns, she was commissioned November 15, 1932. Her designed speed is 32.7 knots.

TRAIN KILLS MAN.

PIKEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 16.—(AP)—J. E. Hall, Pikeville representative of a Chicago garment manufacturer, was killed when he was struck by a westbound passenger train at Rye, Ky., early today. He was a member of the American Legion and the Junior Order. His mother, who survives, lives in Detroit.

5,000,000 EMPLOYERS GET SECURITY BLANKS

ber through the same channel as his application was sent.

Social Security officials said today that the board's 12 regional offices and 56 field offices located throughout the country have been swamped since early morning with telephone inquiries and long lines of individuals waiting to obtain information.

They are advising the public to wait for receipt of their forms through the regular channels, pointing out that careful arrangements have been made to blanket the nation through the facilities of the postoffice.

Work at Top Speed.

The entire office personnel of the board was working at top speed as it co-operated with the postoffice in assuring smooth delivery of the initial forms. One official described the collection of wage information for the nation's 26,000,000 workers as "the largest task of its kind ever undertaken by any country."

Because of modern machine bookkeeping set up in the Baltimore office, where tabulations of wage information are to be made, space required for the board's operations is not as great a problem as it has become in some other countries. In England, where records are compiled manually, thousands of acres are needed for filing and tabulation, board officials said.

Nevertheless, the Social Security Board, with headquarters in the building formerly used by the Department of Labor, has already spread its offices into five other buildings here besides the one in Baltimore. About 120,000 square feet of floor space is used in the Baltimore building and about 150,000 square feet in the six Washington buildings.

Staff of 1,400.

A staff of approximately 1,400 persons is already employed in administering the act, in addition to several hundred employes at Baltimore whose services will be needed only to set up the original security accounts. Eventually the board expects to employ as many as 7,500 persons. All are being selected through the civil service.

To establish the records, 1,027 "typing centers" have been set up in first-class postoffices.

As the reports come in from employers and employes, the pertinent information is to be transcribed to pre-numbered cards. Each will have a stub, duplicating the number, to be detached and returned to the local postoffice for delivery to the employer or worker. Treasury offices throughout the country will keep files of the employer's identification numbers and the periodic reports required from employers.

The record of "account numbers" will be forwarded to Baltimore, there to be filed numerically.

Duplicates of the records also are to be made, to be kept in the first-class postoffices so requests for replacement of cards lost can be made there. Eventually, this part of the work may be taken care of by the 56 field offices being established by the Security Board.

NON-MEMBER STATES OBJECT TO DEADLINE

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Seven governors of states which do not have unemployment insurance laws in compliance with the federal Social Security Act voiced objections today to the December 31 deadline for the passage of legislation to enable them to benefit from pay roll taxes assessed for 1936.

The executives, attending the twenty-eighth annual governors' conference, attacked the deadline as a "blackjack" to force them to call special sessions of their state legislatures.

Under the present law, pay roll tax payments from these non-complying states will go into the federal treasury to be used for whatever purpose congress may decide. The Treasury Department has estimated these payments will total more than $100,000,000.

The governors, who announced their intention to place the conference on record in favor of a retroactive extension by congress of the compliance date, were David Sholtz, of Florida; Harry W. Nice, of Maryland; Jnalmar Petersen, of Minnesota; Guy B. Park, of Missouri; Harold Hoffman, of New Jersey; George C. Peery, of Virginia, and R. L. Cochran, of Nebraska.

ATLANTA POSTOFFICE MAKE ALL DELIVERIES

Registration cards for all employers in the Atlanta area went forward through the Atlanta posoffice delivery system yesterday, giving all an opportunity to enroll in the federal government's old-age benefit program.

Slipped into the postoffice boxes or delivered personally by a letter carrier, thousands of application blanks, after they are filled out and signed by the employers, will be used for setting up initial wage records for use in distributing the old-age benefits under the Social Security Act, which starts into operation January 1.

"We got them all out—they'll be delivered," was the brief comment from Postmaster Lon Livingston, whose local office did its job with 100 per cent accuracy in distributing the soldiers' bonus.

The cards from the employers will be returned to the Postoffice Department within 10 days and the information will be forwarded to the Social Security office at Washington for the beginning of the national records.

Application blanks for employes will be delivered beginning November 24.

At the local office of the Social Security Board, R. E. Haines, of Columbus, is in charge as acting district manager, and J. W. Overstreet Jr. is the acting assistant district manager. Just now the small office force is co-operating with the Postoffice Department in the distribution of blanks to be filled out by employers and employes.

on strike will recognize that fact and come together.

"I think I can say that the federal government will take care of its full share of the burden of relief after you and the governors of the states have done everything fully and reasonably can be expected to do in this connection."

No statement was issued after the meeting here of the unions and ship owners, but Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady indicated the position of both sides was unchanged. Unions want full control of the halls, and employers demand at least "neutral" control.

McGrady, who has tirelessly drafted six proposals on the issue, arranged today's meeting after a three-hour conference with the sailors' union at the Pacific, the marine firemen, oilers, wipers and water tenders, and the marine cooks and stewards.

Vegetable Shortage.

The 18th day of the strike, affecting 37,000 workers and 178 ships in coast ports, brought reports from Juneau, Alaskan capital, that supplies of perishable vegetables were exhausted because of the strike blockade.

N. C. Hatfield, president of the Juneau (Alaska) Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed Seattle that perishable vegetables were exhausted, fresh meat will be gone in a few days, and staples in about five weeks unless the transportation tie-up ends.

"One butcher shop closed and two closing Friday," his message said. "Several stores are without butter or eggs and the local supply will be exhausted today."

In Houston, Texas, highway patrol and Texas ranger officials announced they were strengthening forces in Gulf ports to "protect life and property and investigate threats of violence" in sympathy walkouts.

A conference in New York between Joseph Curran, leader of striking insurgent seamen, and Captain D. A. Maloney, president of the Newtex line, failed to effect release of three of the company's strike-bound vessels.

CLERKS' UNION PROTESTS SHIP COMPANY FURLOUGH

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(UP)—The Bookkeepers, Stenographers and Accountants Union tonight demanded immediate recall of 500 clerks furloughed by the Luckenbach Steamship Company because of the maritime strike and appealed to similar unions throughout the country to join in protest.

The union said other companies were contemplating similar action because most of their ships had been tied up by the insurgent strike in Atlantic and Gulf ports.

THREE NEW MEMBERS SIT ON UTILITY BOARD

and Knight will begin full six-year terms on December 1, 1937.

Other Members.

The two remaining members of the commission are Jud P. Wilhoit, chairman, who was appointed by Talmadge at the time of the 1933 ouster and who has since been elected to the commission, and Walter C. McDonald, one of the five ousted members who was reseated by the voters.

Of the other two ousted, Jule W. Felton has since been elected to the state court of appeals and Albert J. Woodruff has not run for office.

Unconfirmed rumors in capitol corridors said either McDonald or Perry may be elected chairman of the new commission.

Aside from a brief handshake and the administration of the official oath by Talmadge, the ceremony before the Governor was uneventful.

Talmadge Response.

Later, at his press conference, Talmadge responded to questions about his reaction to the re-election of Perry and Knight after their ouster with the old group:

"I put in new ones and they reduced rates materially. The people re-elected them (Perry and Knight) and I re-instated them."

Perry said:

"I go back into office to take up where I left off on July 21, 1933, with a conviction and ambition to render the best service to the people of my state of which I am capable.

"The renewed confidence of the people of this state evidenced by entrusting me with confidence again will not be misused or misplaced."

To Continue Policy.

Knight said:

"I shall pursue the same policy as when I was here before. I did my duty as I saw it when I was in office.

"I am grateful to the people of Georgia for giving me complete vindication by re-election to the unexpired term from which I was ousted."

Ben T. Huiet, who with J. J. E. Anderson and Thomas K. Davis went off the commission, issued a statement in which he said "the people's verdict is my verdict."

FLORIDA TO HAVE FROST.

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Florida's first frost of the year was predicted for tonight by the federal weather bureau here but meteorologists said it would be insufficient to damage the state's rich citrus crop.

Popular Belles Arrive Tomorrow For Visit to Martha Burnett

By Sally Forth.

ATTRACTIVE arrivals in Atlanta tomorrow will be Elizabeth Odell, of Concord, N. C., and Caroline Dalton, of High Point, N. C. These popular belles will visit Martha Burnett, and they will add luster to the wonderful dance at which Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burnett will launch their Martha upon the social sea tomorrow evening at the Piedmont Driving Club. Elizabeth was Martha's roommate at King-Smith studio school in Washington, and both she and Caroline have visited here before, so they will be welcomed by the younger set and will be the center of lots of attention at parties this week.

And speaking of the debut party, there will be silver and blue balloons—just gobs of them—suspended from the ceiling and topping the tall white columns in the ballroom. The balloons will be set afloat, and then there will be plenty of fun and noise when the dancers reach for their favorite colors floating in the air.

ONE of Atlanta's loveliest young grandmothers is Mrs. Cyrus Strickler, and she is inordinately fond of her 20-month-old grandson. And, of course, grandmother-like, she adores to talk about him.

Even so, she refuses to bore her friends with long accounts of his cute baby ways. And always she maintains her keen and delightful sense of humor on the subject.

Recently Mrs. Strickler was shopping in a downtown department store when she chanced to meet one of her closest friends.

"And how is your lovely young grandson?" inquired the friend.

With a sly twinkle in her eye, this charming grandmother replied: "Now just how much time have you to spare?"

DON'T you think it's exciting to get telegrams? Well, if you have friends in the Debutante Club you'll probably receive several of these messages via delivery boys this Christmas. You see, the debs accepted the offer of a telegraph company to send telegrams and the club receives a nickel for each one sent. A cute idea and a swell means of raising money for their charities.

THE strains of "Happy Birthday" were not listed on the musical program for dancing Saturday evening at the dinner-dance at the Capital City Country Club, but at one minute after 12 the orchestra leader began to strike up the band with this traditional felicitation tune.

It was all to honor Mrs. Edward G. Hitt, whose birthday fell on Sunday and whose husband arranged for the orchestra to play "Happy Birthday" the very minute the dance ended. Sally can easily imagine what a surprise Lamar Slaton Hitt received when the entire assemblage of guests at the club dinner-dance rose and joined the singing.

The Hitts entertained at a party for their debutante cousin, Nancy Waldo Jones, and Sally Forth suspects that the group at her table was aware what was coming for they were all ready and waiting to jump to their feet to offer and extend congratulations to this charming young matron on this auspicious occasion. Sally Forth feels that she is voicing the thoughts of the multitude of friends of Mrs. Hitt in saying "Many Happy Returns of the Day."

Miss Emily Gower Is Honor Guest.

Miss Netelle Carley and Mrs. J. K. Smith were hostesses recently at a dinner party for Miss Emily Gower, a bride-elect of November.

Fall flowers and white tapers encircled with silver hearts formed a beautiful centerpiece for the dining table.

Present were Misses Mary Faver, Mary Snow, Clara Morrison, Miriam Chapman, Lib Gardner, Netelle Carley and Mesdames H. A. Story, J. L. Martin and J. K. Smith.

Saturday afternoon Miss Mary Favor honored Miss Gower at a linen shower and that evening Miss Ellen O'Donnell entertained the bride-elect and her fiance, Gene Symmers, at a buffet supper. Mrs. J. L. Martin gave a party Monday and today Miss Mary Snow will entertain at a dessert party and shower.

Wednesday her business associates will honor Miss Gower with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Dot Manget and Mr. Symmers will share honors with his fiance at a buffet supper and theater party planned by Miss Miriam Chapman for November 19.

Miss Gower will be central figure at a trousseau tea to be given by her mother and her sister, Mrs. L. A. Sims, November 21, and Mrs. D. A. Symmers will honor this popular couple at an Italian supper party November 23.

Stitch and Chat Club Holds Meeting.

Members of the Stich and Chat Club met at the home of Misses Nellie and Louise Biggers on Vance avenue recently.

University Women To Give Dinner.

The Atlanta Branch of the American Association of University Women will give a dinner at the Atlanta Athletic Club on Saturday at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Raymond R. Paty, dean of Emory University, will speak on "The National Youth Administration." Dr. Paty, who was Georgia state administrator of the National Youth Administration last year, will tell of his experiences in that particular field.

Mrs. H. J. Carson, president of the local branch, will preside at the dinner. Mrs. Harrison Taylor, legislative chairman, will introduce Dr. Paty.

The hostesses for the meeting will be Mesdames E. E. MacMorland, C. E. Stine, R. H. Dunlop, D. R. Driscall and the Misses Helen Caffey, Elena Greenfield and Lorene Waller.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. E. E. MacMorland, Dearborn 4641, or Mrs. D. R. Driscall, Dearborn 4457-W, by Thursday.

Atlanta Debutantes Via THE ZODIAC

by Bernice Denton Pierson—

> "In the elder days of art: Builders wrought with greatest care
> The Unseen and hidden part: For the Gods see everywhere."

ELIZABETH HOLCOMB.

ELIZABETH HOLCOMB.

January 15 marks the natal day of lovely Elizabeth Holcomb, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holcomb. This brings her birthdate under the influence of the Zodiacal cusp of Capricorn-Aquarius. Governing planet, Saturn.

The Sun position in this chart gives a sensitive, sociable, persuasive personality. The Sun, well aspected, gives courage and independence.

The Moon position gives quickness of perception and accuracy of observation. There is love of travel and learning.

The Mars position gives executive talent and posts of responsibility.

The Moon-Venus aspect bespeaks a warmly human person.

The Sun-Saturn position gives perseverance and self-control. It bespeaks one active, yet conservative.

The Neptune-Uranus aspect supplies the vision and incentive to realize hopes, wishes, ambitions. It endows her with unusual individuality, confers friends, social qualities, and positions of honor and trust.

Her colors are all shades of blue, from the lightest to the darkest, also all shades of green, rose or pink. Her stone is the sapphire. Her flowers are those of the shades of rose or pink.

You can get your complete astrological forecast through The Atlanta Constitution, compiled by Bernice Denton Pierson, one of America's best-known astrologers.

All you have to do is to fill in the coupon below, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, together with 10 cents in coin to cover the mailing cost. You will then receive through the mail certain pertinent facts which deal astrologically with the Sun at the time of your birth, called a Sun-chart, and with this Sun-chart a series of numbers which will enable you to identify the planetary interpretations, which will be published in The Atlanta Constitution each day, dealing with the influence of a given planet on the day of your birth, according to the rules of astrology. When you have checked each of your numbers your forecast will be complete.

Below are planetary indications, according to the rules of astrology, one of which may apply to your forecast. Every day these interesting interpretations will be published, descriptive of the influence of the planets at the time of your birth. Your astrological forecast includes a Sun chart and planetary interpretations, designated by numbers on your Sun-chart. Watch carefully day by day for your numbers.

Mrs. Bernice Denton Pierson, Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Please prepare astrological forecast, according to the rules of astrology, of the birth date submitted below and return to the name and address given. I enclose:

1. Self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Number 204—A happy home life means so much to you that you cannot possibly be happy without it. The indications are that through the course of your life you will collect quite a bit of property and many personal belongings. You should not acquire land unless it has income or home property, as vacant property or non-income producing property is a source of constant irritation to you.

Number 1212—In order to succeed you should develop the more positive side of your nature, that is, develop more aggressiveness, self-confidence and courage. By doing this you will be able to overcome the obstacles that seem to confront you, and be master of every situation in the end.

Number 607—Due to your love of detail and desire for exactness, do not expect too much in the mate. Marriage for you will be a success if you do not expect too much attention. Be cautious of any business contracts that you may enter into. Others do not always look at matters in the same way that you do, therefore always use care and discretion.

Number 1008—The indications are that there is a possibility of inheritance that may create some litigation, but nothing serious. You have much intuition and should be governed by your first impressions of both people and things.

For Mrs. Cole.

Mrs. Fred W. Cole has issued invitations to a tea to be given on November 21 at her home on Fifteenth street in honor of Mrs. Charles Boyonton Cole, the former Miss Caroline Hammond.

How to Make Better Cough Remedy Than You Can Buy

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It is far better than anything you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is positively the most effective, quick-acting cough remedy that money could buy. Instantly, you feel it penetrating the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen its equal for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

The young hostess was assisted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thrower.

SUPREME COURT HEARS TAX EXEMPTION CASE

The state supreme court heard arguments yesterday in a suit to determine whether a husband and wife can each claim $3,500 income tax exemption by making separate returns.

The State Revenue Commission brought the suit against Mrs. Morris Brandon, of Atlanta, who claimed the exemption in the state income tax in addition to that claimed by her husband.

Judge E. E. Pomeroy, of the Fulton superior court, decided for the revenue commission's contention that only one exemption should be allowed, but the court of appeals reversed that ruling.

The case was then taken to the supreme court.

A PRINCESS FROCK FOR ALL AGES WITH SLENDERIZING LINES.

By now the princess frock, evolved sometime during the dusty middle ages and improving ever since, is a classic style and today's model does great credit to its traditions as well as to the woman who elects to wear it. Front piece and shoulder yoke is cut in one piece and the same holds true for the back. The top of the sleeve is cut straight and gathered like the rest. It's this trick of using a few gathers at the dropped shoulder line that enhances the slenderizing effect of the front and back seams and the gently fitted waist. For the mature woman no belt; it would spoil the elongating appearance of the seams. For all ages the pointed collar adds smartness.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1984-B is available for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 4 7-8 yards, 39 inches wide. Collar 1-2 yard contrast.

'YOUR FIGURE, MADAME!'

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

To feel like a million all the time you are reducing—exercise! It keeps you in perfect shape. Lazy reducers who skip their calisthenics are quite apt to feel languid and depressed through flabbiness of the muscular system. Moreover, without exercise you cannot lose in the right spots.

Regular exercise is more important than ever when you are trying to lose the more solid fat. Exercise not only aids in breaking down the fat cells, but builds muscular tissue to replace the fat that is lost. This, in turn, stabilizes the weight loss.

When your reducing program reaches an impasse, mark time, subtract calories and exercise. Where there is healthy muscle tissue, there can be no fat.

Set your own time for exercise, but make it an integral part of your program. While the time of day is not a factor, it is important to exercise when you are least fatigued. Rapid, spirited, forceful play of the muscles is what you need, and enthusiasm goes a long way toward making the simplest movement effective.

Regularity in exercise is the way to symmetry. Ten minutes of exercise—if taken every day—will do more for your figure than 10 times that amount taken spasmodically. It takes time to make your figure over, so don't look for any amazing overnight change in your hipline.

The aim of the general exercises is to whip up the circulation, increase muscle tone, and so improve your well-being that you can be optimistic even when you are not losing weight. To reduce in spots, however, the muscles underlying the bulges must be brought into the action. For the disproportionate overweights there are specific exercises which can never be used to better advantage than right now. By concentrating our exercises on the bulges, the fat cells are broken down, preparatory to moving with the second layer. Intelligent exercise will not only tide you over a trying period, but will insure a lovely figure along with normal weight.

Exercise can keep weight normal—and give you a lively figure.

Massage is also helpful in breaking down the fat cells, but it is no substitute for honest exercise, since the muscular network must be strengthened to bring the form to symmetry. For best results with massage, add exercise.

Intelligent exercise gives new impetus to moving the stubborn fat and keeps the reducer fit—so on with the exercise!

Miss Betty Gregg Is Honor Guest

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wardlaw II, entertained at a dinner party last evening at their home on Peachtree circle, as a complimentary gesture to Miss Betty Gregg, an attractive member of the debutante coterie.

Yellow and orange-colored chrysanthemums predominated in the decorations and autumn leaves reflected the aforementioned colors.

Twenty-five friends of the honor guest were invited to meet the debutante. Dinner was served on handsome mahogany trays, covered with Point de Venice lace mats.

Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Robert Gregg, mother of the debutante. An orchestra rendered a musical program during the evening.

Mrs. Paul Hudson Will Be Honored

Mrs. Paul Hudson, a recent bride and the former Miss Marion Stewart, will be central figure at the tea given today by Mrs. J. Ross Garner, at her Peachtree road residence. Mrs. Louise Stewart, mother of the honor guest; Mrs. Griffin Roberts, of Canton, and Mrs. F. F. Hudson, sister and mother of the hostess, will assist in receiving.

Mrs. Carl Helfrich and Miss Anne Carmichael will pour tea and coffee from the silver service placed at one end of the exquisitely appointed table. Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. Judson Garner, Mrs. Dean Garner and Mrs. L. B. Lockhart.

Central Park P.-T. A.

Judge Garland Watkins, of Fulton county juvenile court, spokes on training children for good citizens at Central Park P.-T. A. daddies' meeting. Piano solos were given by pupils of Charles Snow and readings and tap dancing by pupils of Mrs. Joe Argo. The attendance prize was won by 6-C, Mrs. Golightly, teacher.

Bolton P.-T. A.

The annual daddies' meeting of Bolton P.-T. A. was attended by a number of parents and friends on Friday in the school auditorium.

Judge Virlyn B. Moore spoke on "Education of American Youth." Miss Lucy Wood had charge of old-fashioned games. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

My husband's business takes him away from home a large part of every month and living in a strange city, it is pretty hard on me. I don't make friends easily because I am terribly timid. Please give me some helpful suggestions. I know there must be many wives in a similar fix. LONELY.

ANSWER:

None of us likes to admit it, but this matter of loneliness is something we have to settle within ourselves. Here are three suggestions which if followed will surely help you to pass the time pleasantly and profitably. Groom yourself to perfection, get down to some good serious reading and volunteer to do some active social work in a church, a club or a charitable organization.

No matter how big or how little the city a woman moves into, she is noticed if her grooming is unusually good. This doesn't mean that she has to be handsomely dressed, but merely that from head to foot she shows good taste and meticulous care in her get-up. The fact that she thinks enough of herself to have her hair done in becoming fashion and her hat at the right angle, the seams of her stockings straight, her shoes shined, her skirts the right length, her nails manicured, and her gloves properly fitted, makes other people mark her up several pegs. All of this takes time and thought and hard work, but it is worth it.

However easy a women may be on the eyes she must be able to follow through if she makes headway in her new home. If she has nothing on her mind but her hat, that news soon gets around. And if she is sitting still moping about her loneliness the chances are that she is going to seed. That wasted time can be used to good advantage in reading. American magazines for instance are gold mines of interest. They cover every phase of life from scientific research to the most simple domestic matters. Nobody can read them without being inspired to write or talk or accomplish something. And of course every good book is a piece of a thoughtful mind put between covers for the world to appropriate. Books are the best sort of companions, entertaining, diverting, stimulating, satisfying. They are a specific cure for loneliness.

In every town in the country there are groups of men and women known for their good works to the poor, the underpriviliged and the forgotten. They welcome a new recruit and they don't demand papers showing the family tree, the financial rating or the social position of the applicant. These people are the backbone of the community and a lonely woman can't possibly do any better for herself than to join them in their activities. She will find not only delight in doing something for her fellowmen, but she will make contacts that are valuable to her socially as well.

Good grooming makes a woman poiseful and self-possessed. Good reading gives her something to think and talk about. Social service gives her outlet and insures pleasant social contacts. Won't these things cure the worst case of loneliness?

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

I have been untrue to the best wife a man ever had. I have lied to her and lied to her until I am ashamed to look her in the eye. There has never been a doubt in my mind that I loved her and I can't understand why I failed her. She used to cry over this, but now she's cold and reserved. I am almost crazy. Please tell me what to do. F. S. C.

ANSWER:

Try an honest confession. It is good for the soul. It will do more to restore your wife's confidence than all the love-making you could think up in a lifetime. It will ease your conscience to the point that you can look her in the eye and it will be the best insurance you can take out against your weakness. Throw yourself on her mercy. You won't regret it.

Mrs. Robert Candler To Be Honored At Brilliant Reception on Friday

Mrs. Asa Warren Candler and Mrs. John Slaughter Candler II have issued invitations to a reception to be given at their home at 1820 Ponce de Leon avenue, on Friday, November 20, in compliment to Mrs. Robert West Candler. Several hundred members of Atlanta society will call between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock to meet the honor guest who is a charming acquisition to social circles.

Mrs. Robert Candler is the former Miss Sarah McCray, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McCray, of Kendallville, Ind. Her marriage to Mr. Candler was a brilliant event of last June, and only recently has she returned with Mr. Candler to make her residence here. The couple has taken possession of their apartment on Peachtree road.

Receiving with the hostesses and the honor guest will be the latter's mother, Mrs. E. E. McCray, of Kendallville, Ind., a former Atlantan, who is receiving a cordial welcome from a host of friends in the city.

Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. Paul Miller, aunt of the honor guest, Mesdames J. Samuel Guy, W. D. Thomson, John J. Eagan, Charles F. Palmer, Tucker I. Irwin, of Washington, Ga.; Edgar Chambers Jr., Ray Edmondson, Wilson Kemp, Henry Willer, Morris Brandon Jr., Charles D. Hurt and Samuel Brown.

Mrs. Robert Candler shared honors yesterday with Mrs. Philip Etheridge, a recent bride, at the tea at which Mrs. Mason Lowance was hostess at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

This Red Schoolhouse Goes on a Quilt

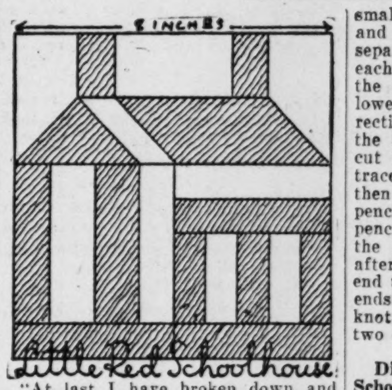
By FLORENCE La GANKE.



"At last I have broken down and given you the pattern for the Little Red schoolhouse. I have had request after request for it, but I always said 'no' because I thought the design was too realistic for a good quilt pattern. But I do realize that the pattern is a traditional and an old one and has value for that reason.

"I can see why some of you who are trying to duplicate the old-fashioned rooms might want to have this design.

"Then, too, I realized that it might well be used for a pillow top or for a pair of pillow tops that could be put on an old-fashioned sofa. So, here you are with the little schoolhouse that will be made, of course, of red material. It is combined with an all-white or with a white calico or percale figured in a tiny black or red dot or star or sprig.

There are a number of ways of putting this quilt together. You can have a whole row of schoolhouses side by side. Then there can be a rather wide sashing between this horizontal row of houses and the next row above and below.

"Or the houses can be alternated with plain eight-inch square blocks. Or each house block can be framed in plain white or figured material. In that case I should use plain white to combine with the red of the schoolhouse and keep the figured background material for joining strips, squares, or sashing.

"There are nine different patterns in the block. You will have to study the pattern sheet carefully. Notice that a number of the pieces have dotted lines indicating some of the outline. This is done because there is not space enough to keep each piece separate and distinct. But study the small house and the lettered pieces and you will be able to get them all separated. In tracing, be sure to have each piece complete and apart from the others. There are no seams allowed on any of the pieces in the direction sheet. After you have traced the designs on lightweight cardboard cut them out, lay them on the goods, trace the outline of each piece and then cut one-eighth inch beyond the pencilled line. In piecing, lay the two pencilled lines together and sew on the line. Press seams open and flat after seaming. Be sure to start and end the seams in one-eighth inch from ends and edges. Have a small firm knot in thread and finish seams with two or three small firm backstitches."

Direction leaflet for "Little Red Schoolhouse" quilt design may be obtained by sending 3 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Nancy Page, care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Miss Curry Weds William P. Grace

Miss Mary Eleanor Curry, of Bradenton, Fla., and Atlanta, and William Porter Rock Jr., of Memphis and Little Rock, were married yesterday at a quiet ceremony taking place at noon at the home of the aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Curry, on Peachtree road. Rev. John Brandon Peters, pastor of the Druid Hills Methodist church, officiated.

The house was decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and ferns, and the young couple stood before a screen in the living room during the ceremony.

Miss Gail Cain, harpist, accompanied on the piano by Birney Curry, cousin of the bride, presented a musical program and Warren Curry gave his niece in marriage.

The bride wore a gold crepe made along princess lines with swing skirt and three-quarter length sleeves. A row of pleating outlined the hemline, edged the sleeves, and the cowl neckline was caught in the center with a clasp of rhinestone keys. Her hat was of dark brown felt and her accessories were brown. She wore a shoulder spray of talisman roses and valley lilies.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Curry entertained in honor of the bride and groom at a small breakfast, guests being limited to members of the families and a few close friends.

Mrs. Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry R. Curry, of Bradenton, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Porter Grace, of Little Rock. After their wedding trip to Miami, the couple will reside in Memphis.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Grace Sr., Miss Annette Grace and Miss Josephine McConnell, sister and cousin of the bridegroom, all of Little Rock.

Contract Bridge

BY ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

THE OPENING BID OF TWO NO TRUMP.

Made a bid of an opening two no trump in any position, vulnerable or not vulnerable, holding:

4-3-3-3 distribution:

Every suit stopped (Q 10 x or better):

Five and one-half to six and one-half honor tricks.

♠Q1065 ♥AK6 ♦KQJ ♣AQJ
♠AJ10 ♥K107 ♦AKJ6 ♣AQ2
♠KJ7 ♥AQ8 ♦AK9 ♣AK43

The opening two no trump bid, although powerful, is not forcing. Partner may pass with a blank hand.

TODAY'S HAND.

When a player is racking his brain trying to decide whether or not to bid a slam a suddenly interjected penalty double by one of the opponents is a welcome solution. Obviously, if he has been considering a 12-trick contract, he can redouble one for only 11 tricks.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠K J 10 8 6 4
♥10
♦A 5 4
♣K 10 8

WEST
♠7 5 3 2
♥8 7 3 2
♦10 9 8 6
♣3

EAST
♠A Q 9
♥9 6 5
♦K Q J
♣Q 9 6 4

SOUTH
♠None
♥A K Q J 4
♦7 3 2
♣A J 7 5 2

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 spade | Pass | 2 hearts | Pass |
| 2 spades | Pass | 3 clubs | Pass |
| 3 spades | Pass | 4 hearts | Pass |
| 5 clubs | Double | Redouble [final bid] | |

South was wondering, when North took him from four hearts to five clubs, what he (South) should do now. To his astonishment he heard East double! Of course, there was the chance that North also had three losing diamonds, but, all in all, South thought the redouble a good gamble. It certainly turned out to be so!

West opened the diamond ten, dummy's ace won, and the king of spades was played. East covered and South ruffed. The ace, king and queen of hearts followed, and dummy's diamonds were cleared away. A diamond was ruffed with the club eight, and the spade jack was led. East, having seen declarer was blank of spades, properly ducked, but declarer merely chucked a heart. Another spade was ruffed with the five spot, and another diamond with the ten of clubs.

On the fourth round of spades East attempted to insure a club trick (which he could not do) by putting in the nine spot, but declarer merely overruffed with the jack, then ruffed his last heart with dummy's club while poor East had to underruff, since he was down to trumps. Now, with the lead in dummy, declarer's ace-seven lay over East's queen-six and, therefore, two overtricks became any down.

A Little Known Fact.

There is widespread agreement to the theory that a slam may justifiably be contracted for if its success depends on one finesse, but even greater unanimity of opinion that if two out of three finesses must succeed the sam contract is terribe.

Now for a bombshell! The two contracts (the first requiring one successful finesse; the second, two success finesses out of three) have precisely the same chance! I am quite certain that this will come as a shock to millions of players, but it is based on a simple mathematical truth.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Is the following hand an opening four-spade bid?

Spades Q J 10 9 7 4 3 2, heart 9, diamonds K J 5, culb 4.

Answer: yes.

♠QJ1097432 ♥9 ♦KJ5 ♣4

TOMORROW'S HAND.

To Be Presented at Driving Club Breakfast

Pictured above is Miss Eloise Gresham, lovely member of the 1936-37 Debutante Club and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Irving Gresham. Miss Gresham will make her formal bow to society with Miss Dorothy Shivers, president of the club, at an elaborate breakfast to be given on Saturday, November 21, at the Piedmont Driving Club by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gresham and Mrs. Lester L. Shivers. Miss Gresham possesses a sparkling personality, a keen sense of humor and a sweetness of manner which have combined to make her an acknowledged belle. She attended Washington Seminary and North Avenue Presbyterian school and is a member of the Phi Pi Club. She completed her education at the University of Georgia, where she was a member of the Phi Mu sorority. She enjoys all outdoor sports, especially golf, and is a bridge enthusiast. The sketch of Miss Gresham was made by Grace Scarboro from a photograph by Asasno, Japanese photographer.

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sunday.—Yesterday I finished reading and signing some 200 letters which were forwarded to me here. They, with the telegrams and telephone messages which have come to us at every plac where we have stopped, have served to accentuate my gradual understanding of the feeling many people have for the President.

People call up just to ask me to thank the President, sometimes for something as intangible as the fact that he has given them their courage back.

One woman had finally obtained a job after long months of hardship, during which her father and mother had gone to an old people's home. She was grateful for the fact that her job had come in time so that when her father died, she could bear the expense of his burial. Now things are so improved that she, her sister and brother are at work, they have a little home again and their mother is with them. She just wanted the President to know that she was one of many people who had lost faith in their country in 1932, and had regained it in 1936.

There is something very touching but also a little awe-inspiring in all this. You cannot help saying over and over again to yourself: "What a responsibility for one man to carry!" Of course, no man could carry it unless the people carried it with him. Perhaps the most important thing is that they can be grateful for their return to faith and courage.

I wish that I could be in New York today. The Public Education Association, in which I have long been interested, is to hold a luncheon today for the purpose of discussing "The Schoolchild and His Health." I can think of nothing more important, for without health no amount of education is of any value, and we still find so much ignorance concerning the proper care of children.

Mrs. Scheider and I spent a quiet afternoon in the Allis hotel in Wichita, Kan., yesterday before my speech in the evening.

At 11 o'clock this morning, Miss Ann Laughlin, national youth administrator for the state of Kansas, came for me at the Muehlebach hotel in Kansas City, Mo., and we drove to see a girls' camp under the N. Y. A. They have initiative and originality in this state, and I think they are going to prove what I always contended, that there are work projects which girls can do in camps, as well as boys. These girls looked well and happy, and I was glad of the chance to see them.

They have set an objective to shoot at in the Youth Administration here—in every community they are trying to get sponsors for every young person. These sponsors will assume the responsibility of seeing that they obtain proper training and later a job. That's a grand objective. I wish that we could spread and obtain it throughout the country. It would be good for both young and old.

Mr. Shippen Plans Beautification Project

William H. Shippen, who resides at 2559 Peachtree road, was one of the first to indorse the 100 per cent plan to pave and beautify the sidewalks on the road, being sponsored by the Peachtree Garden Club. In a letter to Mrs. Trammell Scott, president of the horticultural organization, Mr. Shippen says:

"Your plan to have the property owners furnish the materials, and the county to do the work, is a fair proposition. I am ready to put the materials on the ground, the moment the county will start the work, and advise me that they are ready for the materials to pave the 100 feet in front of my property.

"When the good women get behind a project it goes. I wish members of the Peachtree Garden Club the abundant success that your noble work deserves."

Mrs. John W. Grant is general chairman of the beautification project, which has Mrs. Doughty Manley as cochairman.

Prominent Eastern Visitors Honored

Among distinguished visitors in the city are Mrs. Smedley Butler, of Newtown Square, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. C. Ashby Henry, of Ardmore, Pa., who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Black and Richard Peters, of Chester Pa., and Ralph Peters, of New York, who are with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Atkinson.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Black entertain at dinner at their home on Oakdale road complimenting these visitors, the guests to be limited to members of the family. Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson were hosts at tea at their home, Mayfair, for the eastern visitors.

East Lake Garden Club Gives Luncheon.

Tech Limited to Light Drill; Georgia Sees Fighting Chance

Mr. Thomas was on the wire down at Tuscaloosa:

"That Tech team! Don't talk to me. I could hardly get out of the stadium. I mean it. I was so weak and exhausted I was down.

"Tech is the best offensive team we've met all this season.

"Alex will have all these coaches in their graves before they are 40 with that stuff. He's got enough power to ram the ball down your throat and then he has all that razzle-dazzle stuff.

"Why," said Mr. Thomas, and his voice went so high it squeaked, "once there six men handled the ball. It's awful."

I asked Mr. Thomas if he had any explanation of why the Techs have been losing football games.

"You can search me," he said. "It's the best offense we've seen. And I don't know why they didn't play in the first half. If they had, they'd have beat us. They just seemed to be waiting for something. When they were going and our team tried to play, they couldn't do a thing. That Tech power was too much for us to stop. That's a great football team and they must be beating themselves. When they are going, no one can beat them."

COACH ALEX.

"They tell me you were taking your coat off and then putting it back on again in that last half."

"I may have been. I don't know. I was just about nuts, and when the game was over I honestly couldn't get up off that bench. I was done in. And it was my birthday, too."

Excitement does things like that to the Alabama director. After the 1935 Rose Bowl game he was so limp he didn't know the exact score, couldn't remember who threw the passes and wasn't sure when he had substituted and who. It was a couple of hours later before he got the perspective.

His tribute to Tech is a good one. He has seen Mississippi State, Tennessee, Kentucky and Tulane, among others, and he thinks Tech's attack easily the best of the lot.

ONE OF THESE DAYS.

One of these days—there are three games left—Mr. William Alexander and his friends would like to see this Tech team turn on its offense at the start and keep it going through most of the 60 minutes allotted to each game.

This is a fighting outfit out there at the Flats. But they seem to start their fighting when the other team is out in front by a couple of touchdowns.

Against Auburn the Tech attack didn't really get going at top speed until Auburn was out in front by 13 points. And on

SCOUTS REPORT 'GATOR ELEVEN FIGHTING CLUB

Alex Warns Jackets Not To Take Florida as Rest Game.

Georgia Tech's football squad, having lost to Auburn by a lone point and to Alabama by 4, took it lightly yesterday afternoon.

Florida is ahead and Florida is the team that defeated Maryland's tough Terrapins the Saturday before losing to Georgia.

"We didn't do much," said Coach William Alexander, moodily trying to arrive at some conclusion as to how to ignite his attack early in the next three games. "We've got to give the "Bee" team time to learn the Florida formations and so we'll just do some running. And some signals."

YOUNG TEAM.

Florida comes to Atlanta Saturday with a new team and a young team. It lost to Kentucky by 7 points, defeated Maryland then lost to Georgia by two touchdowns.

Coach Alexander sounded a sincere warning to his team yesterday.

"Florida," he said, "may have been referred to as a rest game but don't think so for a moment. It is a good team and a fighting team and it can beat you if you regard it as a rest contest."

THREE GAMES LEFT.

Tech has three games left, Florida, Georgia and California, the latter game being almost a post-season affair, coming on December 26, the morning after Santa Claus has arrived.

Georgia has only Fordham and Tech. But Georgia, taking the pounding of the Fordham game and traveling back to play Georgia Tech, will have an assignment large enough.

Coach Alexander plans no changes in his lineup or any revamping of his attack. It is great once it gets started. It is one of the really destructive offenses in the south. Yet it never has any consistency. What he needs is a self-starter. And he can't find one. Or hadn't yesterday.

Cody Remodels Florida Eleven.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A remodeled Florida football team got down to work today in preparation for an encounter with Georgia Tech at Atlanta Saturday.

Seeking to strengthen the line, Coach Josh Cody moved Charlie Root to right tackle, shifted Julian Lane from right to left guard and brought up Frank Koscis from the reserves to play right guard.

For two years Root has held down capably a guard post and Cody believes he will fit in well at tackle.

Cody figured Koscis, who has been Lane's substitute, would have enough responsibility filling in on the first team without having to change to the other side of the line.

Florida Linemen Who Face Tech Here Saturday

Josh Cody's plucky and dangerous Florida team will serve as Georgia Tech's opposition at Grant field Saturday afternoon. It will be Cody's first appearance here as leader of the 'Gators and he will likely be loaded for the Jackets. The two huskies above are a pair of his best linemen. At the left is S. L. Yon, a tackle. The cotton-head at the right is Charlie Root, 191-pound guard, who yesterday was shifted to tackle. Special Constitution photos.

REJUVENATED BULLDOGS HOPE TO HOLD RAMS

Mehre's Charges Determined To Continue 'Indian Sign' Over East.

By Al G. Smith.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Georgia's rejuvenated Bulldogs, marching grimly along the comeback trail, go east this week determined to continue their "Indian sign" over eastern elevens by smashing Fordham's hopes of a Rose Bowl invitation.

However, few of the Bulldogs' supporters give them more than an outside chance to defeat unbeaten-but-tied Fordham, possessors of one of the finest forward walls in the country.

Since a sophomore team upset a highly favored Yale squad, 15 to 0, at Athens in 1929, the Bulldogs have won eight of ten games from Yale and New York University, the two eastern outfits Georgia has met since 1928.

FIVE FROM ELI.

The Athens teams coached by Harry Mehre, who became head mentor in 1928, won five straight from Old Eli—chalking up victories in 1929, 1930, 1931, 1933 and 1934, the last year they played. They didn't meet in 1932 and the Bulldogs lost in 1928. Georgia is the only team ever to beat Yale five straight.

New York University, then a power in national football circles under Chick Meehan, defeated Georgia to open their series in 1929, but the Bulldogs, led by the great Catfish Smith, took the next two games by identical scores of 7-6. N. Y. U. won in 1932 and Georgia ended the series the following year by smashing the Violets, 25 to 0, at Athens.

After opening the present season with victories over Mercer and Furman, Georgia, beset by injuries and with a green team, was swamped by Louisiana State, 47 to 7, then lost a close 13-to-6 battle to Rice.

MAULED BY VOLS.

Auburn took a 20-to-13 decision despite a furious last-half Bulldog comeback. Georgia fortunes reached the lowest point in a decade the following Saturday when Tennessee won, 46 to 0.

The Thursday night before Georgia met Florida, the squad got together without the coaches to talk this over, agreeing the team's misfortunes were not the fault of the coaches. The players, some with tears in their eyes, promised each other they would beat Florida.

Alumni wolves had begun howling for the coaching scalp of Harry Mehre, once a star center on a Knute Rockne-coached Notre Dame team. As the starting eleven filed out of the dressing room for the Florida game each player shook hands with Mehre and murmured.

FOR COACH MEHRE.

"This one is all we've got for you, coach."

Georgia won, 26 to 8.

Last Saturday they turned in a 12-6 upset of Tulane, beaten previously only by Alabama.

The experts say Georgia has no chance against mighty Fordham Saturday, but here in Athens, where they are accustomed to welcoming victorious teams back from the east, a lot of folks are hard to convince.

Georgia Squad In Good Shape

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Given a new lease on life by two successive triumphs, the Georgia Bulldogs longingly heard of the unbeaten Fordham Rams in a lecture directed by Athletic director Stegeman this afternoon.

Except for Roddenbery's knee injury, no casualties were attributed to the upset of the Green Wave. Granting that Harry Stevens' hip bruise may have recovered by Saturday, the Bulldogs bid fair to be in excellent condition for the Fordham tilt, which

Bob Davis Holds To Scoring Lead; Konemann Third

By The Associated Press.

Georgia Tech's Dutch Konemann was only one point behind Alabama's Joe Kilgrow today in a wide-open battle for second place in Southeastern conference football scoring.

Bob Davis, Kentucky halfback, leading the field all season, went scoreless for the fourth straight week end, but remained safely ahead of the slowly advancing contenders. Kilgrow, scoring extra points but no touchdowns for the fourth consecutive Saturday, pushed his total to 44 points—22 behind Davis. Konemann tallied a touchdown for the third week in a row.

Bert Johnson, of Kentucky, and Harry Appleby, of Georgia Tech, each advancing two places among the leaders, and Tulane's Bill Mattis round out the quintet contending for second position.

The leaders, including all with four touchdowns or more:

| Player-School— | Pos. | G. | Td. | Pat. | Tp. |

Art Buck Leads All Grid Scorers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Although the nation's list of football scoring leaders underwent drastic revision over the week-end, none of the touchdown-producing pacesetters was able to come even close to overhauling Art Buck, quarterback at Carroll, of Wisconsin.

Buck's point total of 102, compiled by 14 touchdowns, 15 extra points and a field goal, went unchanged, since he has completed his season, but he still remained 17 points in front of his nearest rival, Len Wilson, of Appalachian, who added two touchdowns to bring his season record to 85 points.

His increase advanced him from a tie for third place to second on the national list, as Fred King, of Hobart, the eastern leader, dropped to fourth, with an unchanged total of 75. Dick Weisgerber, far-western leader at Willamette, boosted his total to 79, for third place.

Byron White, of Colorado, with 48 points, blew up to a tie with Newell Call, of Utah, for the Rocky Mountain lead.

Howard Cleveland, Kansas State quarterback, took over the Big Six scoring lead from Lloyd Cardwell, of Nebraska, with 37 points, and Ed Goddard, Washington State, boosted his total to 36 points to hold undisputed possession of the Pacific Coast conference lead, with Southern California's Davie Davis falling behind.

DEPAUL WINS.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A touchdown pass from Phillips to Apolskis in the closing minutes today gave DePaul University of Chicago a 26-to-19 victory over Arkansas Tech.

Smithies Accept Jacksonville Bid

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Tech High, of Atlanta, will send its football team here to meet undefeated Julia Landon, of Jacksonville, the night of December 3.

Officials, in making the announcement, expressed the belief that the clash of the crack Florida team and the Atlanta eleven, which though defeated this year, ranks with the strongest elevens in Georgia, would attract a great crowd.

- Williamson's Ratings -

These ratings represent each team's efficiency of consistent performance to date. The ratings do not always indicate a direct gauge of the possible strength of each team as compared to all the others in the table, but in general they do indicate each team's relative strength in comparison with its scheduled opponents. The final ratings of the completed season, however, should be close to a 100 per cent measure of the strength of the respective teams. The percentage figures below right-hand column) are the most important. The listing figures (left-hand column) are for convenience in giving the factional differences in order, although it is expected that at the end of the season the teams will finish in their true order.

Brown Fights Contender Monday

By Morris Siegel.

Ben Brown, East Point's youthful middleweight boxing star, will face his greatest test in his attempt to wrest the crown from Champion Freddie Steele next Monday night in Richmond when he is slated to face Ken Overlin, No. 1 contender for Steele's title, according to word received here last night.

Brown, only 18, has amassed an impressive record of victories while on his present tour, his victims including Carmen Vitullo, high-ranking middleweight ace.

Boxing experts in Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and New York declare the youthful Georgian to be one of the best prospects they have seen in many moons and predict he will annex the middleweight title ere long.

The East Point ace is not a slugger, but carries a great wallop in either hand. He is a methodical and scientific ringman.

Brown began his career as an amateur, fighting on many cards in and around the city.

When the young star steps in the ring against Overlin Monday night, one may rest assured that the entire state will be pulling for him to come through. And there are many confident that he will.

The winner, in all probability, will be given a crack at Steele's title.

Seminary Swimmers Hold Meet Thursday

Washington Seminary girls will stage a swimming carnival at the Atlanta Athletic Club Thursday night at 8 o'clock. It is the first water event of the season for a talented and enthusiastic squad. Miss Mary Ligon will be in charge.

The program will include these events:

A 25-yard free-style dash, 25-yard back crawl, 25-yard breast-stroke, relay races, form swimming, diving, a balloon race and costume race.

There will be a slight admission charge.

Six Mat Aces To Appear Friday

Unlike last week's wrestling show in which the headliner featuring Dean Detton, world's champion, against Dick Raines was the only real gate attraction, Promoter Frank Speer's offering at the Atlanta theater Friday night is an all-star lineup. Each of the six principals is a consistent headliner.

While Dorve Roche, ex-coal miner, and Blue Sun Jennings meet in the advertised main event, a match that should supply speedy and thrilling action, many fans are equally interested in the two supporting matches. The semi-final pits Milo Steinborn, world's strongest wrestler, against Sol Slagle, pudgy contortionist from New York. Hans Steinke, giant German oak, and Roland Kirchmyer, of Oklahoma A. & M., will open the card.

Incidentally, any show which can start off by offering a Hans Steinke-Roland Kirchmyer match as a curtain raiser wounld have to be pretty good. Steinke, seldom seen in the south, has for years figured in the "big gates" around the east, and never has been rated out of the first ten heavyweights within the past ten years. Kirchmyer is regarded as one of the most scientific matmen of the day.

Milo Steinborn's strength often has been called upon to combat a scientific wrestler, and more than once he has pitted his power against a bad man, but Friday night will be the German lion's first attempt to match the trickery of a contortionist. Slagel, the Jewish heavy from New York, is a wizard at wriggling free of seemingly impossible holds. This one should be an interesting experiment.

Ticket sare on sale at Marshall & Reynolds.

AlabamaDropped To Eighth Place; L. S. U. Is Sixth

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Clinging tenaciously to their slender margin with the same bulldog spirit that carried them to the Big Ten triumph and an all-winning season thus far, Northwestern led Minnesota today in the Associated Press college football ranking poll.

The balloting marked Northwestern's third straight weke on top. For the second straight week the Wildcats led the Gophers by a scant six points, with a total of 337 out of a maximum of 370. Minnesota accumulated 331 points.

Seventeen of the 37 experts contributing to this week's nation-wide sampling of the expert pulse kept Northwestern at the peak. Twevle named Minnesota as the country's best team. Four placed Fordham, currently the "hot" eastern choice for the Rose Bowl, in the No. 1 position despite the fact the Rams did not even play last Saturday. The University of Washington, moving up to sixth from tenth in the nation-wide poll, and Louisiana State, No. 5 in the list, split the other first-place ballots.

Here's the outcome of this week's poll (points score on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

FIRST TEN.

| FIRST TEN. | | SECOND TEN. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Northwestern | 337 | 11. Notre Dame | 19 |
| 2. Minnesota | 331 | 12. Dartmouth | 10 |
| 3. Fordham | 257 | 13. Nebraska | 9 |
| 4. Pittsburgh | 240 | 14. Texas A&M | 8 |
| 5. Louisiana State | 166 | 15. Wash. State | 7 |
| 6. U. of Wash. | 165 | 16 Duke | 6 |
| 7. Marquette | 154 | 17 Holy Cross | 5 |
| 8. Alabama | 150 | 18 Ohio State | 4 |
| 9. Santa Clara | 143 | 19 Tennessee | 3 |
| 10 Pennsylvania | 25 | 20. Temple and Duquesne | 2 |

Relatively little shakeup occurred in the top flight this week. The chief casualty was Nebraska, which dropped from sixth place to 13th as the result of being soundly beaten by Pittsburgh. Pennsylvania, moving up a notch, made the "first ten" for the first time this season.

Pittsburgh, Louisiana State and Marquette, as a consequence of noteworthy triumphs, each advanced in the top ten. Alabama fell off four notches, from fourth to eighth.

OWENS LEADING FOR 1936 TROPHY

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Jesse Owens is out in front, again this time in the race for the 1936 James E. Sullivan-award.

The Ohio State Olympic sprint and broad jump champion leads by a few votes ahead of Glen Morris, national and Olympic decathlon champion, today in the list of 33 athletes nominated for the award by over 600 sports experts all over the country.

The announcement was made by Dan Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union. He refused to reveal the margin of Owens' lead.

This list of 33 will be cut to 10 by the Sullivan award committee of the A. A. U. The committee will announce its selections at the A. A. U. convention in Houston, Texas, December 4, and the 600 sports leaders will select the winner from the 10.

Other leaders in the order of balloting were Jack Medica, Seattle, Wash., Olympic 400-meter free-style swimming champion; Forrest "Spec" Towns, University of Georgia hurdler; Glenn Hardin, Louisiana State University hurdler; Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati, national amateur golf champion; Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Cal., winner of the all-England tennis singles crown; Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., Olympic women's sprint champion; Alice Marble, national women's tennis singles champion, and Jay Berwanger, All-America back from the University of Chicago.

Glenn Cunningham, Lawrence, Kan., miler, was also favored in the voting, though as winner of the 1933 award he is not eligible to receive it again. Other winners of the award are Lawson Little, 1935; Bill Bonthron, 1934; Jim Bausch, 1932; Barney Berlinger, 1931, and Bobby Jones, 1930.

PETREL ELEVEN RETURNS HOME; SEVERAL HURT

Clyburn Has Appendicitis 'Scare'; Pickard, Pigago Reinjured.

Oglethorpe's Stormy Petrels, who returned Sunday from their game with the Mississippi College "Choctaws," suffered heavily from injuries. Even Coach Patrick is ailing. He has a slight attack of flu.

"Shorty" Clyburn, Oglethorpe fullback, who suffered an attack of appendicitis on the return trip from Mississip, was taken to a hospital and it was decided that an operation was not necessary. He is expected to be back at practice in a day or two.

Football practice was called off yesterday in order to let the injured men have a period of recuperation before starting to work for the final game with Stetson Thanksgiving Day.

Leonard Pickard received an arm injury, forcing him from the game. Chris Pigago suffered a gash over his eye and a charley-horse. Henry Horton and Paul Neal, who were suffering last week from ankle and knee injuries, were hurt over again. Ben Forkner twisted his ankle and may be several days getting over the injury.

With nearly two weeks before the next and final game on the Oglethorpe schedule, the Petrels should be able to round into good playing condition before that time. It is doubtful whether Pickard will be able to play the next game as the extent of his injury as yet is not fully known. If an operation is necessary, Clyburn will be out for the last game and the fullback duties will fall on the shoulders of Ansel Paulk. Jo Jo Walter may be shifted back into this position as he did once before when Clyburn had an ailing ankle.

Although most of the Mississippi touchdowns resulted mostly from freak plays, it was indeed a "Hitt parade," as the two Hitt brothers, Joel and James, consistently carried the ball for long gains.

It will be necessary for the Petrels to win their Thanksgiving Day game against Stetson in Deland if they are to maintain a better than .500 average for the season.

It is possible that Patrick may let the boys have it easy for a day or two to recuperate from Saturday's game, before commencing the hard work for the "Hatters" of Stetson.

GROUSE SEASON.

BANNER ELK, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Sportsmen from many sections of the United States are expected here Friday for the opening of the grouse season—America's counterpart of the famous Scottish sport. Edgar H. Tufts, president of the Edgar Tufts Memorial Association, reported reservations by sports enthusiasts from a wide area.

Meagher Rates Broncos Second to 1931 Trojans

Santa Clara Called Best Team on Coast; Auburn To Accept Havana Bid.

By Jack Troy.

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 16.—The Bucking Broncos of Santa Clara are Coach Jack Meagher's nomination as the best team he has seen since the Southern California team of 1931.

Coach Meagher had not noticed the score of Sunday's game wherein the Broncos smashed St. Mary's Galloping Gaels, 19 to 0.

"I'm glad to hear that score," he said, "for it sort of bears out what I had thought all along. Santa Clara undoubtedly is the best team on the Pacific coast and, certainly, one of the outstanding clubs in the country.

"Buck Shaw has done a very fine job. He has a polished team that blocks very well. You can say anything you want to about the defense. It is very strong.

NOTRE DAME SYSTEM.

"Shaw uses a dyed-in-the-wool Notre Dame attack. There are no variations. It's simply Notre Dame through and through.

"The blocking and tackling of the Santa Clara team is magnificent.'

"Falaschi, the big Italian quarterback of the Broncos, is rated the best blocking back on the coast. He also directs the team on the field. An excellent defensive player, too.", Coach Meagher ventured the opinion that Santa Clara has more finesse than L. S. U. and is, perhaps, a team of more power.

"The team probably will not get any recognition on the coast, since there are regulations which say the Rose Bowl representative must come out of the conference. But I will say this—Santa Clara is a good bet for some bowl game," Meagher added.

Auburn suffered no little in the L. S. U. game by the loss for almost a quarter of Captain Walter Gilbert, the great center. Coach Meagher does not know how Gilbert was hurt, but the coaches noticed early in the third quarter that Gilbert was asking about signals. We held him out for the rest of that quarter."

"THE BEST CENTER."

Coach Meagher does not subscribe to reports that Marvin Stewart is a better center than Gilbert.

"Gilbert is the best center I ever saw," he said.

"I never have seen a better defender against passes. He is a very fine defensive man and a most accurate snapper.

"The L. S. U. game is the only game he has had to leave because of an injury. And he certainly helped us greatly all the time he was in there."

Coach Meagher's Plainsmen have a home-coming game coming up this week end. Loyola, of New Orleans, will play here. Dixie Howell, Alabama's great back of a couple of years ago, is backfield coach of the Wolves.

It is certain Auburn will go to Havana, Cuba, for a post-season game. A bid has been received. Coach Meagher said "It will be a fine trip for the boys and will come at a time when it does not interfere with scholastic work."

Dapper Jack Meagher settled back today and watched a game in peace and comfort. Ralph Jordan, Auburn freshman coach, was allowed to do all the worrying.

Golf Memorial At Forest Hills

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Something new—a memorial to a golf shot—will rise on the Forrest Hills course here late this month.

It will be a granite marker on the fifth tee, from which Al Watrous drove off on March 29, 1936, to score a double eagle when he holed a 200-yard No. 1 iron shot.

Watrous was practicing for the Augusta National tournament at the time, a year after Gene Sarazen made his famous double eagle on the National course to tie Craig Wood in the finals and force a play-off, which he won.

The unveiling will be the morning of November 29 when finalists tee off in the first annual Augusta open over the Forest Hills course.

Warrenton Victories Declared Forfeited

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Warrenton High's previous victories this season were declared forfeited by members of the tenth district executive committee at a meeting Saturday in Washington.

The announcement was made because it was discovered that two of Warrenton's players, Anderson and Johnson, were over-age.

CODY NAMES SMITH.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Josh Cody, athletic director at the University of Florida, said today Harry Smith would act temporarily as assistant director. Smith succeeds Pat Patillo, assistant director for six years, who resigned to enter the insurance business at Jacksonville

CALIFORNIA PRO EQUALS COURSE RECORD WITH 68

Gerlak, of New York, Is Only Other Player To Break Par.

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP) A sparkling four-under-par 68, tying the Pinehurst Club's No. 2 course record, today gave Fay Coleman, 31-year-old Culver City, Cal., player, the shotmaking honors in the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round of the Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Coleman, who quit the amateur ranks five years ago and gave his former teacher, Leo Diegel, a drubbing in the early rounds of the 1934 P. G. A. tournament at Buffalo, fought the wind and cold to put together a pair of 34s and came within inches of eclipsing the course record hung up by Horton Smith and Ray Mangrum in the North and South Open last year. His 11-foot putt at the 18th for a birdie 3 and a 67 slid narrowly past the can.

The wavy-haired Californian and Alex Gerlak, of Catskill, N. Y., who posted a 71, were the only players to equal or better par among upwards of 110 starters striving for 63 places in the match play competition which starts Wednesday with two 18-hole rounds.

The second and final 18-hole qualifying round will be played tomorrow.

Four players, Clarence Yockey, of Kansas City, playing in his first P. G. A.; Tony Manero, of Greensboro, N. C., 1936 National Open champion; Leo Walker, Bethesda, Md., driving range operator, and tall Henry Picard, the Hershey, Pa., stylist, were bracketed with 73s.

"Lighthorse Harry" Cooper of Chicago, one of the outstanding favorites, had an excellent chance of overtaking Coleman. He went out in 33, but he blew up on the way back, missing tee shots at the 11th and 12th and finished with a 42 for 75.

As a matter of fact all the favorites were far off Coleman's pace. Picard showed best with a 73, and then came Johnny Revolta, the defending champion, who is exempt from qualifying but played for the exercise, 74; Horton Smith and Gene Sarazen, 75; Paul Runyan, 78, and Jimmy Hines, 79.

THE SCORES.

Football Very Kind To Waldorf Brothers

HAYS, Kan., Nov. 16.—(UP)—Football fates have been kind to the four Waldorf brothers this year.

A week after Lynn Waldorf's Northwestern University squad won the championship of the Big Ten, Paul's Fort Hays State Teachers defeated the Pittsburg Teachers, 23 to 0, to emerge the undefeated, untied Central Kansas conference champions.

A third brother, John, who formerly coached two championship teams at Nebraska Wesleyan, has had a successful season of officiating football in the Missouri valley, and a fourth brother, Robert, is doing well on the University of Missouri freshman team.

BABY JACKETS LOSE AT AUBURN BY 25-TO-0 SCORE

Fumbles Give Baby Cubs Scoring Chances; Razzle-Dazzle Fails.

By Jack Troy.

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 16.—Auburn's Cubs, having somewhat of an appearance at times of full-grown Tigers, gave the Baby Jackets, of Georgia Tech, an old-fashioned shellacking this afternoon. The score was 25 to 0.

A fumble in the early minutes of the first quarter set the Baby Jackets off to a bad start.

There was a real break, to begin with, when Howard Ector's punt struck George Wendling and Tech recovered at the Auburn 22.

The Baby Jackets tried some fancy stuff and it backfired. Tommy Brooks fired a pass to Junius Page, who ran to the 10 and then tossed a lateral to Ector. Ector fumbled and George Kenmore, Americus boy, recovered at the Tiger Cubs' 5-yard line.

The Baby Jackets never quite got in the game after that break. It was, in fact, the only real threat they made to score.

PASS GAINS.

There were such things as a gain of 38 yards on a pass from Beers to Page, a 10-yard pass and a 28-yard run. But even such a play as this carried the Baby Jackets no closer than the Auburn 23-yard line.

There was some nice bucking by Beers and some fancy stepping by Brooks and Page, but it only represented some substantial gaining around midfield.

Each time the Baby Jackets looked as if they might be going some place, the Tiger Cubs came up with a defense that was just about as loose as concrete.

The Tech freshmen were not very impressive. And yet, they probably would have been hard to handle had they gone on to score early in the game. The fumble sort of set them back.

And it gave the Tiger Cubs of Ralph Jordan just the kind of assurance they needed, it seemed.

Touchdowns were scored by Mac Harrison, reserve end; John Shearer, a reserve back; Jack Mercer, of Gray, Ga., regular quarterback, and Charles Haynesworth, hard-driving fullback.

CUBS SCORE.

The Tiger Cubs scored about midway of the first quarter. Brooks' short kick was deaded at the Baby Jacket 26-yard line. Harrison made three yards on an end around play and then Kenmore, the Georgia boy, passed to Harrison for a touchdown. It was a neat 13-yard pass, followed by Harrison's 10-yard sprint.

Page fumbled and Mercer, a Georgia boy, recovered at the Auburn 42-yard line to give the Tiger Cubs another break and set the stage for the second touchdown which came in the second period.

Kenmore circled left end for 27 yards. There was an offside penalty for the Baby Jackets. The ball was at the Tech 25. Harrison and Kenmore toted it to the 15 and a pass, Mercer to John Hamm, was good for 12 yards. This left only three to go. Hamm made one and then Shearer ran off left tackle for the touchdown. Hamm's try for extra point was good. It bounced off a Tech player and went right through the middle of the goal posts.

TWICE IN FINAL.

The third quarter was scoreless, but the Tiger Cubs scored twice in the final period. Another fumble contributed to the third touchdown, as Ector tossed away a lateral and Jeffries recovered at the Baby Jackets' 28.

Haynesworth gained 4 and then passed 10 yards to Shearer. Dean

City Champs Feted With Turkey Dinner

Boys' High undefeated, city, state and southern prep football champions were guests at a turkey dinner served Monday at noon at the school. The school athletic association was host with Mrs. E. L. Crawford, in charge of the school cafeteria, serving the players.

Monday was a holiday for the new city champions, following a 19-to-13 defeat over Tech High, bitter rival, Friday night before a new prep record crowd of more than 13,500 spectators.

The squad will go back to work this afternoon, but the workout will be very light. No rough work will be taken up until Thursday afternoon, when a heavy scrimmage, probably the last of the year, will be held.

The Purples will close their 10-game schedule Thanksgiving Day with Miami High in Miami.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Marquette's final charge in the direction of an unbeaten season will be her hardest engagement. Duquesne has been good enough to beat both Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech—and keep both from scoring. Duquesne's defensive strength, with the able Basrak at center, will be a first-class test for Buivid and the Guepes, who round out one of the best backfields of the year. If Marquette can break down this final barrier, there is almost certain to be an invitation to one of the bowls, where Buivid and the Guepes and others will show their speed. Marquette has plenty of this—and Buivid can pass.

Northwestern will have just as hard an afternoon running down Notre Dame at South Bend. This ordinarily would be Notre Dame's Saturday to dip again, but Elmer Layden believes victory over the Army has driven the habit of defeat out of camp. Any team gets a thrill in having a short at some unbeaten opponent, and Norte Dame will be keyed up for this occasion. Northwestern, slowing down a bit after the Minnesota game, may also be ready to start moving at her former pace. The Wildcats will need their top supply of stuff to leave South Bend in front.

L. S. U. now looks safe enough, with Southwestern and Tulane her only remaining foes. Alabama's last test is Vanderbilt. So there may be two bowl claimants from Tuscaloosa and Baton Rouge. So far as the Rose and Sugar Bowl entries go, the leading candidates now are Fordham, Washington, Marquette, L. S. U. and Alabama. Both Arkansas and Texas A. & M. are up around the front with two of the best from the cottonwood trail along the southwest. Duke is another stronghold that can take some consideration, with Ace Parker on the warpath.

Looking Around.

Mal Stevens figures that Georgia may bother Fordham more than N. Y. U. can hope to do. "We just haven't got the power at N. Y. U. for a Fordham game," he said. "But Georgia has a pretty big team—a team that started slowly and is now beginning to find itself. I don't believe Georgia can do anything with that Fordham line, but no one ever knows what a desperate passing attack will do if it happens to start clicking. Georgia will shoot the works in this game, and it may turn out to be a hard afternoon."

Georgia's victory over Tulane has helped to erase any deep overconfidence Fordham might have felt.

One of the remarkable features of Yale's come-back against Princeton after trailing 16 points is that Yale has been under heavy fire since her first game—Cornell, Pennsylvania, Navy, Dartmouth all make rugged opponents. To be run over for 20 minutes and then come back for 26 points in the next 40 minutes is sufficient testimony that the old Yale spirit is not only not fading, but burning with an even brighter flame. Certainly no Yale team in history has ever had more poise or greater courage than this brigade in blue has shown all fall.

While each team has been beaten once, I doubt that the national display has two better teams than Minnesota and Pittsburgh. When it comes to a mixture or a combination or line and backfield strength, all-round ability, these would be no worse than an even bet against any team you might pick from any section. And both have been up against harder opposition than many other leaders have had to face.

The Dartmouth-Princeton affair this next Saturday has everybody guessing. Yale figures Dartmouth was much stronger against her team than Princeton was.

"Dartmouth is the best blocking team we've seen in a long time." Earle Neale said. "They can block and they can carry that ball."

Lou Little figures Dartmouth's only possible weakness migh be against a pass attack. After losing to Pennsylvania, being tied by Harvard and falling before Yale after a big lead, it takes no prophet to suggest the Tiger will be ready to play itself out against the team that has already beaten Harvard and Yale.

F. L. D.—Among the best passers of the year you can figure Baugh, of S. C. V.; Buivid, of Marquette; Robbins, of Arkansas; Frank, of Yale, Parker, of Duke. There are many others, but these will do well enough when it comes to planting the ball in the right spot at the right time.

Two of the year's best pass receivers are Kelley, of Yale, and Guepe, of Marquette. Kelley is one of the best I ever saw. He hasn't big hands, but they have an amazing way of gripping and holding the ball when it seems out of reach. All he seems to need is a finger-tip grip and the ball stays put.

Two of the year's leading comebacks after rocy starts must include Tennessee and Harvard. Tennessee is now a far different team from the one that lost to North Carolina and Auburn. And Harvard is far above her strength in the Army and Dartmouth games. Who would have figured three weeks ago that Harvard could score 27 points against Princeton and Navy?

"Don't think," remarked Ducky Pond, after the Princeton games, "that we are taking that Harvard party for granted. It will be one of our toughest games and we know it."

Both Harvard and Princeton will also be glad to know that this is Larry Kelley's final afternoon for Yale.

AUBURN INVITED FOR POST-SEASON TEST AT HAVANA

Meagher Declines Comment at Present on New Year Game.

Coach Jack Meagher said yesterday at Auburn that, while he had not officially accepted the Havana invitation, he would do so at the proper time. "It will be a fine trip for the boys," he said, "and will come at a time when it will not conflict with classes."

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Auburn Plainsmen, authoritative sources disclosed today, have been invited to play in a post-season football game in Havana next January 1 as a climax to the Cuban capital's mid-winter sports festival.

Football Coach Jack Meagher declined to comment on the invitation.

The invitation, the source disclosed, provided a flat guarantee of $15,000 with an option on receipts for the game, probably against an eastern or mid-western opponent.

Teams under consideration as Auburn's opponent, the informant said, include Pennsylvania, Fordham, Duquesne, Marquette, Texas Christian and Arkansas.

Army originally was the first choice among eastern elevens, but chances for the service eleven participating were regarded as slender.

Carlos Henrique visited Auburn and the University of Alabama campuses recently for conferences on the post-season game at Havana. He is in Washington this week, presumably to confer with officials there in a final effort to get approval for Army to meet Auburn.

In the event Auburn accepts the invitation, the Southeastern conference must grant its consent to the game.

IGLEHART RATED IN 10 GOAL CLASS

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Stewart Iglehart Jr., former Yale star and member of America's last international team, was boosted into the ten-goal class by the handicap committee of the United States Polo Association today.

Iglehart, who was rated at eight goals last year, takes his place alongside Tommy Hitchcock, veteran internationalist, who retained his ten-goal, or maximum, rating.

Hitchcock won the top handicap for the fifteenth time in the last 16 years. Until Iglehart's jump today only two other American players, besides Hitchcock, had earned 10-goal ranking since 1928. Elmer Boeseke, the Californian, and Cecil Smith, the Texan, were ranked at the maximum along with Hitchcock in 1934.

Smith, dropped into the eight-goal class a year ago, moves up a notch to nine goals along with Eric Pedley, of California, whose rating last year was seven goals.

The eight-goal class includes: Gerald Balding, dropped from nine goals, and Eric H. Tyrrell-Martin, boosted from seven, and Winston Guest, Mike Phipps, Billy Post and Aidan Roark, all of whom held the same eight-goal rating last year.

By FREDERICK GARDNER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The stock market climbed back in the recovery saddle today as business news brightened and fears of immediate foreign liquidation lessened appreciably.

With favorable earnings statements and dividends heartening traders, industrial leaders were given a lift of fractions to 2 points and a few as much as 9 or so.

Amusement and merchandising issues were in the forefront, although selected steel, copper, motor, aircraft, utility and oil favorites were plentiful. Rails were inclined to mark time but one or two were in demand.

The revival was rather slow throughout the greater part of the session, but the pace gained momentum in the final half hour. Transfers totaled 2,374,480 shares against 2,482,250 last Friday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .7 of a point at 71.6.

Steels were aided by an optimistic review by the magazine "Steel," as well as the estimate of the American Iron & Steel Institute of an advance in steel mill operations this week of .1 of a point at 74.1 per cent of capacity.

Convertible bonds pushed higher. Lead was boosted to its peak level in six years. Corn and wheat futures at Chicago were up 1 to around 2 cents a bushel. Cotton advanced 55 to 75 cents a bale. Foreign currencies were a trifle mixed in terms of the dollar.

Skelly Oil directors paid off dividend accumulations on the preferred amounting to $25.50 a share. This issue, up about 3 at one time, finished with a net gain of 1 1-2 at 125. The common was up 1 3-8 at 36 5-8.

Prominent on the upside were R-K-O, at 10; Warner Brothers, 18; Radio, 12; Walworth, 10 3-8; Sears Roebuck, 98 1-8; Woolworth, 65 1-2; United States Steel, 76 1-2; Bethlehem, 72; General Motors, 74 1-4; American Telephone, 183 3-8; Westinghouse, 144 3-4; Boeing, 30 5-8; Electric Power & Light, 16 1-8; North American, 30 1-2; Consolidated Edison, 45; Anaconda, 51; Kennecott, 58 5-8; American Smelting, 99 1-8; United States Rubber, 39 1-8; Deere, 95 1-4, and Union Pacific, 136 1-2.

Du Pont divided some of its recent General Motors extra dividend with shareholders by voting a $2 year-end payment. It had paid 70 cents extra in the two previous quarters. The stock, up 2 in the morning, fell back to close up 1-8 at 180.

Allied Chemical was a contrary actor, losing 3 3-4 at 232 1-4.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINNIONS.

COURTS & CO.—Professional opinion is said to be still inclined to take a bearish view generally and selling from this source of the leading stocks will probably be encountered on any further rally.

THOMSON & McKINNON—Monday's recovery of stocks seemed based principally upon technical considerations. For its continuation probably it will have to depend mainly upon the quality of news coming to hand during the next few days.

BEER & CO.—We expect the current rally to carry through for another few days.

FENNER & BEANE—The market still appears in a test area with some encouragement as to near term trend contained in the late strength utilities and in the uptrend in the industrial averages.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—Stocks which depend upon consumer purchasing power for profits still seem to be strongly entrenched marketwise.

COTTON OPINIONS.

COURTS & CO.—Indicated supply of American cotton is smallest with one exception for a decade, therefore we continue to favor the constructive side.

THOMSON & McKINNON—With prospects indicating a reduction in the use of American cotton abroad and the recent increase in the estimate of the American crop, prices may not show as substantial an advance as we once looked for although somewhat higher prices seem justified.

BEER & CO.—We feel that cotton is a good purchase on recessions from current levels.

FENNER & BEANE—We think buying on the declines will prove profitable.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—With first December notice day a week from Tuesday, liquidation and exchanging from the near months has become more pronounced and there is more or less conjecture as to the final evening up of this position. January Liverpool due 6.57.

GRAIN OPINIONS.

COURT & CO.—There was good buying credited to mills, a decided increase in outside buying and all signs now point to a further advance.

THOMSON & McKINNON—We feel that wheat is definitely headed for higher levels. We look for corn prices to remain fairly firm around these levels until there is some sign of a liberal increase in movement.

BEER & CO.—We look for higher levels in wheat and corn.

FENNER & BEANE—The world statistical position is strong and there should be more recognition of this the next few months.

E. A. PIERCE & CO.—Believe domestic subsoil dryness and delayed Argentine harvest may contribute to further strength in wheat.

COTTONSEED OIL.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO. TO DOBBS & CO.—There was considerable short covering in the cottonsed oil futures market on the New York Produce Exchange on strength in wheat and lard. Activity has decreased perceptilby on the recent advance which is undoubtedly as a result of no increase in buying of the finished product by the trade, which from all reports has ben light so far this month. Crude cottonseed oil is firm at 8½ cents but foreign cottonseed oil is still at a discount. The hog marketings, which furnish competition with cottonseed oil in the form of lard, continue very large.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—For the first time in several weeks buyers today switched their attention from high grade to the more speculative issues in the bond market.

Rail, industrial and convertible obligations moved up appreciably despite a slower trading pace.

Alleghany stamped 5s romped forward 2 points to 72, LeHigh Valley 4 1-2s of 2003 gained 1 5-8 to 76 1-4 and St. Paul 5s added 1 1-4 at 26 1-2. Substantial improvement also was shown by Erie 5s, Baltimore & Ohio refunding 6s and Frisco 4 1-2s.

Wabash 5s "D" and 5s of 1976 reacted 1 to 2 5-8 points.

While the utility list was slightly lower, American and Foreign Power 5s gained 2 points, International Hydro 6s added 1 3-4 and International Telephone 5s rose 1 1-2.

Of the convertible bonds, American Type Founders 5s made the best progress with a 10-point runup to 152. Allis-Chalmers 4s were up 6 at 192 1-2 and Studebaker 6s gained 4 to 123. Most other liens in this group advanced, although Chesapeake Corporation 5s of 1947 and 5s of 1944 sold off 5 1-2 and 4, respectively. Foreign issues were dull and lower.

Turnover for all bonds totaled $11,144,000, face value, compared with $15,946,000 on Friday.

The Associated Press averages for 20 rails improved .2 of a point to 97.2 and 10 industrials added 1 of a point at 104.2. The 10 foreigns lost .3 of a point to 71.2 and the 10 utilities .2 of a point to 102.4. The 10 low yield issues held even at 113.1.

SHARP GAINS SCORED IN ACTIVE CURB TRADE

Power and Light Shares Lead Upturn; Speculative Issues Popular.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Sharp gains were established today both in the active and inactive divisions of the curb market.

Trading sentiment was helped by a marked improvement in the action of utilities and a few other speculative leaders which had been decidedly reactionary at the end of last week.

Some of the larger advances were recorded by Childs Company, preferred, which rose 6 5-8 to 78; Casco Products at 38, up 3 1-2; Gulf Oil 106 3-4, up 3 1-4; Newmont 107, up 2 1-4; Jones & Laughlin Steel 81 1-2, up 3 1-4; Pepperell 139, up 4 1-2; Thew Shovel 47, up 2 1-2.

The power shares climbed fractions to more than a point. Electric Bond & Share and Northern States Power "A" led the upswing.

Transactions totaled 602,000 shares against 644,000 on Friday.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Raw sugar was less active today but the tone was easier and spot prices declined 5 points, while 1937 quota sugar was unchanged.

The only sales reported were 16,100 bags of Cubas of 1936 quotas from store at 3.65 and 27,000 bags of 1937 quota Philippines for January-Februar, shipment at 3.62.

With the exception of the spot month which declined in sympathy with the easier spot market, futures held steady. After advancing 2 to 4 points on further trade covering, new crops eased off under liquidation and hedging. November closed 3 points lower, while new crops were unchanged to 2 points higher. Sales were 10,050 tons.

The range follows:

| | High | Low | Last |
|---|---|---|---|
| November | 2.75 | 2.75 | 2.75n |
| January | 2.69 | 2.67 | 2.66b |

| July | 2.73 | 2.71 | 2.72b |
| September | 2.73 | 2.72 | 2.73b |

n—Nominal; b—Bid.

Refined was unchanged at 4.80 for fine granulated for this year's sugar, with a moderate withdrawal demand, although refiners will advance their 1937 price to manufacturers at the close tonight or at the opening tomorrow from 4.70 to 4.85.

COFFEE.

NE WYORK, Nov. 16.—Coffee futures: Santos opened 3 to 7 points higher and closed 2 to 8 higher: sales 21,500 bags. New No. 7 opened 4 to 6 points higher and closed 5 to 7 points higher. Sales 13,000 bags.

Spot coffee firm: Santos 4s 10½@10½; Rio 7s 8½. Cost and freight offers included Santos Bourbon 3s and 5s at 9.70@10.20.

AVERAGE PRICE.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 12.13 cents a pound.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Cotton recaptured a good part of last week's losses in today's session. An active trade demand pushed futures up from 50 to 75 cents a bale.

After holding in a nerrow range within a few points of Saturday's final prices, the market moved ahead briskly in the last hour to close at the best levels of the day.

December closed at 11.80, March at 11.70, May at 11.66 and July at 11.57. Spot cotton was 50 cents a bale higher with middling at New Orleans 12.30 cents a pound.

Behind the advance was a variety of favorable developments, notably excellent reports from cloth markets and poor picking weather in the central belt. Both Worth Street and Manchester in England had optimistic advices on the way cotton goods was moving to market.

At the start of trading good foreign markets helped domestic prices off to a bullish beginning. While distant options lagged behind during the first half hour, they quickly picked up momentum and before the day was over made the best gains of any active months.

A report from Moscow that Russia would produce 3,000,000 bales of cotton this year was discounted by same trade circles, as this total was believed to be above the possibility for the Soviet yield this year.

Speculative interest on either side of dealings remained relatively dormant and to the trade fell the burden of supporting the market. Hedging was not an important factor and the market met little increase in offerings on the advance.

With this year's crop fairly well harvested, the trade is paying more attention to the plans for next year, with much comment being heard around the ring on what the farm program for cotton, if any, will be offered next year. Many held to the belief that the current good price might induce many growers to put a bumper crop of seed in the ground next spring.

Port receipts 53,847; week 88,133; season 4,015,339; last season 4,133,932. Exports 40,760; week 54,448; season 2,000,875. Last season 1,973,632. Port stocks, 920,639. Stocks on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston were 196,718; last year 214,210. Spot sales at southern markets wer 46,785; last year 33,373.

N. Y. COTTON RALLIES IN LATE TRADING.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—After trade interests had absorbed the bulk of cotton contracts today at steady prices, a late rally developed on covering. March advanced from 11.56 to 11.76 and closed at 11.74 with the market ending 11 to 15 points net higher.

Initial prices were 3 points lower to 1 higher in an indifferent response to steadier Liverpool cables which were offset by liquidation and hedge selling.

First quotations were at about the lowest for the day, however, and while prices rallied moderately during the morning, they fluctuated over a narrow range. The sharpest advances occurred during the final hour on local and New Orleans buying as well as covering after substantial trade buying orders had previously absorbed the bulk of the offers.

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—In a general buying movement that developed late today, wheat swept upward to a new high price record since 1929, reaching $1.18 1-4 Chicago December delivery.

All futures of rye, the companion of wheat as a bread stuff, overtopped this season's previous peak quotations, and shot skyward in some cases 3 3-4 cents, while soy beans spared 4 cents, the immediate allowable limit, registering a total gain of more than 11 cents within the past month. Corn values advanced to almost equal to the year's apex.

Wheat closed strong, 1 1-8 to 2 cents above Saturday's finish, December 118 1-8 to 118 1-4, May 115 1-2 to 115 5-8, December 102 3-4 to 102 7-8, corn 7-8 to 1 3-8 up, December 103 5-8 to 103 3-4, May new 97-98 1-8, July new 93 3-4, oats 1-8 to 1-2 advanced, December 44 1-8, and rye showing 2 3-8 to 3 3-4 bulge, December 92 3-8. The outcome in provisions varied from 2 cents decline to 12 cents gain.

Processors complained of a present shortage of soy beans because of harvest delays.

Provisions reflected the late strength of grains.

Chamber Changes New Deal Stand, Explains Election 'Clarified Things'

Harper Sibley Calls Upon President and Tells Him There Are Less Than 4,000,000 Employables Jobless and Good Year Should Take Up Slack.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A change in the "spirit of the membership" of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States toward the New Deal was reported today by its president, Harper Sibley.

At a press conference following a call upon President Roosevelt, he said the election had "clarified things," and that while the chamber's principles were "unchanged," there would be less haste in presenting them.

Sibley reported to the President the chamber's survey of unemployment showed there were less than 4,000,000 employables still jobless, excluding professional men, and that "another year or so of good business should take up all the slack."

His call on the chief executive, Sibley said, was a "friendly chat," intended to maintain his acquaintanceship at the White House and prepare for later visits at which he might have some recommendations to make.

Will Co-operate.

The chamber head's statement of a change in the attitude of the membership was in response to reporters' questions whether the viewpoint expressed in anti-New Deal resolutions adopted at the chamber's annual meeting in the spring of 1935 was to be maintained.

Sibley replied that it had always been the purpose of the leadership of the chamber "to co-operate" with whatever administration might be in power.

"That has always been true in the past," he said, "and is true today."

However, he added, at the 1935 meeting, the membership ran away with things, "took the resolutions out of the hands of the committees" and redrafted them on the convention floor.

Times were more critical then than at present, he continued, and there now will be "less haste" in presenting contrary viewpoints.

Report on Jobless.

Sibley's report on the unemployment problem was more hopeful than some others.

Since what he termed "the depth of the depression," which he fixed at some time in 1932, he said industry had re-employed 8,000,000 men. The figure, he said, was based on reports to the chamber from its membership.

"The unemployment problem is not now the critical problem that it was," he said. "The problem now is to get trained workers."

In this connection, Edward J. Harding, managing director of the Associated General Contractors reported to that organization's governing board today that "immediate steps" to reestablish apprentice training in the construction industry was "vitally essential."

"We already have a distinct skilled labor shortage," he said.

'Green Goods Man,' Held for Jury, Explains 'Squawk Proof' System

Smilingly indifferent, Luther B. Miller heard United States Commissioner Ed S. Griffith assess bonds of $10,000 against him on counterfeiting charges yesterday to hold him until a federal grand jury can consider his case.

Miller signed a confession admitting he has been working the old "green goods game" around Atlanta for the last year but he is certain the federal government has no counterfeiting evidence against him. He is equally certain he can convince any "normal" jury he actually has been doing a patriotic job for the government by baiting and hooking ambitious would-be counterfeiters and tossing them out on the sidewalks penniless before they had a chance to establish themselves in the counterfeiting racket.

An old pal of the internationally-known Count Lustig, who is doing a 20-year stretch in Alcatraz for a counterfeiting record extending over the last 20 years; a brother of Que R. Miller and Sidney Andrew Miller, nationally-known as counterfeiters and confidence men of notable achievements, Luther has been trained in the game and knows it from top to bottom.

He was picked up early yesterday as he was trying to evacuate Atlanta where things were getting hot. He sent a taxi driver to a hotel with money to pay his bill and instructions to pick up his baggage which included his "green goods" machinery and equipment. He was to meet the driver at the Terminal station, but a policeman picked him up instead.

He told his story to Secret Service Operative George H. Brodnax, and Patrolman George W. Slate, who arrested him; J. T. Woodruff and E. L. Hilderbrand. He even set up his plant in Brodnax's office and gave a facile demonstration of the manner in which the sucker is baited into believing he is getting in on the ground floor of a real money-maker.

"They won't say anything against me," said Miller yesterday. "I've plucked a lot of them. It's lots of fun."

Brodnax, however, revealed the law yesterday which shows it is counterfeiting if one merely makes an impression of paper money. Judge Griffith revealed his ideas of the scheme by the size of the bond he assessed.

Miller was an employe of the Casa Loma night club, the hot spot in Clayton county which met a sudden death by legal raids and finanlly burned to the ground last week.

PAYMENT OF DIVIDEND RESUMED BY STERCHI'S

30 Cents Per Share Declared on Common, President Reports.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Directors of Sterchi Bros. Stores today authorized the resumption of common dividend payments after a lapse of more than six and one-half years with the declaration of a 30-cent common dividend. This is the first dividend on the common stock since that paid on February 15, 1930, when 30 cents a share was distributed.

"This dividend," C. C. Rutherford, president, explained, "practically relieves the company of any tax responsibility on the undistributed profits tax, as in our business we pay only on a cash realized basis."

The board also voted a special dividend of $1 a share on the $20 par 5 per cent preferred stock and the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents on the $50 par 6 per cent preferred stock. All dividends are payable December 15 to stockholders of record November 30.

The company operates furniture stores in Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama.

PAY CUT REFUND URGED BY YEOMANS

Advises Governor in Case of Former Deputy Insurance Commissioner.

Attorney General M. J. Yeomans advised the Governor yesterday the comptroller general should repay a salary cut to a former deputy insurance commissioner "if he now has funds for that purpose."

The opinion was given in a suit now pending at Millen in which Lewis A. Irons, who resigned July 31, 1935, sought $700 he lost when William B. Harrison, then comptroller general, cut his salary 10 per cent.

The suit was filed against Homer C. Parker, the present comptroller general.

Yeomans told the Governor a law fixed Irons' salary at $3,000 a year, but the legislature provided for the payment of the salary out of a $110,000 appropriation for the comptroller general's office.

For this reason, Yeomans said, he did not think the difference should be paid from the general fund in the state treasury.

DR. MORSE TO SPEAK AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

Dr. Josiah Morse, professor of philosophy and psychology at South Carolina University since 1911, will be guest speaker for B'nai B'rith tonight at an open meeting at the temple on Peachtree road. The program will begin at 8 o'clock, and the public is invited. Dr. Morse will speak on "Liberalism and the Jew."

The speaker will be introduced by Samuel Rothberg, a member of the executive committee of Gate City Lodge No. 144, B'nai B'rith.

EAST POINT COUNCIL UPHOLDS RATE CUTS

The East Point city council last night voted unanimously to override the veto of Mayor H. L. Carmichael of a measure providing for a reduction in light, power and water rates in East Point.

Mayor Carmichael declared the reduction would not be sufficient to be noticed appreciably by consumers, but said that over a period of a year it would cut the city's revenue approximately $12,000.

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS No. 122

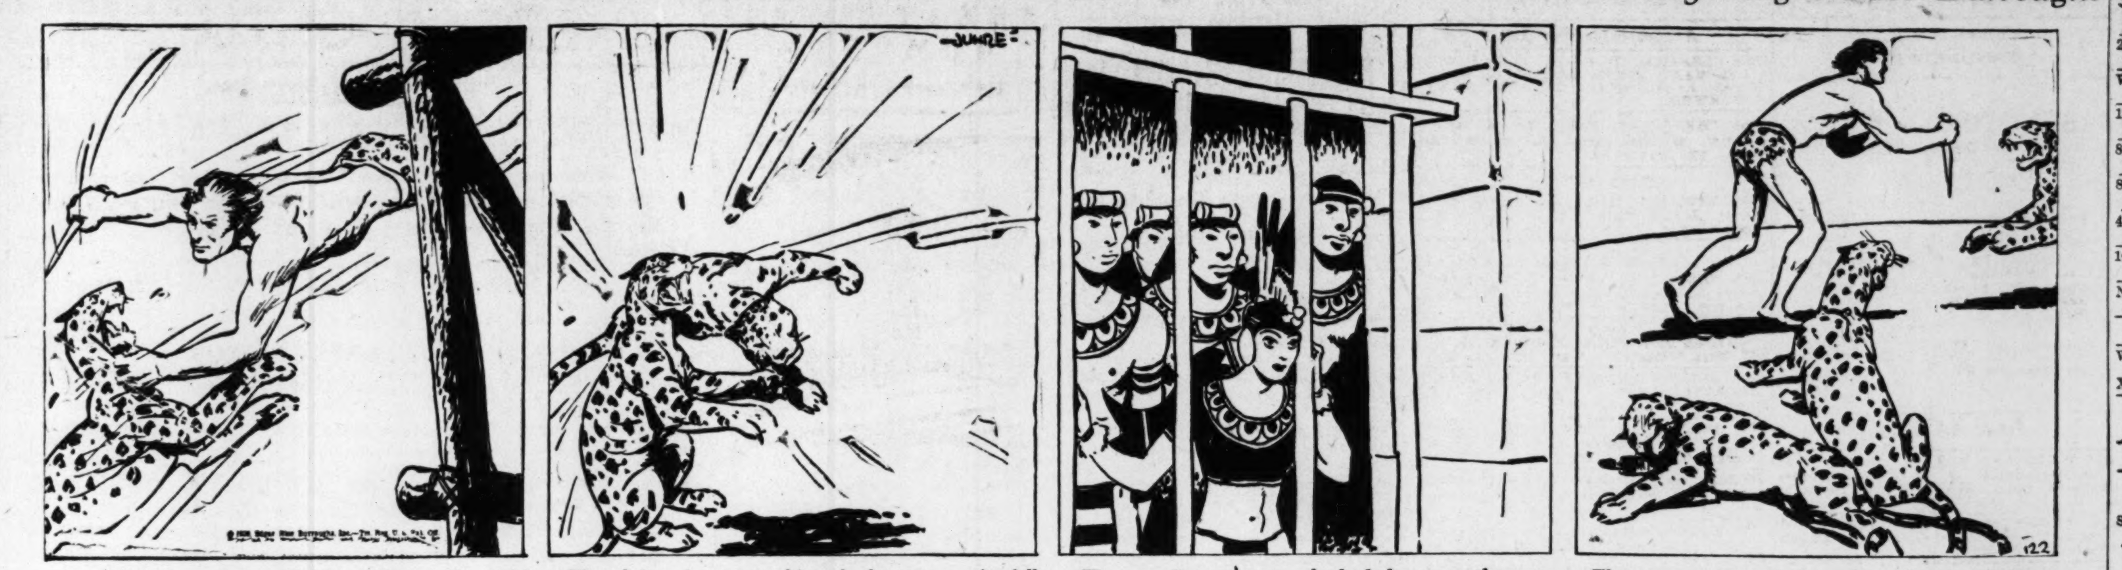
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Scrambling up the scaffolding, Tarzan kept his eyes on the jaguars, and when one sprang toward him, he whirled and lurched himself in a dive. Beast and beast-man collided in midair; and as they tumbled earthward, Tarzan's knife plunged into the spotted hide.

The dying jaguar cushioned the ape-man's fall; but now the other two brutes darted toward him. Tarzan lifted the body of his victim and flung it at the leader. The jaguar went down, momentarily stunned, while Tarzan prepared to fight the remaining beast.

The scowling monsters looked down on the spectacle with astonishment, not only because of the remarkable prowess of the prisoner, but because he had shown no sign of terror. Queen Zalya held her breath in startled admiration of this incredible stranger.

The ape-man prepared to meet the raging jaguar, maneuvering deftly to deal mortal blow without coming within range of those fatal claws and fangs. But as he achieved a position of vantage, the beast he had knocked down rose to resume its interrupted charge!

BREATHLESS MOMENTS

By Charles W. Duke

"Bet you $200 you can't do it!"

A red-haired, raw-boned youth is the target of a jeering crowd of race-track touts and gamblers in a New York waterfront saloon near the East river. Jim Brennan, leader of the crowd, counts out the money to the bartender.

The best is that the 23-year-old red-head hasn't the nerve to jump into the East river from the new Brooklyn bridge, a channel span 1,595 feet long, built in 1883, and the pride of the American metropolis. "I'll take you"—and the bet is on!

Then the crowd gathers to witness the spectacle—a man leaping to sure death! Three of them—Paul Butler, Jerry Cane and Tim Brennan—hire a boat and row out into the stream to pick up the remains—if the boy really leaps—and his body floats!

The spectators crowd out on the end of a pier on the New York side. There goes "Reds"—paying the one-cent toll and bidding "so long" to Jim Brennan. But he won't do it —he'll keep right on going to the Brooklyn side. Just a big bluff . . . that's all!

Suddenly, at a distance about 150 feet out from the New York end of the colossal span, "Reds" leaps to the parapet, tosses his coat and hat behind him and climbs over the railing. Policeman Lally runs up shouting: "Come back here, you!" But "Reds" is down among the girders now and grinning back at the "cop."

Hanging at last from the lowest girder, he sways for a moment to get balance. When his body is perpendicular to the water line below, he lets go. Down he shoots like a plummet, holding his hands straight above his head until close to the water, and then draws them swifty to his sides.

Splash! and Steve Brodie has negotiated his dare-devil leap from Brooklyn bridge at 2 p. m., July 23, 1886. They pull him ashore and arrest him—but quickly released "the king of fancy divers."

YARN MILL EXECUTIVES TO MEET IN CHARLOTTE

Manufacturers Will Discuss Price Problems at December Conference.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP) Owen Fitzsimons, of the Cotton Textie Institute, Inc., announced today that officials of the south's carded yarn mills would meet here the first week of December.

The meeting will be attended by Dr. Claudius T. Murchison, of New York, president of the institute, and other officials of the organization.

Fitzsimons said the corded yarn group of the institute is not receiving the prices for its products that it should be getting in its present statistical condition and that the meeting would be for discussions on ways for improving the price situation.

Carded yarn manufacturers of Charlotte and nearby cities met here last Wednesday to discuss this and other problems. A meeting of Georgia and Alabama manufacturers was hell in Atlanta later in the week and another meeting of North Carolina officials was held in Durham Saturday. The result of these meetings was a request for the large meeting of the whole southern industry in Charlotte early in December.

Sidney Cooper, of Henderson, N. C., is chairman of the group and will preside at the December meeting.

BURNLEY M. MOSS, 63, PASSES AT RESIDENCE

He was a native of Tennessee, and lived here for many years. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Leonard E. Buchanon, of Conyers, and Mrs. W. J. Toland, of Port Washington, N. Y.; a son, H. M. Moss; a sister, Mrs. Henry I. Jones, and a brother, H. K. Moss, of Decatur.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Harry G. Poole.

VIRGINIA GILDERSLEEVE WINS WOMAN'S AWARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, for 25 years dean of Barnard College in New York, received the sixth annual award for eminent achievement of the American Woman's Association at the organization's friendship dinner tonight.

Miss Gildersleeve was honored for eminence in the field of education. She is known as a scholar in English and Latin literature and a successful executive.

Previous recipients of the award are Margaret Sanger, Amelia Earhart, Frances Perkins, Mrs. Charles Sabin and Mrs. Ogden Reid.

BREAK O' DAY

the past Saturday Alabama led b 20 before the Tech attack got all the gears meshed.

With just a little more luck or dash or whatever the missing ingredient may be, Tech would be going into the last of November with six or seven victories. If not more.

There are three chances left—Florida, Georgia and California.

THAT TECH-GEORGIA PASTORAL.

The delightful little pastoral pageant between Tech and Georgia, which will be staged on the meadow at Athens on November 28, should find the stands full of howling football people.

This Georgia team hasn't yet lost that game. It will go into the game doped to lose and it may. But the game should be one of the greatest in the long series between the two. If those Georgia boys tackle as they did at Tulane last week they will jar a lot of footballs loose into the autumn air.

Georgia must take a pounding Saturday at Fordham. Win, lose or draw, the team will take a pounding. The Fordham line is called "The Seven Blocks of Granite." And to date no one has dented that line. Georgia likely will try to heave a few passes over the granite blocks.

THE ROSE BOWL BID.

Bids to the Rose Bowl are handled in this fashion:

The Rose Bowl committee selects the coast representative. The selection is the coast champion, a member of the conference—never a non-member.

The team nominated may select its own opponent. But the Rose Bowl committee usually gives a little fatherly advice.

There isn't much worry about drawing cards. Last year the committee refused more than 100,000 requests for [illegible]ets.

This fall finds Washington as the likely nominee on [illegible] coast. (Washington is 1,500 miles from Pasadena, with about as much distance to cover as the eastern team will have in going to the game.)

There are lots of reports. One is that he railroad people are saying Fordham already has the tentative bid and routes are being worked out.

Another is that the West Coast conference is taking steps to see that no team is invited out which is itself not a member of some conference or athletic association.

This would eliminate Fordham and leave L. S. U. and Alabama as the most likely choices.

BEST GAG OF THE WEEK.

"You've got one of those whisky tenors—start us off on a song."

"Yeah, but all I've had tonight is beer."

HE NEEDED PROTECTION.

Last week in New Orleans someone was recalling the story of John Shirey's race for sheriff in his Alabama county.

The former all-star Auburn back was in a race which included five other men. He campaigned vigorously and in a fashion unique.

When the votes were counted John Shirey was last by a large majority.

The next day he went to the sheriff and asked for a permit to carry a gun.

"Why, John," said the sheriff in mild surprise, "why do you want to carry a gun?"

"Well, sheriff," said he, "a fellow who hasn't got any more friends than I have in this county needs protection."

RAZZLE-DAZZLE.

Some time ago Coach Alexander said:

"A coach with players who were good enough would not have to use the razzle-dazzle system of offense. He wouldn't need it."

It so happens the only Southeastern conference team which is undefeated and untied within the conference competition is L. S. U.

L. S. U. uses straight football, including the forward pass, which has been around since 1905, and tries no deception to speak of and no "razzle-dazzle" at all.

Which would seem to indicate that Bernie Moore has the material which can block, tackle and run as those arts should be practiced.

SENATE AVIATION BODY WILL ADVISE SHAKEUP

Committee Will Charge 'Inefficiency' in Air Commerce Bureau Operations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The senate committee investigating air safety was said today by its chairman, Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, to be drafting a report recommending a "thorough shakeup" of the air commerce bureau—which guards the nation's sky lanes.

Charges of "inefficiency" and "faulty organization" will be made by the committee in its report to the next congress, Copeland said. He added that another committee he heads is drafting proposals for making American sea liners "the safest on the ocean."

The air report, Copeland said, will contain complaints similar to those made in a preliminary report last June.

The Commerce Department has been invited to present new evidence in the bureau's defense, Copeland said, but so far has not requested a reopening of hearings.

An inquiry into operation of the bureau, headed by Eugene L. Vidal, was ordered by the senate after the death of Senator Cutting, of New Mexico, in a plane crash May 6, 1935.

The preliminary report said there was a "grievous lack of co-operation" among its high officials, and added that "good men were dismissed from the bureau for political reasons."

The other inquiry—into safety at sea—which was evoked by a series of American maritime disasters, has resulted in "definite proposals" for improving the construction of commercial vessels, Copeland said.

"Some of the ablest naval architects in the country have been engaged to frame regulations for strengthening and fireproofing American ships," he asserted.

The new congress will be urged to write their recommendations on the statute books, he said. Administration of the new rules would be placed in the hands of the maritime commission and the steamship inspection bureau.

A technical committee, headed by Admiral George H. Rock, studied the Queen Mary, Normandie and other modern vessels before drafting its conclusions.

Copeland expressed hope that President Roosevelt soon would name the remaining two members of the five-man maritime commission, "so it can get some action" on subsidies to ship builders.

Several New York lines are ready to ask government aid for construction, he said, adding that speedy development of the merchant marine is "essential to the national defense."

Charlie Rainwater Again on Committee

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The nominating committee of the United States Golf Association today nominated John G. Jackson, of New York, for re-election as president of the U. S. G. A.

Sweetser, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; and R. Arthur Wood, Highland Park, Ill.

KENTUCKY BURLEY GETS U. S. GRADING

4 Districts Note Overwhelming Demand for Federal Tobacco Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Extension of federal tobacco grading to four markets in the burley district of Kentucky was ordered today by the agriculture department.

Acting upon referenda among growers selling on the markets involved, the service was ordered into effect at Mount Sterling, Cynthiana, Horse Cove and Bowling Green.

The referenda were conducted the week of November 2, the department reporting 97 per cent of those voting at Horse Cove favored government inspection; 96 per cent at Cynthiana, 95 per cent at Bowling Green, and 94 per cent at Mount Sterling.

The service includes tobacco market news and the department said a bureau would be established in Louisville for the issuance of price reports.

The objective of the service, the department said, is to inform the grower of the grade of his tobacco with the price reports showing him the current average selling prices for the various grades.

MASON KILLED IN FALL.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 16. (UP)—A brickmason was killed and an Ohio student injured today when a collapsing scaffold at Southern Junior College hurled two men 50 feet to earth. Jessie Burdick, the brickmason, was killed almost instantly. Glendon Conner, 19, Midland, Ohio, sustained serious injuries but was expected to recover.

Civic Court Teams Play on Thursday

The second series of the Civic basketball league will be played Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. court starting at 7 o'clock. Two of these promise to be feature games with teams participating that will finish in the first division.

What looks like the best game will start at 7:20 and will find Beck & Gregg meeting the Texas Oil Company. Those two won by handy scores last week, and are playing good ball. This game will be followed immediately by one between Florence Motor Company and the Atlanta Southern Dental College, the other two winners in the first series of games last week. A capacity crowd is expected this time.

The City league will open Tuesday night. The Smith Paint Company has been secured to round out the league to eight teams.

rammed from the 14 to the 1, and Mercer carried the ball over on a fourth-down quarterback sneak.

The final touchdown was the result of a blocked punt. Gordon MacEachern, left tackle, blocked Brooks' kick and then covered it himself at the Tech 27.

Only one play was necessary. Haynesworth broke off tackle and [illegible] 27 yards to the last touchdown.

Coa[illegible]oy McArthur's Jackets will come alo[illegible] better fashion when they have ha[illegible]re time to work on an offense. They faced some pretty spirited tackling, which had a lot to do with the fumbling.

On the other hand, Auburn has some freshman team. The Tigers are going to be able to use several of the prospective sophomores who were on parade today.

Bullpups Eye Tech Struggle.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Successful over Georgia Military College in an Armistice Day tilt last week, the Georgia Bulldogs today opened work for the encounter with the Tech freshman in Atlanta on Thanksgiving Day.

Coach Broadnax hopes to have all his men in good condition and shoot high for another victory. The Georgia men lost to Florida in the initial contest. The roster follows:

Ends: Alex McCaskill, 170, Macon; Knox Eldredge, 165, Miami; Jimmy Jones, 170, Brunswick; Jimmy Regan, 165, Jacksonville; Jimmy Wooten, 175. Tackles: Jerome Pickney, 200, Savannah, Charles Williams, 195, Athens; Yank Decharleyroy, 195, New York; Jim Thorpe, 195, Macon. Guards: Bruce Long, 212, Knoxville, Tenn.; Joe Wheelan, 185, Petersburg, Va.; Charles Jordan, 208, Boys' High; Atlanta; Frank Crane, 170, Athens. Centers: Abner Simonton, 185, Marist, Atlanta; Dick Jones, 180, Gordon Military College, Barnesville. Quarterbacks: Al Moss, 170, Petersburg, Va.; Joe Arnold, 155, Washington. Left halfbacks: Oliver Hunnicutt, 170, Macon; Billy Mimms, 165, Boys' High. Right halfbacks: Vassa Cates, 160, Brunswick; Ben Erlich, 165, Boys' High. Fullbacks: Jimmy Fordham, 195, Graymount; Summitt, Smiley Johnosn, 170.

GEORGIA TEAM IN GOOD SHAPE

will be played at the Polo Grounds in New York city. Most of the Bulldogs will be making their first intersectional trip. They will be called upon to defend a record spotless against eastern teams since 1932. The Bulldogs won the last game with Yale, 14-7, at New Haven. In the final encounter with N. Y. U. on Sanford field the last score was 25-0.

Since Coach Jimmy Crowley's outfit had a rest Saturday, the Georgia scouting corps had to fall back upon the background information and diagrams by Athletic Director Stegeman at the Purdue-Fordham tilt Saturday before last. Players heard the lecture and went down on the field to run signals and punt in a session which lasted more than an hour.

Rough work will start Tuesday and a scrimmage Wednesday will top the work. The squad will leave Thursday afternoon after a short workout. Much lighter work is slated for the week with Wednesday's skirmish lasting about 15 minutes. The Bulldog tutors do not wish to take any chances of being in good shape physically. The spirit of the squad continues to be excellent.

ATLANTANS WIN.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 16.—Booker T. Washington, of Atlanta, handed Athens High and Industrial School its initial setback of the season here Friday afternoon at West End Park, 20 to 0. Next Friday at Marietta the local negroes engage Marietta High.

FRY WINS RACE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Richard Fry, Michigan State, won the freshman cross-country run in the I. C. 4-A meet today, running the three-mile route in 15 minutes and 32 seconds.

Fordham Forced Indoors by Cold

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The coldest weather so far this season forced Fordham's football players indoors today as they began practice for Saturday's clash with Georgia. After having the Rams run three laps around the track, Coach Jimmy Crowley took them into the gym for a dummy scrimmage in which the second team was on the offensive against the third. Indications are the subs will see plenty of action against Georgia and against New York University Thanksgiving Day.

Hugh Devore, who scouted the Bulldogs in their game against Tulane, reported he saw an inspired team with a good passing game. He will outline the attack to the team at tomorrow's blackboard session.

'36 CHEST CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED AT RALLY

to the best of its ability with the funds the community makes available."

Service to Atlantans.

Mr. Arkwright said the Community Chest was not set up to serve its agencies, but to serve the people of Atlanta, to assure them that their dollars were going to meet real needs, and to save them time and money.

"When I am approached by some stranger who asks me to give, I have no way of knowing there is a need. I do not know whether they are conducting a racket.

"But when I am asked by the Community Chest to help meet a need, I know that need has been certified by a board of directors made up of men and women of integrity. I can have confidence in what they say and know that my money does the utmost good under their guidance."

No Federal Duplication.

None of the work of the Community Chest is duplicated by the government, Mr. Arkwright said.

"In times of emergency, the government steps in to provide food and shelter, of course," Mr. Arkwright said. "But the Chest gives more than food or shelter. The government never took in an abandoned child. It never cared for the blind and the incurably ill. It never provided the sympathetic individual care that means hope and courage to the overburdened and the distressed. This is the work of the Chest.

"These people are for us to minister to, and I thank goodness that the government is not doing these things, and that our own impulses of charity and sympathy are still impulses which we may exercise for the benefit of our needy neighbor."

Divisions Mobilized.

The meeting brought together for the first time the workers in the advance gifts division, and 14 group divisions based on 14 sections of business and industrial life, and the four divisions made up of women workers.

Mr. Cates told these workers that all those in this campaign had their heart set on success, a success which meant reaching the goal of $423,846.

"This goal is a real one, an actual expression of the need of those served by the agencies," he said. "We must reach it if we are to do the job. I beg all of you to take me seriously when I say that with all the sincerity that I have. We must succeed this year."

The workers will start this morning the job of carrying the story of the Chest to more people than have ever been contacted in previous campaigns.

First reports of progress will be made tomorrow at noon, when the workers meet at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

FORT GETS WPA GRANT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Presidential approval of Works Progress allotments totaling $167,887 for improvements to the military reservation at Fort McClellan, Ala., was announced today by Orville Rush, personal representative of Governor Bibb Graves.

City Council, Fulton Commission Join Others in Howell Tributes

High national and foreign officials, state leaders, political bodies and leaders, civic clubs, and associates continued yesterday to pay glowing tributes to Clark Howell, editor and president of The Constitution, and national Democratic commiteeeman from Georgia, who died Saturday morning.

In the city council meeting yesterday afternoon, Mayor Pro Tem. Ellis Barrett left the chair to pay tribute to the Georgia Democrat: "No man feels his loss more than I. We all loved and respected him. He was a great man and friend."

The resolution, adopted by council unanimously by rising vote, was introduced by Councilman Aubrey Milam. It follows:

"Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has called to Himself the Honorable Clark Howell, editor and publisher of The Atlanta Constitution, and,

"Whereas, members of this council have lost a personal friend, an astute advisor and a valuable counsellor; and,

"Whereas, the city, state and nation have lost one of the most virile public figures in history, and his advice will be sorely missed; and,

"Whereas, Mr. Howell was a champion of good government and a sympathetic friend of those who wrestled with the problems of state; and,

"Whereas, his going leaves a void in our affections which it will be difficult to replace; and,

"Whereas, we grieve with his family and with the entire nation in the loss of so outstanding a figure and friend;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta, and it is hereby resolved by authority of the same, that we express our sorrow at his passing in the knowledge that his sage advice will be sorely missed;

"That we tender to his loved ones and those associated with him our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement;

"That we spread these resolutions on the minutes of city council and that copies under the seal of the city be sent to members of Mr. Howell's family and to The Atlanta Constitution."

Fulton Board Resolution.

A resolution from the Fulton County Commissioners said:

"Whereas, Honorable Clark Howell Sr., an outstanding and distinguished citizen of Fulton county, has recently departed this life; and

"Whereas, the Honorable Clark Howell Sr. has always been interested in the upbuilding and improving of conditions in Fulton county and his counsel and advice to the commissioners of this county for many years past has been of inestimable value to the officials of Fulton county; and

"Whereas, Honorable Clark Howell Sr. devoted his life in assisting his fellow citizens and giving counsel and advice to his loyal friends; and

"Whereas, it is the desire of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Fulton county, Ga., to express in some way our sincere grief in his passing and our realization of the immeasurable loss the citizens of this county has sustained;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved: That this board does by this action evidence in so far as official action may convey the depth of our feelings, the genuineness of our affection, the sincerity of our esteem, the boundless appreciation for his loyalty and friendship throughout his entire career, the commemoration of his achievements, and the ever-continuing sorrow of his absence causes us. Fulton county will miss him much, the state of Georgia will miss him much, and the great United States of America will also miss him much. We shall cherish his memory always.

"Be it further resolved: That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of Mr. Howell and also a copy sent to the three daily newspapers of Atlanta."

From Yuki Sato, Japanese consul to the United States, came the following telegram: "Deepest condolence and sympathy upon death of Mr. Clark Howell Sr."

The Federated Clubs of the Fifth District adopted resolutions mourning the death of a great statesman and paying tribute to Mr. Howell, especially calling attention to the aid he had given their organization.

Lions Club.

Resolutions adopted by the Lions Club yesterday said, in part: "His patriotism and enlightened judgment have been enlisted in the service of his America and its institutions during every crisis of the last half-century. He was a beloved citizen whose signal accomplishments in behalf of humanity have enshrined him in the affections of thousands."

Hal M. Stanley, Georgia commissioner of commerce and labor, said: "The death of Clark Howell Sr., was a national calamity. He was not only America's greatest editor, but in all probability he was much more an international figure than any editor America ever produced. Clark Howell was a man among men. It was my privilege to have known Mr. Howell for more than a third of a century."

From Churchwomen.

From the churchwomen of the city came this tribute:

"The Atlanta Council of Federated Churchwomen deeply deplores the loss of a valued friend in the death of Mr. Clark Howell Sr. We unite with the multitude of his other friends in grief at his passing."

Councilman J. Frank Beck, in council yesterday said, "I wish to add my own personal remarks on the death of Mr. Howell. He was greatly interested in the city of Atlanta and gave of his talents to the city at all times. It was my honor to have known him."

Councilman Alvin Richards personally paid tribute to Mr. Howell. "The entire United States has lost one of its greatest figures in the passing of Clark Howell. He was a national and international figure, but he never got so big he didn't put himself on the plane of any honest man. He was a true friend to every honest and worthy man."

Meeting in Macon, the Middle Georgia division of the 82d Division Association yesterday passed a resolution to send a message of condolence to Clark Howell Jr., a member of the organization, on the death of his father.

A message of sympathy also was received here yesterday from W. Trox Bankston, on behalf of Covington and Newton county officials, Kiwanis and Civitan clubs, and pastors of churches.
